GENEALOGY COLLECTION

WILLIAMS.

The following extracts from the registers of Oswestry and Nannerch relate to the family of Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. William Williams, Esq., with whom the Oswestry extracts begin in the year 1700, succeeded his father, the Right Honourable Sir Wm. Williams, Bart., in his title and large estates. The latter had been Speaker of the House of Commons in 1679-80. Edward, the eldest son of William Williams, Esq., as will be seen, died a child. Watkin, the second son, succeeded—under the will of his kinsman, Sir John Wynn, Bart.—to the extensive estates of Wynnstay, and assumed the additional surname of Wynn. Upon the death of his father, Sir William Williams, Bart., he became the first Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. Robert, the second son of Sir William, married Merryel Williamses, represented in Parliament the county of Montgomery, and died without issue. Richard, another son, whose name appears in the Oswestry Register, was M.P. for the Flintshire Boroughs, and died in 1759. His name, and those of two of his wives and some of his children, will be found in the Nannerch Register and in the inscriptions upon coffin-plates in the vaults at Nannerch. For more also respecting him see 'Miscellanea Genealogica,' Monthly Series, No. 11., page 19.

Llanvorda, and a considerable estate around it, yet forms part of the great possessions of the house of Wynnstay. W. W. E. WYNNE.

Explanation of the Fac Similes and Autographs.

No. 1. An endorsement in the hand-writing of Lewis Dwnn on his patent, that on the left hand being, "a debisation from—R. G. and W^m. Flower for me to viset—som parts of Wales," and that on the right, "a depitacion from my—friend Norroy to go and vyset som partes of Wales."

No. 2. The name of Lewis Dwnn, with the date 1596 in two forms, as they occur on the title page of the autograph visitation, in the possession of Mrs. Madocks, of the three counties of South Wales.

No. 3. The autograph of George Owen, of Cemmaes, Vol. I. p. 157.

No. 4. That of Sir James Perot, p. 134.

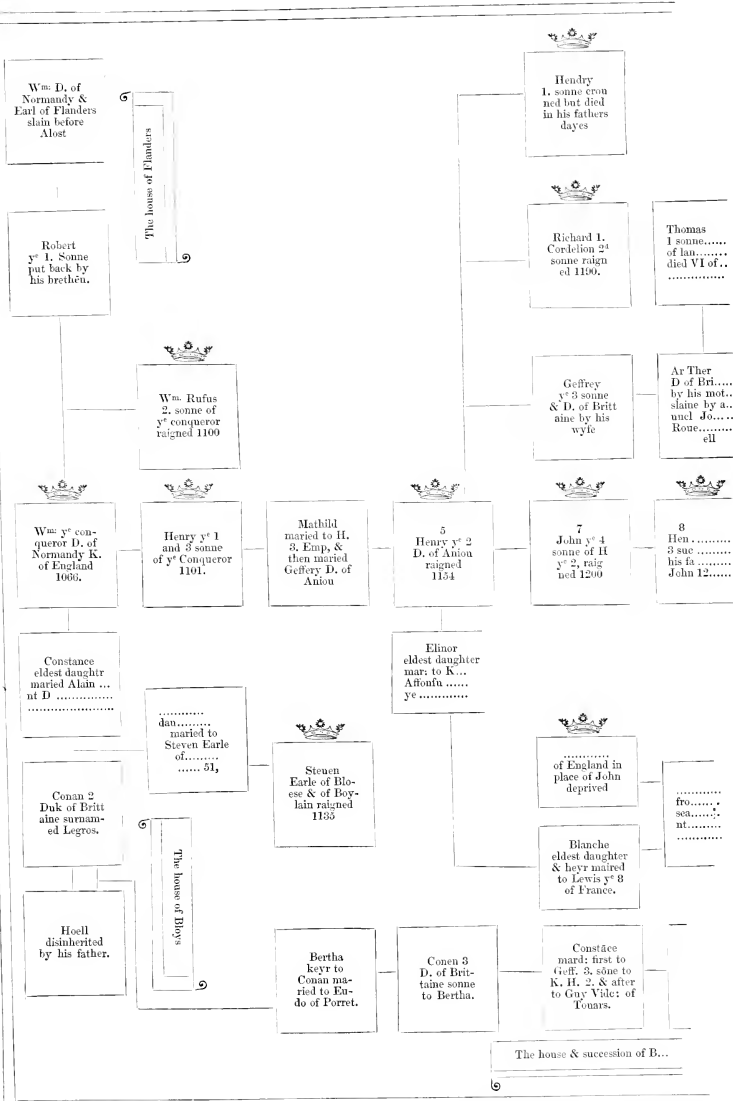

No. 5. That of the Rev. George Owen, clerk, or George Owen Harry, p. 33.

No. 6. That of Sir Francis Meyrick, p. 137. This has been introduced to facilitate its comparison with his signature to a deposition made by him, preserved in Her Majesty's State Paper Office, and thus corroborate the authenticity of the pedigrees in this collection.

No. 7. The autograph of Richard Barrett, Esq. p. 68.

No. 8. That of Sir Richard Pryse, p. 45.

In the centre are the Arms of Wales, as drawn by William Camden, Clarencieux King of Arms, in a sketch of the intended procession for Queen Elizabeth's funeral, now in the British Museum. Here the blazon is not given. The earliest coeval document in which they are mentioned, is in the life of Fouques Fitz Warren, of the time of Henry III. in the British Museum, which also omits the blazon. In the College of Arms 2. G. 4. is a representation of quarterings appertaining to Queen Elizabeth, sketched in her time, and here the Arms of Wales are given as: Quarterly Gules and Or, four lions passant gardant counterchanged. In the Harleian Library, at the British Museum, is a MS. No. 6096, of the same date, the Arms appear in like manner. So also in No. 6085 of the Harleian, and L. 14, in the Herald's College, as well as in an emblazoned manuscript, by Sir William Segur, dedicated to James I. in the library, at Goodrich Court. Hence the Arms of Wales have been so emblazoned on the title pages of these Volumes, in a shield placed on a ground of the Tudor colours, as was customary in the days of Elizabeth, and the feathers with their mottoes, and the crown of the Principality, added on the authority of the seals of Edward, son of Edward IV. and Arthur, son of Henry VII. given in the XX. Volume of the Archæologia. Enderbie, in his Cambria Triumphans, assigns these Arms to Rodri the Great, Prince of all Wales, on the authority of Mills, in his Catalogue of Honour, and continues them to his descendants.

This folding leaf, of which the above mutilated portion alone exists, appears to have been the Pedigree of the Kings of England. It has at its outer edge, what is intended for an ornamental scroll, formed by a branch with leaves, such as is often seen as a border in the carved screens of Churches at the close of the 15th century. The correction of the clerical errors in this, and what is requisite for its completion, may be found in Anderson's Royal Genealogies, Edition 1782, Tables ccccxc, and ccccxcx.

⁴ March.

⁶ Bridget.

⁷ He is said to have been drowned in a butt of Malmsey wine, in 1177. He married Isabel, daughter of Richard Nevil, Earl of Salisbury, in 1469. The word Colice appears to be intended for Colles; and if so, there has been some blunder.

⁸ Catherine, the daughter of Edward IV., married William Courtney, Earl of Devonshire, and died in 1527.

¹⁰ Eleanor was mother to the Emperor Maximilian I., father of Philip I., King of Castille, who was father to the Emperor Charles V., the father of Philip, (II. of Spain.) King of England.

¹¹ Doved, i. e. "brother to."

³ Edward with the broken nose.

ter, but the legitimate sister of King John. See note to the Pedigree of Roland Ilo'd of Gallysgodrol, in this Llyfr.

⁴ And he appointed certain possessors of bows (bowmen), then called yeomen, and now yeomen of the guard, to assemble on the 22nd day of the month of October, at the coronation at Westminster." This body was chiefly composed of Welshmen, and were placed under the command of John de Vere, Earl of Oxford, in the very year of his accession. Their number amounted to fifty. On the occasion of Henry VII. being crowned, Lewis Glyn Cothi composed one of his last Odes, in which he acknowledges the work of Divine Providence in placing him on the throne, and prays for a long and prosperous reign. In the course of it he alludes to the twelve knights harnment which were made on the occasion, one of whom was Sir Riles ab Thomas.

³ Earl of Worcester.

⁸ He was Earl of Devonshire.

⁹ He was murdered, with his brother Edward V, in the Tower of London, in 1485.

¹⁰ Sir Henry Pool was not Lord Huntingdon, but Lord Montague, and he died 5th January, 1558. He married Jane, daughter of George Nevill, Lord Abergavenny. His daughter, Catherine, married Francis Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon, and therefore, as said above, became Countess of Huntingdon. The father of Sir Henry was Sir Richard, descended from an ancient family at Pool, in Montgomeryshire, whence they took the name De la Poole, or De la Pole; who married Margaret, sister of Edward IV, Countess of Salisbury, who was beheaded in the Tower of London, without trial, by order of Henry VIII, 27th May, 1541.

¹⁴ This was Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy.

¹⁵ Edward, Prince of Wales, who died in 1484, during the life-time of his father, the only legitimate issue.

Castile. John had an only daughter, Isabel, who married Ferdinand, King of Arragon.

For the Spanish Sovereigns of the House of Lancaster, see Miss Roberts's History, V. l. p. 54.

Sire Fouke avoit, yl maunda à ly pur Eve sa file, e il la grants, e à grant honcur e solennite furent espouse. Mas Lewis ne vesqui que un an e demi apres: morast, e fut ensevely à Aberonwy; sanz heir engendré de Eve. E pus facte ele espouse à ly Sire de Blanche-Moities, que just chevalier de grant apise, corageus e hardy." If, therefore, Llewelyn ab Iwerth did espouse Margaret the daughter of Madog ab Meredith, it must have been before he took Johan, to whom he had been affianced when only seven years old, and that would put his marriage to her in the reign of her brother, and allow of the year 1204, while it occasioned the error of her being his natural daughter.

married Cecily, daughter of Thomas ap Philip Vychan of Talgarth, in the county of Brecon; and was beheaded at Chepstow, according to some, though more likely at Banbury.

² "Checky or azare, a chevron ermine;" or, strictly, "argent with ermine spots."

⁷ Or, whether this be Coningsburgh Castle.

¹ See page 12. The mother of these was Lady Elizabeth Wydeville, whose husband had fallen in battle, and had his estates confiscated, and to whom Sir Hugh Jones of Landimor Castle, now in ruins, near the village of Cheriton, in Pembrokeshire, had been recommended as suitor by the Duke of York and Earl of Warwick, as appears in their letters submitted to the Society of Antiquaries by the Rev. Mr. Halliwell. He, however, married Maud, the daughter of Rees ap Gwiliam ap Evans ap Cradock, who, as well as himself, was buried at Swansea, where are their effigies in brass plates, and the following epitaph:—"Pray for the soule of Sir Hugh Johnys knight and dame Mawde his wife, which Sr Hugh was made Knight at the holy sepulchre of our Lord ihu Crist in the city of Jerusalem the iijij day of August, the year of cure Lord Gode M^{ccc} xlii. And the said Sir Hugh had cōynayd in the werre ther long tyme before by the space of fyve yeres, that is to sey agaynst the Turkis and Sarayns in the parts of Troy, Greece, and Turky under John yt tyme empereours of Constantynople, and after that was marchall of Flaunce, under John duke of Somersed by the space of fyve yeres. And in likewise after that was knight marchall of England under the good John duke of Norfolk, which John gyve unto hym the manor of Landymot to hym and his heires for evermore; upon whose soules ihu have mercy."

² Henry VII. could only be regarded one of his children by marriage, and therefore this line must be read as a continuation of the one above it.
³ Besides Briget, he had two other daughters, Mary and Margaret.
⁴ Ann was the wife of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk; and Sicily, of John, Viscount Welles. Catherine was not the wife of the Duke but the Earl of Devon.

² The arms of Mordeidag Warwyn were borne by the Vaughans, one of whom, Roger Vaughan, son-in-law of David Gam, was slain at Azincour.

Bledyn ap Maenarch; the arms of the first are borne by the family of Jenkins of Llanharan.

⁴ In Carmarthenshire, once a seat of Morgan, the brother of Sir Rhys ap Thomas, to whom Llewys Glyn Gohi has addressed two Cywyddau. While Morgan, like his father, was a staunch Yorkist, his brother David was as firm a supporter of the Lancastrian party. When, after the battle of Tewkesbury, Jasper, Earl of Pembroke, with his nephew, the young Earl of Richmond, the only surviving heir of the house of Lancaster, had taken refuge in the Castle of Pembroke, King Edward IV., on hearing the news, immediately despatched an order to Morgan to summon his retainers and besiege the Castle, with which he, with all possible expedition, complied. His brother, David, aware of the perilous situation of the Lancastrian Princes, collected all the strength he could muster, raised the siege, and conducted both the Earls to Tenby, from whence they embarked for France, and thus became the means of saving the life of the future Henry VII. See note to Cowydd IV., Dogarth 11 of the poems of Llewys Glyn Gohi. In another Ode the poet celebrates a skirmish with the sons of

Margaret, daughter to John ap John, Lord of Seethrog. His son was Sir William, whose son was Philip, married to Jane, daughter of Humphrey Soles. His son was Philip, married to Gwenllian, daughter of Evan Trahaern, whose son was Jenkin hēn, married to Ann, daughter of Thomas Powel Llewelyn, of Gwent. His son was William, married to Margaret, daughter of Ieuan Owen Llewelyn, of Baully, whose son was John, married to Margaret, daughter of Morgan Evan David of Rhadir. His son was Jenkin, who married Janet, daughter of Jenkin Gunter; and they were the parents of the highest John Walbyffe above given. The monumental inscription to the effigy of Jane, daughter of Humphrey Standley, Earl of Derby, informs us that she was the wife of Sir William, son of Sir John Walby, by Margaret, daughter to John ap John, Lord of Seethrog. There seems, however, to be some error here. See Jones's Brecknockshire, Vol. II., page 576.

² In Brecknockshire, near the fall of the Melte. The family recorded in this pedigree have become extinct; and at present there are none of opulence in the parish. David Llewelyn, whose will was proved in 1631, left forty shillings to the poor annually; and Morgan Llewelyn, of Ystradfellte, by his will, in 1670, gave three tenements of land, the rents to be distributed among the poor. Griffith Morgan, of Ystradfellte, by his will in 1676, charged 11s. 6d. per cent. on three pounds per annum for the same purpose; so that the descendants of Llewelyn ab Gwillim, first mentioned in this pedigree, seem to have taken the name of Morgan. Indeed Jones has given a pedigree of the Morgans of Ystradfellte and Derw, from a MS. of Mr. Edwards, a Carmarthenhire herald, page 310, Vol. II, which proves the fact.

ARFAY S^R REES AP THOMAS.

¹ The arms of Sir Rhys ap Thomas, consisting merely of the first quarter surrounded by the garter, are sculptured on the western front of Llanweog Church, in Cardiganshire, the ravens being turned the contrary way. Below, on an escutcheon, is the badge of the portcullis, assumed by King Henry VII., though his son was the first to surround his arms with the garter; for Sandford states, that he first added the garter to his arms on the great seal, "in imitation of which royal example the knights of the order of St. George in the latter end of his reign caused their escutcheons on their stalls at Windsor to be encompassed with the garter." Ashmole says the same; but in the collection of impressions from Garter plates, made by Leake Garter, who died in 1778, and now in the College of Arms, there are several of the time of Henry VIII., though these might have had the garter added by the surviving knights of that King during the reign of his successor. Lewys Glyn Codi, describing the arms of Morgun ap Thomas, the brother of Sir Rhys, mentions the three ravens in the first quarter, the three (five) crescents of the second quarter, the lion in the third quarter, and three salades as the fourth quarter. He also mentions the griffin, which we here find to be the supporter. See Cowydd iv. Dosparth ii. of his Dooms. The second quarter Argent on a cross Sable, five crescents Or, is for Janet, daughter and heiress to Gruffydd ap Llewelyn Vothlys, great grandmother to Sir Rhys ap Thomas. Some Welsh heralds assign this with a spear head, in the first quarter Gules, to Gruffydd ap Sir Elydyr ddu. The third quarter is Gules, a lion rampant Argent, for Llewelyd, daughter of Einion Clud, Lord of Eborac, and wife of Gronow ab Einion, another ancestor. The fourth quarter is, probably, for one of the fancied ancestors of Sir Rhys. In Vincent's Knights of the Garter, a MS. of the time, are the arms of Sir Rhys ap Thomas, quarterly one and four Argent, a chevron inter three ravens Sable, two and three Argent on a cross Sable, five crescents Or, in the first quarter a spear's head Gules. The supporters are two Griffons, party per fess Or and Argent. Crest on a wreath of the colours, a raven proper between two spears, the shafts Or, Males Argent, and points imbrued Gules.

The second quarter was also borne by his wife Mabel, daughter and heiress to Henry Glyn. The garter plate, in St. George's Chapel, has a shield, with simply the first quarter, above which is a helmet, and on a wreath merely the raven. Above the motto, "Secret et hardy," and beneath, "M^r Rhys ap Thomas hancet." There still exists a Letter of Quittance by Sir Rhys ap Thomas to the tenants of his step-son and ward, Edward Stradling, Esq., dated "Kornedryn 6 Aug. 9 Henry VII." (1494) to which is attached his seal of red wax, bearing his device, the raven, with the letter R over it. It is addressed by Sir Rhys to the tenants of the estates of "St. Douett's, Est Orchard, Laney and Merthyr Mawr," in Glamorganshire, "Halsiwey and Cwm Hawey," in Somersetshire, which were brought to the Stradlings by marriage with the heiress of Sir Thomas Hawey, in the reign of Edward I. They are directed to "attorne tennts to my said son," and pay their rents to him, releasing all that appertained to himself in Edward Stradling's lands "by reason of his nowaw age." See respecting him, and the monumental effigies of him and his wife, Vol. I., page 211. In addition, it may be observed, that such was the irresistible weight of Sir Rhys ap Thomas's influence from Llanwey to Haverflewelst, that the landing of the Earl of Richmond was effected without opposition. The country people flocked in crowds to his standard, notwithstanding his real attachment to Henry was suspected until he joined him at Shrewsbury. Sir Rhys entertaining a great aversion to the French followers of the Earl, the latter marched from Milford through Cardiganshire and North Wales into England, while Sir Rhys proceeded through his own estates in Carmarthenshire, collecting and increasing his forces till he came to Brecknock. While waiting here for the junction of the men of Monmouthshire, he planted the standard of Henry VII. at the Standell (thence so called) in Llanidow, and again at the top of a street in Criciŷ Hywel, called from hence Standard Street. He then marched northward, and joined the Earl of Richmond at Shrewsbury.

"Fouche e ces compaignons s'en alerent de ylle vers Rothelan de parler au Sire Lewis, (i. e. Llewelyn, for he is called in another place le fitz Yverdroynd prince de Galles), le prince n'avoit espousee Johane, fille le roy Heurte, sœur le roy Euan; quant le prince e ses freres furent mors ensemble en la court le roy Heurte; et a deux pages previans, le roy Heurte donna a Lewis le fitz Yverdard, certain de vil anz, Jonette sa fille; e en mariage lui dona Elleuore e autres terres pascours; si mena Lewis a Londonne ou il (from Shrewsbury.) Le prince Yverdard, on ne meurt, prist congé du roy, e s'en ala vers Galles." Acc. Anderson, in his Royal Genealogies, gives a daughter to Heurte II, of the name of Juane, and says she was married, but does not add to whom. He also mentions a natural daughter of King John, which, Warrington, in his History of Wales, says was by a lady of the house of France, probably on the authority of Fabian. Sir J. Wynne, in his History of the English Family, asserts that she was legitimate, and mentions the gift of the lordship of Ellesmere, in Shropshire. The above cited narrative is so particular, that it appears best entitled to credit. Probably the match was acknowledged by John in 1204. Juane was buried in the Monastery of Llansanffraid, in Anglesey. See note 4, page 10. The Histoire de Foulques Fitz-Warin also gives the arms, assigned by Welsh heralds to Llewelyn, to his father, Ierwerth Drywddyn, viz. "De or e de gowles quarter e en chescun quarter un leopard." By hysport it is to be understood lion passant. See Critical Inquiry into Ancient Armor, Vol. I.

To Sr Reginald Gwylter he gave the manors of Struch and Abercymryg.
To Sr Humphrey Bouchill, or Burell, the manor of Craig Hywel.
To Sr Peter Gwener, the manor from him called Tegwenter, or Gwarterstene.
To Sr John Wallaffe, or Wallfoet, the manor of Llanshaelich.
To Sr Geoffey Clement, the manor of Llanshaelich Talilyn.
To Sr Humphrey Sullyes, the manor of Trostlan.
To Sr Walter Llyard, the manor of Pantyllyn.
To Sr Richard de Bois, the manor called from him Trebois.
To Sr Richard Pryton, the manor from him called Pryton.
To Sr John Skoll, the manor of Bolgwel and Cral.
To Sr Thomas (or Richard) Bullon, or de Bologne, the manor of Weruawar.
To Sr Philip Walwyn, the manor of Hay.
To Sr Hugh Sudweld, the manor of Abercric.

To Sr Giles Fierpoint, (otherwise Parkville,) the manor of Gileston.

To Walter de Cruos, lands in Llansitirmed.

He also assigned the following to the Welsh chieftains:—

To Gwrgan, the eldest son of Bledyn, he gave the lands and revenues arising from the manors of Blandilyn, Aberllynni, and part of Llanshaelich Talilyn.

To Crados, lands in the hilly parts of the country.

To Drynbeleg, second brother to Bledyn, a portion of Cantref Selyf.

⁵ William de Brevs married Matilda de Haia, daughter of Reginald de St. Valery, and died in 1213.

⁷ Tin William, son of Reginald, by Crisilla, or Grisold, was killed in 1230, and his wife Eva died in 1246.

⁹ Sr William ap Thomas was called W Marech Glas a Went. "The Grey Knight of Gwent," and was her second husband, and she his second wife. He died in 1146, and she in 1154.

1 He was of Swansea, and died in 1570, having been twice married. By Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Thomas Berkeley, he had issue: by Grace, daughter of Browne, and widow to Geoffrey Newton, he had none. Very fine extensive pedigrees of the Herbert family were made by Vincent, and are amongst his collections in several of his MSS. in the College of Arms, as well as others to that library. In all, Henry Fitz-Herbert, Chamberlain to King Henry I., appears to be the common ancestor.

2 Of St. George's Castle, in the County of Glamorgan. The Pedigree of Wogan is thus given by Vincent, (No. 135, 523.)

3 There is so much obscurity on this marriage, that it is very difficult to elucidate the truth. Dugdale, and most of the English heralds, do not admit it, though all the Irish historians insist on the fact. Perhaps our best guide in the matter is "A Normo French Metrical History of the Conquest of Ireland," edited by P. Michel, from the nearly contemporary MS. in the Archiepiscopal library at Lismeth. Strongbow was according to this, in pecuniary difficulties, when Dermot M'Murrough offered to him the hand of his daughter Eva, and the succession to his kingdom, provided he would assist him in conquering his enemies. As soon as the town of Waterford had been besieged and taken, Dermot, according to the Poem, arrived, and the nuptials were solemnized. Gogno admits the marriage, yet gives no other wife, and yet, if while in Ireland, he consented to his son Walter, at the age of seventeen, being put to death for cowardice, she must have been his second wife, as he lived but nine years after his espousals with her. He also says, that her daughter married William Marshall, Earl of Pembroke, but that her name was Isabella, not Eva, in which all the legal documents agree. That there was such a son of Strongbow is clear from a grant by his grandson, William le Mareeschall, to the Abbey of Tintern, in Monmouthshire, for masses pro antibus Walter Bill Ricardi filii Gilberti Strongbowi avo matris et Isabella matris meo where Strongbow is called Richard Fitz-Gilbert.

87; and had, in the time of Elizabeth, commanded the fleet destined to oppose the invincible armada. There are letters of his published by my friend, the Rev. J. M. Thomas, in the Stradling Correspondence.

² The five Royal Tribes of Wales are generally enumerated as the following:—Gruffydd ab Cynan, Rhys ab Tewdwr, Bledydd ap Cynfin, Iestyn ab Gwrgan, and Artholstan Glodrydd. The ramifications from these have been most ably set forth, in a lively and entertaining manner, by the late Philip Yorke, of Erthig, Esq., whose work on the subject merits the highest estimation. On these he observes,—"that from the ninth to the twelfth century, the genealogist, sanctioned by royal authority, classed the first families into twenty tribes: five termed royal and fifteen called common. Other founders of families are recorded, but not included in the tribes, although of greater merit than some who were honoured with that distinction. Why Iestyn ab Gwrgan, a petty Lord of Glamorgan, and a character in everlasting disgrace, should be thus dignified, while he was the founder only of ignominy and loss of dominion to himself, of slaughter and slavery to his country, is difficult to adjust; and that Brochwel Ysgithrog, a Prince of Powys in its highest splendour, having Shrewsbury for his capital, and a chief of great power and martial character, should have his name omitted, even in the fifteen tribes, is alike inscrutable." As in the list above given he is placed as the first, while the name of Iestyn ab Gwrgan is omitted, the whole would be intelligible were the second list so altered; and as the MS. this note is intended to illustrate is of the commencement of the seventeenth century, it may probably be used pro tunc. What authority there may be for considering Celych vynydd to be Dunstable, except that it stands on a hill of chalk, I never could discover; and am inclined to believe, that if there be, the Saxons must have been too long possessed of it to admit of a British chieftain being historically recorded as Earl of Dunstable and Earl of Northampton. I therefore must regard Kadrod, as well as Kradog vreych vras, "a King of Denmark," as mythological personages. As to Brychan, of whom a full account will be found in Jones's History of Brecknockshire, and of his descendants, whose pretensions have been ably examined by the late Professor Rees, in his "Welsh Saints," it may be sufficient to regard him as one of "the three chief Saints of the Island of Britain." Einion ab Gollwyn was a Lord of Dyfed, owing fealty to Rhys ab Tewdwr, Prince of South Wales. He had availed himself of the general invitation given by William Rufus to all knights to enter his service, and had obtained an appointment in the English army. Wishing probably to be quite independent, he, in the year 1088, waged war against his sovereign; but being overpowered by Rhys ab Tewdwr, he formed an alliance with the before-mentioned Iestyn ab Gwrgan, who then ruled in Glamorgan, and like himself was at variance with this prince. He proposed to use his influence with Rufus to send some English knights to their assistance, which was gladly accepted to by Iestyn, who promised to give him his daughter in marriage as a reward. This occasioned the introduction of Robert Fitz-Hamon and twelve other knights, with their attendants, into that country, by whose aid the army of Rhys ab Tewdwr was defeated and he himself slain. The Normans prepared to return to England, and Einion went for the lady he was led to expect. Iestyn had, however, gained his point, and not only gave a direct denial, but intencionally added the insulting remark, "that he knew better how to dispose of his daughter than by giving her to a traitor." The wrath of Einion knew no bounds, and revenge being still within his grasp, he hastened after Robert Fitz-Hamon, represented the injustice and insult he had received, and adding that Iestyn was detested by his chief men, proposed his wresting from him the district of Glamorgan, and the taking of it himself. He promised his assistance to urge the disaffected to join them; and they fought and conquered on Myydd Elystan, near Cardiff. Einion obtained the lady, and the lilly party comprised in the lordships of Saughenydd and Meysen, while the Norman knights parcelled out the rest among themselves. One of the Heraldic MSS., purchased by the College of Arms of Mr. Frothero, M.P., and which he bought from the son of the late Mr. Lloyd, of All yr Oelin, Cardiganshire, is a pedigree by William Lewis Esq. of Llwyn-derw, in the parish of Llangeler, county of Carmarthen, of Sir Leoline Jenkins, who became so illustrious in the reign of Charles II., in which, with one hasty link, he is made the lineal descendant of this Einion, and his wife thus obtained. Mr. Lewis is pleased to say, "this story"—meaning the conduct of Einion—"is not probable, notwithstanding the authority of most genealogists," and therefore "querre whether Inon in the pedigree be not descended from another Kolhwyn," without ever considering that Nest, whether the daughter or sister of Iestyn ab Gwrgan, is not very likely to have been married to two husbands, "commonly called Inon ap Kolhwyn." Sir Leoline (or Llewelyn) Jenkins is an honour to his country, let him be descended from whom he will. He was born at Llantrissant, in the Vale of Glamorgan, and afterwards resided at Llanbleithan, in that county. He endowed the free school in Cewlwrige, where he had received the rudiments of his education, and established for it two fellowships, two scholarships, and an exhibition in Jesus College, Oxford. His Life, in two folio volumes, is now scarce, and therefore expensive. He took the degree of LL.D. at Oxford; and became Judge of the High Court of Admiralty and Prerogative Court of Canterbury; was knighted at Whitehall, 7th of January, 1669, and sworn in Secretary of State on the 20th of April in the following year. He died, unmarried, at the age of 62, on the 1st of September, 1685; and was buried in the chapel of Jesus College, Oxford. The pedigree alluded to runs thus:—

OUT OF

A Book written by Lewis Dwnn

Deputy Herald, with his own hand, now in the possession of Lewis Owen⁽¹⁾ of Peniarth, in the County of Merioneth, Esquire, and in which each gentleman, whose Pedigree is therein contained, has subscribed his name with his own hand, for the purpose of sanctioning the authenticity and truth thereof;

AND COPIED THEREFROM AT THE REQUEST OF

THOMAS MOSTYN OF GLODDIAETH, ESQUIRE,

AND ATTESTED BY

William Hughes and John Davies,⁽²⁾

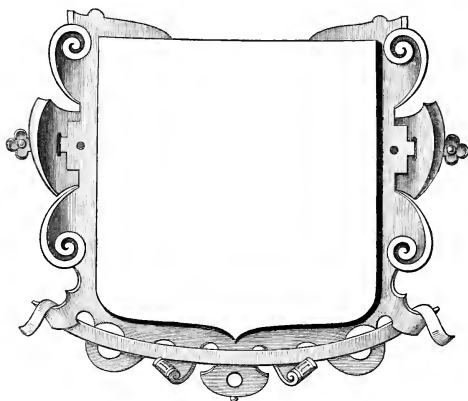

WHO WROTE IT IN THE YEAR 1685.

¹ Lewis Owen, of Peniarth, the possessor of the original MS. of Lewis Dwnn, was the eldest son of Richard Owen of Morben, in the county of Montgomery, by Margaret, his wife, daughter and heiress of a former Lewis Owen of Peniarth, who was eldest son of Griffith, fourth son of Lewis Owen, Baron of the Exchequer of North Wales, murdered in 1555. See a future page. He was born in, or immediately about the year 1625; entered at Queen's College, Oxford, in 1637; Sheriff of Merioneth in 1647; and married, in 1653, to Jane, eldest daughter of Sir Richard Lloyd of Fachusam and Dulais, in the counties of Denbigh and Carmarvon. In 1659 he was elected Knight of the Shire for Merioneth; and died on the 22nd of January, 1691-2. Lewys Glyn Cofhi has an elegy upon Gruffydd ab Aron, who was buried at Llan Egrn, a parish in the commot of Tal y Bont, in the hundred of Meirion and county of Merioneth, seated on the river Dywyn, which empties itself into Cardigan bay, below Ynys y Maengwyn. Gruffydd was a lineal descendant of Edlovalin ab Brudrwen, chief of the fifteenth tribe of North Wales, some remains of whose Llys or Court are still to be seen near the lakes called Llynian Cregannan, in Merionethshire. In the 4th of Henry V. Gruffydd ab Aron obtained a licence from the king to appropriate to himself additional property in the same neighbourhood. The licence is still in existence; and a verbatim copy of it may be seen in a note to the poem, page 454, from whence these observations are extracted. The Peniarth estate continued for many generations in the possession of Gruffydd's lineal descendants, till by the marriage of Elizabeth, sister and heiress of William David Lloyd, Esq., about the reign of Queen Elizabeth, with Griffith, fourth son of Lewis Owen, Esq., Vice-Chamberlain of North Wales, and M.P. for Merionethshire, it passed into that family. See a future page. From the Owens it descended by marriage to another family of the same name of Morien, in Montgomeryshire; and from them through the Williams', a younger branch of the house of Wynnstay, to the Wynnes; and is at present the property of my kind and indefatigable friend W. W. E. Wynne, Esq., to whom I am indebted for the notes to this Volume not marked "Ed." The bard mentions Arthur and Rhys, the sons of Gruffydd ab Aron; and his brother, Edeyrol, is said to have assisted in concealing Owain Glyndwr in his recesses, in a cave on the sea-shore, in the parish of Celynin, thence called Gogw Owain, a name it still retains.—Ed.

² John Davies was of Rhilwas, in Llanilin, and published a small book called "A Display of Heraldry," which was printed in 1716 at Shrewsbury. In the British Museum are two folio and two quarto volumes of Welsh pedigrees by the same author. (Additional MS. 9584-7) They were purchased by the late Thomas Pennant, Esq. from the executors of David Jones of Tretris, one of the earliest printers in the principality, who was presented with a font of type by the celebrated Mr. Lewis Morris. The son of Mr. Pennant, David Pennant, of Downing College, Esq. gave them to the Museum in 1835. The paper of these volumes has suffered from damp, and is in some instances mutilated in consequence. The pedigrees in the folio volumes, some of which are brought down to 1700, are written in a large legible hand; and the generations are connected by collateral curved lines. Those in the quarto volumes appear to be much older writings, and are written in narrative. At the end of the second folio volume, arms, some of which are alphabetically arranged, as far as the letter L, are given in blazon. All four volumes have been rebound and interleaved with new paper, but they want indexes.—Ed.

² He was an inveterate enemy of Owain Glyndwr, who was his cousin, but who had hoped for his assistance. Owain, at the beginning of his insurrection, went to Nannau to urge him to espouse his cause. Hywel denoured, but took Owain with him to shoot at the deer, and, watching his opportunity, aimed his arrow at him, which glanced off, owing to the goodness of his bowstrings. Owain then retreated, Hywel fell, and was never seen after. A long while subsequent, the skeleton of a man was found in a hollow oak in the park, twenty-seven and a half feet in girth, which was thence called Derwen cychwyn yr Elyll, from its being supposed to be haunted by a demon, and no peasant would pass it after sun set. In 1515 Sir Richard C. Hoare made a drawing of the tree, and that night it was torn up by the roots by an unexpected hurricane. The late Sir Robert Williams Vaughan, Bart., M.P., converted the sounder part into wassail cups and snuff-boxes, there being on the latter a reduced engraving on silver from the sketch. One was presented to my friend, the Rev. John Jones, of Christ Church (Tegid), who gave it to the Rev. Walter Davies of Mandan, who deposited it at Goodrich Court in 1837.—Ed.

⁶ He is witness to a deed, dated 10th October, 26 Henry VIII.

⁸ He was Sheriff of Merioneth in 1611 and 1624. His will is dated 19th December, 1641.

⁹ Lewis, eldest son of William Lewis Anwyll, was born about 1596, and married on the 12th of September, 1627, to Frances, fourth daughter of Sir William Jones of Castellmarek, county of Carnarvon (Chief Justice of the King's Bench in Ireland), by whom he had a daughter, Catherine, born 16th August, 1628, who was married, in 1648, to William Owen, Esq. of Cleevely. Lewis Anwyll married, secondly, in 1624, Magdalen, only daughter of Sir Thomas Williams, Bart. of Vayrol, in Carmarvonshire, by whom he had no issue. The Herbert estates, of which his mother was heiress, passed to his daughter, Catherine, and are now possessed by her representative, Mrs. Ormsby Gore; but Park, and the rest of the Anwyll estates, upon the death of William Lewis Anwyll, Esq., who survived his son Lewis, went by entail to the second son, Robert, whose name appears at the foot of Lewis Dwnn's Pedigree. He was Sheriff of Merioneth in 1656, and died on the 11th October, 1655. Park and its extensive possessions descended eventually to Robert Anwyll's grand-daughter, Catherine, daughter of his second son Owen. She was married on the 7th of April, 1687, to Sir Griffith Williams, Bart., of Marl, near Conway. Their only son, Sir Robert Williams, dying without issue, the great property of the two families passed to his sister, Anne, the wife first of the Right Hon. Sir Thomas Prendergast, Bart., and, secondly, of Captain Terence Prendergast. In her time she had been a maid of honour to Caroline, Queen of George II., and was probably the wealthiest heiress of her day; the estates were alienated, and she died in great poverty; it has been said in a poor-house, at White-church, near St. Dunstons. William Lewis Anwyll had several other children than are named in Lewis Dwnn's pedigree; but they were probably born after the date of it, subsequently to which the wife of Robert Anwyll must have been added, for her father, Sir John Owen, was not born till about 1600. In fact, it will be observed, that Robert Anwyll is twice mentioned; and it is probable that the original pedigree ended with the paragraph commencing "Plant Williams Lewis Anwyll," whose daughter, Elizabeth, in an pedigree, is said to have been wife of "David Lloyd of Croesonen." Lewis Anwyll, in his will, mentions his son-in-law, David Lloyd, and his daughter, Elizabeth, wife of John Evans. David Lloyd's wife was also Elizabeth—one of them was probably illegitimate. There are still, in Merionethshire, several families of gentry bearing the name of Anwyll, who are undoubtedly descendants of the old stock of Park. The arms born by the Anwyll family were vert, three Eagles displayed, in fess, Or.—being those of Prince Owen Gwynedd.

² There is a mistake in the pedigree here, as will be seen by examining it further on, (the paragraph beginning "Plant Morgan ap Sion"); and, as is proved by a contemporary deed, Gruffydd, it will be observed, was a younger brother, and not father of Sion, who married "Lowry forch Elisian." The deed referred to, dated 11th August, 1589, proves that Morgan ap Sion, and John ap Morgan, his son and heir, William, brother, and Lowry, wife of the said John, and the wife of the said William, were then living; and that Morgan, son of the said John ap Morgan, had previously, and, as would appear, lately, been married to Katherine his wife, and that they were also both living.

³ Gwythlach is not a name, but a designation of country, and means an Irishman, as Sassenach, a Saxon.

⁴ Osborn is sometimes denominated Earl of Desmond; but neither his father nor himself held that title. In fact the Earldom of Desmond was not bestowed upon the first Geraldine who enjoyed it until towards the middle of the fourteenth century, whereas this Osborn emigrated from Ireland, and settled in Wales, certainly at an earlier period in the century preceding. He is generally called by the Welsh Heraldry Wyddel, the Irishman, and was no doubt a scion of the great sept of the Fitzgeralds. Mr. Vaughan, the celebrated antiquary of Hengwrt, styles him "a noble man; some of Desmond of ye famous family of the Geraldines;" and Sir William Betham, the present Ulster King-at-Arms, believes him to have been a son of John Fitz-Thomas, Fitz-Maurice, Fitz-Gerald, Lord of Decies and Desmond. According to some accounts, Osborn came to Wales to support the cause of Llewelyn, the reigning prince, to whom he rendered signal service; and he is said to have left Ireland in consequence of having slain a person of distinction; but he appears to have been received into the favour of Edward I., though this must have been at a long subsequent period. It is perhaps more probable that he came (a young adventurer) to Wales to fight against, than for the Welsh Prince; and, I am inclined to think, that he accompanied his kinsman, Maurice Fitz-Gerald, Lord Justice of Ireland, who, in 1215, landed in Wales, having come over, it would appear, to assist the English Monarch against the Welsh. (Mason's History of Ireland, Vol. III., page 26.) Osborn's first place of settlement, in our country, was at a place called Berlysa, said to be a contraction of Osberly's, the palace of Osber or Osborn (he is commonly called by both names), near Cosygebol, in Merionethshire; but he subsequently removed to Cosygebol itself, which, according to one account, he obtained by marrying the heiress of it. Both these places are to this day in the possession of Osborn's descendants.

² Lewis Glyn Cuthi has addressed an Ode to Gwilym ab Gruffydd Derwas, the brother of Hywel, who lived at Cemaes, in the manor of Cyevelog, Montgomeryshire. He mentions Hywel's wife to be Elen, daughter of Davydd Lloyd of Newtown, who was descended from Eimion of Cri, in the same county, and Owain of Tywyn, Cardiganshire. William ab Gruffydd Derwas, he says, was descended from Meirig Lloyd of Nannau, and from Ynyr. He addresses another to Gruffydd Derwas, who, he tells us, was a younger son of Meirig Lloyd of Nannau, Hywel Sele being the elder, and had married Gweddoloveur Stanley, of the family of Teging. Gruffydd was an Esquire of the body to Henry VI.; and, from a deed in the possession of W. W. E. Wynne, Esq., he appears to have been living in 1416.—En.

Llew^d ap Iwan. According to the Talercroston MS., quoted below, High. ap. Llew^d ap. Robert ap. Iwan. This pedigree of the Lloyd's of Carne, (according to its present orthography Croston), in the latter part of it, differs considerably from two descents of the same family, in a manuscript genealogical collection, compiled by Mr. John Ellis, of Talercroston, in Anglesea, about the year 1723, as the following extract from that collection will show:—

Margt, dau to Tho ap Howel.=Griffith Lloyd ap Robert.=Jane White.

Robert Lloyd, sold Carne to Evan Lloyd, Clerk. (Robert and his sister Elizabeth are the only issue of this marriage named in the Talercroston pedigree).	Elizabeth wife of Wm Pres, of Llanvangel. (In the other pedigree, in Mr. Ellis's MS., she is stated to have been wife of John ap Robert).	John Griffith Lloyd, married Mary, dau: of Maurice Jones, of Wern, Co. Carnarvon.	Griffith Lloyd, of Tre Aveth. Edmund parson of Rhoscolyn, inducted 1663.	Lowry, wife of Tho ^s Davies, Parson of Llanvaethly. (Called in one of Mr. Ellis's pedigrees "parson" of Llanddauant, but his name does not appear as Rector of that parish in the list of its incumbents, in Rowland's).

The above Evan Lloyd was instituted to the Rectory of Rhoscolyn on the 26th of April, 1615, and afterwards to that of Llanbeulan.—Rowland's Mona. He died in 1663. Thomas Davies, Rector of Llanvaethly, was instituted to that Rectory on the 18th September, 1619.—Rowland's Mona.

The two pedigrees in the Talercroston MS., in every respect, but such as is here noticed, agree with each other; but to one of them, between Edmund and Lowry, children of Griffith Lloyd and his second wife, is added (it would appear subsequently to the compilation of the pedigree), upon what is heretically termed "a drop," the issue of that marriage, as they appear in Lewis Dwno's MS., for instance—

⁴ Sir Thomas Pilston should be Puleston.

⁵ Madog is party to a deed relative to lands in the commot of Uchaf, dated in the 3rd year of Henry V. (1410).

⁷ In Anglesey.—Ed.

² Rhys Wynn ap Sir Davydd is party to a deed relative to the levying a fine upon Plas yng Clegyrrog, and other lands in the comot of Taledolion, and county of Anglesey, dated the 16th of July, 8th of Elizabeth. By the marriage of a grand-daughter of Rhys Wynn (daughter of his son William) with William Wynne, a younger son of the house of Pengwern, in Llanwnda, the Clegyrrog Estate passed into that family. The grandson of this marriage, William Wynne, A.B., Rector of Llanalleg, by will, dated the 18th of November, 1765, as proved on the 4th of February, 1777, bequeaths Clegyrrog, and all his lands in the county of Anglesey, to his wife, Florence Wynne, to be by her sole, and the produce of the sale, after payment of his debts, to be equally divided amongst his children, all of whom were then under the age of twenty-one. His arms were those of Collwyn ap Tangno, the fifth Tribe, viz. sable, a chevron, between 3 Fleurs de Lys, argent.

The pedigrees of this family, in Lewis Dwnn and the Tairceosion MS., slightly differ as they regard the issue of this William. The following sketch is from the latter MS.

William (ap Rhys Wynn) = Ann dau: of Thos. ap Rhys.

Thomas Williams died s. p. 1655. = Wm. Wynn of Llanwnda. Mary ux: David Lloyd. Jane. Marg^s. Gwen, ux: Griffith Griffith, of Bonteniel.

⁶ Gruffydd Derwas, Esquire, was living at Michaelmas, in the fifth year of Henry V., as appears by a contemporary roll relating to lands in the county of Merioneth; and is stated in a pedigree compiled by Randle Holme of Chester, for Colonel John Jones, the Redcliffe, to have been Esquire of the Body to King Henry VI. A brother of Mabli, the wife of Gruffydd Derwas, Gruffydd ap Ievan Lloyd ap Ievan Blaenc, (Blayney), appears from the probate of a will of Howel ap Madoc, of the parish of Darowen, to have been living on the 6th of March, 1454.

³ In a list of pilgrims from England to Rome, in 1507, (see Collectanea Topographica, Vol. vi., page 73.) I find "D'ns Johannes Conwy Abbas monast'ii B'te Virginis in Insula de Bossey (Bersley) Bangor'is diocesis' vs' 28' Marcii." Enlli, or Bersley, is a small island off the Western promontory of Carmaronsshire, called Llŷn, and was esteemed a place of peculiar sanctity. Some remains of its monastery are extant.

⁴ Humphrey Lloyd was a celebrated antiquary of Deubich, author of the History of Wales, published by Powell, in 1784, and various other works. He died in August, 1808, aged 41, and was buried at Whitechurch, near Deubich, where there is a monument to his memory, by which it appears that he had also, by the daughter of Lord Lumley, a son named Humphrey, who was dead when the monument was erected, as was also his daughter Jane. A biographical notice of Humphrey Lloyd, and a copy of the inscription on his monument, will be found in Precursor's Wales, Vol. II., page 27, edition of 1784. A descendant from him, in the last century, claimed, but unsuccessfully, the barony of Lumley. The arms of the family whose pedigree is here given were, Gules, a chevron Ermine, between three Englishmen's heads coupé, proper. The celebrated Archbishop Williams was of this house. For more relative to it, see also the Vaenol pedigree.

⁶ Jane, second daughter and coheir of Sir Richard Knightley, of Fawley, in the county of Northampton, Knight, by Jane, his wife, daughter of Sir John Spencer, Knight, married George Lumley, Esq., who was attainted and suffered death in June, 1538, during the life-time of his father. It was their only son, Sir John, who, on being restored to blood, became the first Lord Lumley. This George's mother, instead of being "Barbara," was Joane, daughter of Henry Lord Scrope, of Bolton, by Elizabeth, his wife, daughter of Henry Percy, third Earl of Northumberland.—Ed.

¹ Lewys Glyn Cothi has written an Elegy on Edmund, Earl of Richmond, and an Ode to Henry VII. In the former he mentions Gwein Tudur, who was the lord of Penynydd, in Anglesey, and had married Catherine, the Queen Dowager, daughter to Charles VI. King of France, and by whom he had Edmund, born at Hildon, in Hertfordshire, whence he was generally called Edmund of Hildon. He was created Earl of Richmond on the 23rd of November, 1433, and married Margaret, daughter and heiress of John Beaufort, duke of Somerset, the issue of which was one son, afterwards Henry VII. He was buried first at the monastery of Grey Friars, at Carnarvon; but on the dissolution, his grandson, Henry VIII, ordered the body to be removed and reinterred in the chancel of the Cathedral of St. David's. The monument is of the altar kind, and was formerly enriched with his effigy, and various escutcheons in brass. The first instrument, we learn from the Elegy, which also mentions that his armorial bearings (being France and England quarterly) were bordered with fleur de lis and martlets. He likewise states that 'his sailer ar dargel oedd, a tharw.—'Three eskilles and a bull were on the target.' In the Ode to Henry VII, Jasper Tudur, under the title of Duke of Bedford, is extolled, Henry's noble descent detailed, his landing at Milford, and his coronation commemorated.—Ed.

² Ririd Flaidd was a chieftain, styled Lord of Penllyn, in Merionethshire. He died about the latter end of the reign of Henry II. The armorial bearings attributed to him, and borne by nearly all his descendants, are, Vert, a chevron between three wolves' heads, argent.

³ July 25, 1603.—Ed.

The following notice of the House of Penrhyn will be found in Penmar's Wales,—"The house is said to have been built on the site of a palace of Roderick Molwynog, prince of Wales, who began his reign in 720. It continued long in our princes. In 857 it was levelled to the ground by Mreuddyl ap Owen; who, in that year, invaded North Wales, and slew Gwynallan ap Ieaf, the reigning prince. In the time of Llewelyn the Great, it was bestowed, with the whole hundred of Llechwedd Ucha, on Yarddur ap Trahaiarn, a man of rank, at that period. Eva, or as she is called by some Eneys, one of his descendants, who had by the customary division of the lands by gavel kind, Penrhyn to her share, bestowed it with her person, on Gruffydd ap Hella, on Sir Tudor ap Ednyfed Vyechan, originally Lord of Bryn Ffianig. The family flourished for many generations. William Vyechan, son of Gwiliam ap Gruffydd, and Janet, daughter of Sir William Stanley of Hooton, and relict of Judge Poyz, chamberlain of N. Wales and Chester, succeeded in the 15th of Hen: VI. to the Estates of his father and the Judge, and also succeeded the last in his important office of chamberlain of N. Wales; an honor continued to several of his posterity. It is remarkable that in his time the severity of the Laws against the Welsh were so rigidly enforced, that he was made a denizen of England, on condition that he should not marry a Welsh woman; and accordingly he married a daughter of Sir William, or Sir Richard Dalton." For more relative to the House of Penrhyn, see pedigree at a future page, and notes thereto.

XXXVIII

¹ Margaret, wife of Sir William Bulkley of Eaton, in the parish of Davenham, (daughter of Sir Richard Molyneux of Setton, by Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Thomas, Lord Stanley, of Lathom, sister of Thomas, Earl of Derby) was married first to John Dutton, of Dutton, Esq., who died without issue in 1475. She was united to Sir William Bulkley, styled the younger, in 1475, and died on the 21st of February, 1527. On the eastern south window of Setton Church was erected the following inscription commemorative of her,—“Of yo^r charity pray for Margret Bulkley daughter of Richard Molyneux Knight; & wyff unto Joh: Dutton, and Wiliam Bulkley Esq., whose goodness caused this window to be made in the yere of our Lord which said Margret decessed the xxi day of Februa, 1527.” If my memory does not mislead me, this pedigree, and the one of the Bulkley family, in Lodge's Peerage, differ in several respects from that given in Ormerod's Cheshire, from which I have only some rough notes. In the latter, I think this Sir William Bulkley is represented as dying without issue, and as having been brother to Thomas, who married Jane, daughter of Sir Jeffrey Warburton. The pedigree of the Eaton branch of the Bulkley family, as given by Ormerod, is as follows. Where the dotted lines occur, that author had no actual proof of its correctness.

Breerton, of Malpas; and another daughter, whose name is not given, wife of John Minsall, of Minsall, of the county of Chester. The above Maud is stated by Ormerod to have been a “daughter of William Bulkley, Deputy Judge of Chester, 1444;” and Petronel is also called Parnell, and is stated to have been buried at Davenham, and is represented as sister of Sir William Bulkley, who married Margaret Molyneux. I have little doubt that she was so, that a generation has been omitted in Lewis Owen's MS. that there were two William Bulkleys in succession (father and son), of whom the husband of Margaret Molyneux was the last, and that he died without issue. By an examination of the dates above given, this will appear the more probable. If Margaret Molyneux was mother of Thomas Bulkley, who married Elizabeth Warburton, the most have lived eighty-two years after the date of her son's marriage settlement. This Thomas, it can scarcely be doubted, was her husband's brother, not her son. Thomas Bulkley, who married Eleanor Breerton, is stated by Ormerod to have died in the life time of his father, of whom he appears to have been the only issue. If the date, given by that author of the father's inquisition post mortem, taken after his father's death be correct, the son must have survived him. It is not improbable, however, that the date is wrong, and that Thomas Bulkley, the elder party to that deed, is the father—the first of the name—who married Elizabeth Warburton. His son Thomas is said by Ormerod to have sold Eaton in the time of Henry VII., and to have been living in the 15th year of Henry VIII., 1523. It also appears, in the pedigree given by him, that this last Thomas had a brother, named Robert, who was his heir; and who had three daughters, Elizabeth, relict of Thomas Bulkley, daughter of Thomas Venables, Esq., was living, a widow, in 1525.

⁶ She was the second daughter of Wiliam Hill, "parson of Stoke," brother to Sir Rowland Hill, Lord Mayor of London.

² He was instituted to the Rectory of Llanfachreth, on the 18th of June, 1566. The Welsh clergy had formerly very frequently, if not always, the prefix of Sir attached to their names.

⁵ Tegwared y bais wenna was an illegitimate son of Prince Llewelyn ap Iorwerth, (surnamed the Great,) who died in 1249.

⁸ In an old MS. pedigree at Nannau, the Seat of Sir Robert Williams Vaughan, Bart., is the following notice of Ifan ap Einion. Esg.—"Merydd yz wife of I^r ap I^r ap David of Llanguan, makes a deed to this Evan, at Wblec, upon Fryday after Easter

² Elise ab Cadwaladr died at Chester, in 1597, and his will was proved at Doctors Commons. His wife, daughter of Owen Wynn, a younger son of the House of Gwydir, died in 1635.

⁴ Robert Wyn ap Sion ap Wmffre was brother to Dorothy, the wife of Owen ap Elise.

² Ivan ap Gruffydd, called also John ap Gruffydd, died in 1370, and is buried at Llanswelllys, in Merionethshire, where the following inscription may yet be deciphered upon his tomb. He is represented on it in armour, bearing a shield, on which are carved the heraldic insignia of his family. "Hic jacet Johannes ap Gruffit ap Madoc ap Ierwerth, cuius unius proprietarius Dens, Amen. An^o Dni 1370."

and beheaded in 1283, brother to Llewelyn, the last Sovereign Prince of North Wales.

⁵ Howel ap Owain is reffice to a deed dated the 3rd of November, 1566.

Howel's tomb, on which is the following inscription, is still extant at Llanrws.—"Hic iacet Howel Coyntor ap Gruff^l Vychan ap Corff^l Am b." ³ Garter.

⁵ Lewis Môn flourished from 1489 to 1520.

⁸ William Llŷn was one of the most illustrious poets of the 16th century, who flourished from about 1530 to 1560.

¹³ Howel ap St Mathew flourished between 1530 and 1560.

¹⁴ Morgan Elvel flourished from 1580 to 1610.

¹⁶ Han ap Howel Swrdwal flourished from 1450 to 1480.

¹⁸ Lewis Morgannwg flourished between 1500 and 1540. He presided in the Glamorgan Gorsedd in 1520.

¹⁹ Sir John Price, LL.D., an eminent antiquary of Brecknockshire. He was one of the Commissioners employed by Henry VIII. to survey the monasteries that were to be dissolved. He died about the year 1558. His work most deserving of notice is his Defence of British History, in answer to Polydore Virgil, which was published by his son Richard in 1573.

and heiress of Conan Tyndaethwy, the preceding Welsh Sovereign. Essyllt and her husband assumed the government about the year 817.

paragraph in the pedigree, and as is shown in Powell's History of Wales.

² Angharad, in Powell, is said to have been heiress of South Wales. According to the same authority, Rhodri Mawr had but three sons, between whom their father divided his dominions. Anarawd (generally believed to have been the eldest) had North Wales, Cadell South Wales, and Mervyn the district of Powis. Anarawd died about the year 913, and Cadell about 907.

³ Howel Dda began to reign over the whole of Wales in 940, having long previously been Prince of South Wales and Powis. He died in 984.

⁴ Tudur Trevor, or, as he is generally called, Tudur Trevor, was a chieftain, from whom several families of Wales trace their descent; amongst the most distinguished of whom are the Mostyns and Trevors. The Trevor pedigree is at variance with that in Lewis Dwan's. It appears by it that Tudur married Angharad, daughter of Howel Dda

⁵ This, perhaps, fabulous district, is said to have comprised at least a considerable portion of what is now Cardigan bay, immediately to the westward of Barmouth, and, according to a vague tradition, was inundated by the deep about the fifth century; Sullistyn, a prince of Dyfed (distinguished in the Triads as one of the "three arant trawd, oed") being, in a fit of intoxication, let the sea through the dams, by which the country was secured.

844, and was slain in battle in the island of Anglesey in 876. He was the son of

² Llewelyn ap Seisyllt became, by usurpation, Prince of all Wales, about the year 1015, and was slain in 1021.

³ He became Prince of North Wales upon the death of Iago ap Idrwal, who fell in defending his principality against him, in 1037.

⁴ Bleddyn ap Cynvyn was half brother, through his mother, to Gruffydd ap Llewelyn. He began to reign over North Wales, conjointly with his brother Rhywallon, in 1062, and was slain in battle, like most of the Welsh Princes, in 1072. In the Welsh pedigree books, Bleddyn is the head of one of the five Royal Tribes, that of Powis. See Cambrian Biography, and Powell's History of Wales.

¹¹ Idwal Foel succeeded his father Anarawd in 930, and died in 943. According to Powel, Idwal had, besides the sons named by Lewis Dwnn, one called Rodri. It would also appear, from the same authority, that Meirig was the eldest son.

¹² Ievan ap Idwal Foel succeeded Prince Howel dda in 948.

¹ Einion ap Seisyllt, of Matharn, in Montgomeryshire, was progenitor to the once powerful family of the Pughes of that place, for whom, through him, is alleged a lineal descent from Gwyddno Grosarn, mentioned at page 98. According to their pedigree Gwyddno had a son named Yuyr, to whom their line is traced. It appears, from a copy of an inquisition, taken at Bala, in the 6th year of Henry VI. (1427), that this Einion ap Seisyllt was, in the time of Llewelyn the Great, seized "in d'nico suo vit de feod" de tota terra, que fuit et est inter Aquas de dyrt & dewlas" and that, "terti illa tunc tenuit de Llen ravar ap M'reth ap Kynan & Llen vychan from eius d'nis de Merioeth."

History of the Gwydir Family, Sir Howel and Ieuan ap Einion are said to have been brothers; that, however, is the only authority in which I find their relationship so stated. He distinguished himself by his prowess, in the wars in France, in Edward III.'s time. His countrymen have ever competed for him, with Denis de Morbeque, the honour of taking the French king prisoner. "This Howel," observes Sir John Wynn in his History of the Gwydir Family, "was knighted at the field of Fogeters, and by our countrymen is reported to have taken the French King; but, however it was, he did such service there, that the Prince bestowed a messe of meats, to be served up daily during his life, before his battle axe, which after was bestowed on the poor, wherof he was called Sir Howel y fwyall." The arms of Sir Howel are said to have been those of France, with a battle axe in bend sinister, argent. It is more probable that they were, as I find also stated, his own arms, viz., sable three fleurs de lys argent, with a battle axe between them, substituted for the original chevron argent.—See History of the Gwydir Family, pp. 40 and 413.—8vo. edition.

⁸ Coel Godhehog is said to have been the 72nd King of Britain, father of Hela, the wife of the Emperor Constantine. He lived about the middle of the third century.—Cambrian Biography.

⁹ The other daughter of Coel was named Gwaed.

⁶ The prefix of Sr is appended to his name, from his having been in Holy Orders, He is party to a deed, dated the 29th of January, 18th of Henry VIII. (1527.)

⁷ Thomas Pool was living on the 8th of May, 4th of Elizabeth, (1562) and his brother, Wmpfre, (Humphrey,) on the 1st of February, 18th of James I. (1621.)

⁹ She was living on the 1st of February, 15th of James I. (1621.) and was then the widow of Ellis ap Robert Wynn.

¹⁰ The wife of Dr. Ellis Price is also called Ellis. There is, probably, some mistake here, as it is unlikely that there were two daughters of the same name, though, at an earlier period in Welsh pedigrees, such is sometimes the case.

¹¹ The Glynnes of Glyn Llyon were frequently denominated thus.

¹ Sion ap Heilyn's will is dated 5th of August, 1434. In it he mentions Aliis, his wife, and three children.

² Llewelyn ap Ierwerth Dreyndwn is the Prince commonly known as Llewelyn the Great. He ascended the Welsh throne in 1194, and died in 1240. See page 101.

³ This, it will be seen, is a branch of the same family as Robert ap Owen, whose pedigree next precedes it.

⁵ Hedd Molwynog was a chieftain of Is Dulais, in Denbighshire, and the stock of one of the Fifteen Tribes. He lived in the seventh century. The arms borne by his descendants are—sable, a hart passant argent, attired Or.

⁷ Robin ap Gruffydd Goch lived about the commencement of the fifteenth century, and was a chieftain of Rhos, upon the borders of the counties of Denbigh and Carnarvon.

¹ Caw o Brydain, a chief of a district in the north, bordering on Strathclyde. He had his territory wrested from him, and in consequence retired with his family into North Wales. His place of settlement was at Terevyl, in Anglesey, where he had lands given to him by Maelgwn Gwynedd. The greater part of his numerous issue embraced a religious life, and founded several churches. Some of them, however, were warriors. He lived about the commencement of the sixth century. See Cambrian Biography, and Professor Rees's "Welsh Saints."

² Llywarch Hen was a celebrated poet, who flourished from about a.d. 520 to 630. Many of his works are inserted in the Welsh Archaeology. He is supposed to have been a chief of some part of Cumberland, and bore a distinguished part in defending his country against the Saxons. He survived the loss of twenty-four sons, who fell in the same cause. According to an ancient tradition, he died at Llanvor, near Bala, at the extreme age of 150. Pennant, quoting an elegy by Llywarch upon the death of his sons, states that it was in a battle at Rhiwaleg, in this neighbourhood, he lost Cyniddeu, the last of his numerous issue. It is said, however, in the Cambrian Biography, that Cyniddeu was a chieftain of some district in Powis, under whose protection Llywarch sought refuge. No son named Cyniddeu is mentioned in Lewis Dwan, who names but twenty-one of them; yet the foregoing translation, given by Mr. Pennant, of part of the elegy, would seem to warrant his statement—"Cyniddeu defend thou the brow of yonder hill. Let the event of the day be what it will, when there is but one son left, it is vain to be ever-fond of him."

⁶ Einion Yrth was sovereign of North Wales from 389 to 448. See Cambrian Biography.

Pabo was accounted one of the British Saints. He founded Llan Pabo in Anglesey, where his tomb probably remains to this day. See Cambrian Biography. In Rowlands's Mona Antiqua is an engraving of the tomb.

² Trahaearn ap Cradog obtained the Sovereignty of North Wales, on the death of his uncle Bleddyn, in 1072, and was slain in the battle of Carco, 1080.—Cambrian Biography.

³ Fleon, called by Shakespeare Fleance, son of Banco, ancestor of the Royal House of Stuart. In some pedigrees his wife is named Mary.

⁴ Idwal ap Meigr succeeded to the Sovereignty of North Wales in 933, and was slain by Sweyn the following year.

⁶ Gruffydd ap Cynan recovered the throne of his ancestors from the usurper Trahaearn ap Cradog, in 1082. He died in 1137. An interesting Biography of him is given in the Myrryrian Archaeology.—Ed.

¹¹ Sir John Wynn, in his History of the Gweilyr Family, states Ierwerth to have been the only issue of his first marriage. Powell agrees with Lewis Dove. In enumerating his illegitimate issue, Sir John has copied Powell, and they are given as follows:—Conan, Llewelyn, Merwllth, Idwal, Rhun (who died in 1155), Howel, Cadell, Madoc (the allego discoverer of America: see Southey's Madoc), Einion, Cynoric, Philip, and Riri, Lord of Clochran, in Ireland. Ierwerth, the eldest son of Owen, was set aside from the succession, on account of a personal deformity, and the throne was usurped, first by Howel, one of the Prince Owen's illegitimate issue, and then by David, his eldest son by the second marriage, who, however, was at last dispossessed of it by the right heir, Llewelyn, eldest son of his brother Ierwerth. David married a sister of King Henry II. In the Great Roll of 20 Henry II., Rot. 2, is the following item:—Pro panis & apparatu sororis regis quoniam David natus Oeni duxit uxorem xxviii^o et xliii^o—p^o breve regis et pervenit Edwardi Bimidi.—Lansdowne 38c, 24c.

¹² Llewelyn ap Ierwerth ascended the throne of Wales in 1104, and died in 1249. His son Gruffydd, it has been maintained, was illegitimate, though the contrary has also been confidently asserted. Gruffydd was killed by a fall, in attempting to escape from the Tower of London, about the year 1241. His body, some years subsequently, was recovered from the English Monarch, at the earnest solicitations of the Abbots of Conway and Ystradgylly, who, conveying it to Conway, bestowed upon it a very pious and honourable entombment.—See Powell.

² In Anglesey.—En.

³ Rodri ap Owen was the second son of Prince Owen Gwynedd, by his second wife; and was imprisoned by his brother, the younger David, "because he desired his portion of inheritance; but breaking his brother's prison, entered the isle of Anglesey as sovereign lord thereof, and within a while recovered all that part of Wales which lyeth above the river of Conway. Geraldus maketh mention that Roderick was Prince at such time as the Archbishop (Baldwin) preached the Cross in Anglesey [in 1183], and that he had in his court Llewelyn, the son of Yvorvrb, or Edward, his nephew," afterwards Prince of North Wales, and known as Llewelyn the Great.—Guydr, History.

Sioned verch Howel ap Madoc ab Idnerth=Owen Brogyntyn=Marred v: Einion ab Seisyllt o Vathavarn.

² Dinnael is a lordship in Denbighshire, and Elys Dinnael was probably the principal mansion.—Ed.

³ Elystan (or Athelstan) Glodrydd was Lord of the district between Wye and Severn (in his day called Ferfax), and the stock of one of the Five Royal Tribes of Wales.

In the Harleian MS. No. 1975, is the following notice of him:—"Elystan Glodryth, or Edelstan the renowned, horn in the Castell of Hereford Anno. 933, and in the 9 year of Edlstan K. of Saxons, who was his God Father, was Earle of Hereford, L¹ of the He dyed & was buried at Choppell Treas Elystan in Cetre Land." He is stated in a MS. of Jones of Tregaron, a herald of the time of Queen Elizabeth, and other genealogists, to have lived till 1067, and to have been buried at Hereford. In that case he was 152 years of age when he died—an age, however, which has been exceeded by old

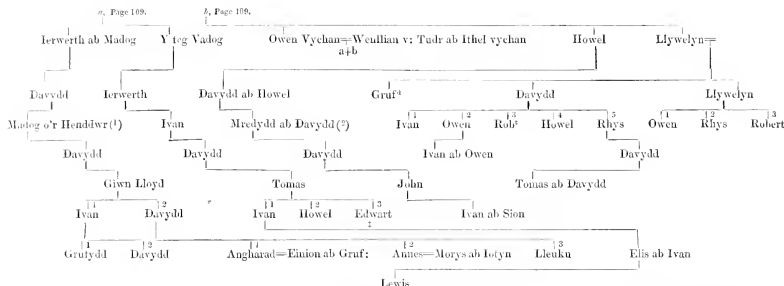

Parr and the Countess of Desmond. In the above MS. it is stated of his son—"Cadolgan ap Elystan was Loc of the Cuntrey between Wy & Severne aforesayd. He founded the abby of S^t Mary's at Com Hir, & 3 churches to S^t michell; that is in Cerry, Kenenully, & S^t michells on Brin pah Icauff in Buhell. He both buried at Com Hir."

¹ Madog o'r Hendwr. See also page LXIII. The different pedigrees of this branch of the family of Owen Brogyntyn, (particularly from him to Madog), of which there are several extant, are so at variance with each other, scarcely two agreeing, that it is quite impossible to reconcile them. It will be seen that the inquisition post mortem of Tudur ap Owen Vychan, according to this pedigree fourth in descent from Owen, was taken in the 27th year of Henry VI., and that of Meredith ap David, represented as fifth from that Chieftain, in the 25th of the same Monarch. Rhys ap David ab Howel also, whom Lewis Dwnn, and a pedigree in the annotations to the recently published works of Lewis Glyn Cothi, (which pedigree differs from that in Lewis Dwnn's MS. sufficiently to show that the one is not a copy of the other,) concur in representing as sixth in descent from Owen, must, from the date of the inquisition taken upon his death, have died about 1470. How then is it possible that so many generations could have intervened between Owen Brogyntyn and David de Hendwr, who died in 1399?

The following documents are the only authentic evidences known to exist relative to the branch in question of this family. They are taken from old MSS. at Rûg and Hengwr, in Merionethshire, containing copies and abstracts of Ministers' Accounts, Fees, Inquisitions, &c., relative to North Wales.

Another, showing that “David de Hendwr, Baro de Ederion,” was one “Indictaturus Com' Merioneth A' Ric' 2. 9.”

Fees and Inquisitions relative to the lands held in capite of the Crown by “David de Hendwr,” which prove that he died at “Hendwr,” on the 7th of August, 1399, seized of a moiety of the manor of “Hendwr,” and a great extent of other property in Ederion; that a foefment before his marriage with Isabel, or Elizabeth Deveres (Deveraux) was dated about the feast of St. James the Apostle, the 7th of Richard II.,

⁴ Ioin ap Mal' ap Ior' goch of Berham = Ilenki, filia coheres d'i ap Gion hoid de Hendwr.”

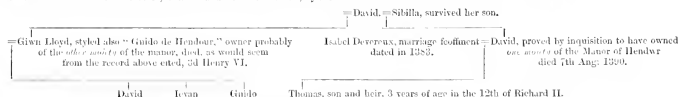

Mr. Vaughan of Hengwr, the Merionethshire antiquary, it appears by a pedigree in his autograph, supposed David de Hendwr, who died in 1399, to have been the father of Gwen Lloyd; and Thomas, pronounced in the records above cited, non esse legit to the former, to have been a brother of Gwen by a second marriage. If so (and that he was younger than Gwen Lloyd is proved by the inquisitions, which show that when she was but three years old the other was father of three children) how could Thomas have been the father's son and heir? Moreover, if Gwen and he were brothers, by the (25th of July, 1383;) that by her he had a son and heir, named Thomas, who, in the 12th year of the said King, was of the age of three years; that if the said Thomas were dead, (which it is shown he was not,) David, Iwan, and Gwido, the three sons of “Gwido de Hendwr,” (Gwen Lloyd,) were his heirs; that this Thomas “a tempore natiuitatis suo non sicut fuit in partibus Northwallie sed in partibus Cornubiæ ubi trans originem;” and that Sibilla, mother of the said David, held in dower a third part of all his lands, the profits of which she had relinquished to him for life. Isabel, or Elizabeth, is called in the inquisitions by both names. It is probable that she is the same person as Sybill Cornwall, mentioned above. Sibill is commonly used in Welsh descents for Isabel; and she might have been called Cornwall as a native of that county, where it will be seen that Thomas, son of Isabel and “David de Hendwr,” was born. It should be observed, however, that the mother of David was named Sibilla.

Another, from which the following evidence is extracted, “M'ioneth, Edeirion, Vetera Escacata in Com'p' Escator' Com' p' d' et aduoc' Annandun in c'o' A'e'” “ex'is' n'p' de FAX' x'cc' ann' ter' arribit' in villa de vaerrie yza (moky) in Com'p' Edeir' in Com' p' d' de quib' Henry ex (vreb) d'd ap Gion obit seista in d'acio suo ut de foed' militie remanet in manus d'ni Rs. ab a'o 150. Rs. II. 6 p'xt pl' p' inquisitione index inter alia capt' die mart' p's post fest' App'lor' Thi & Jacobo An'o p'd. [7th of May 1457.] Et aduoc' in c'o' p' descri' liberat'is.” Then follows the descent of John Pulston, Esq., showing his title to the lands of the above-mentioned Lewkys, (Lacey) to exhibit which instructions are given to frame a bill in the Court of Wardship. It commences thus—

Law of gavel kind then prevalent in Wales, neither could he have son and heir, they would have been coheirs. It will be seen, too, that the three sons of “Gwido de Hendwr,” or Gwen Lloyd, are declared in these inquisitions heirs to Thomas. Gwen Lloyd was at this time living, and therefore had he and Thomas been brothers, would have had precedence of his children in the heirship to the property. It is probable, therefore, that this portion of the Hendwr descent was as follows:—

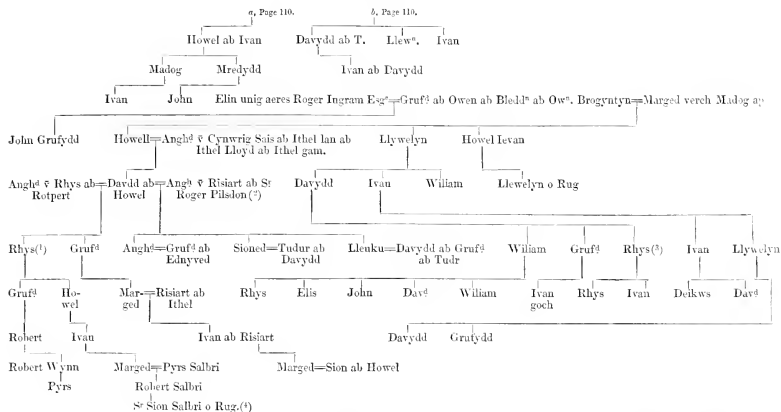

Madog de Hendwr changed the armorial bearings of his family from those of his ancestor, Owen Brogyntyn—argent, a lion rampant, sable—to argent, on a chevron

gules, three fleurs de lys, or; and the latter coat has always been borne by one entitled to quarter his arms.

² She is called Katherine in a pedigree of the Pilsdon family.

³ Lewis Glyn Cothi has two Poems in the Yth Dosporth, in which he mentions the wife of this Rhys, Gweryll, daughter of Madog ab Mredydd, of the tribe of Tudur Trevor. In the latter, which is an Elegy upon Gwentlian, wife of Philip ap Rhys of Coearth, and daughter of Owain Glyndyrdwy, he says that Owain was a powerful prince, having the whole of Wales under his command, with forty dukes for his allies, and in his old age supported sixty-two female pensioners. On the bard's authority, we learn that Rhys had a son named Gruffydd ap Rhys ab Davydd, to whom he addressed another Ode, who, in the 48th line, we are told, married Marged, the daughter of Rodyn ab Gruffydd giek, of the race of Tudur y Glyn.—Eo.

² Gronwy ap y Penwyn, called also Grono Lloyd ap y Penwyn. By the extent of the comot of Nantonwy, taken on the next Monday after the feast of the translation of St. Thomas, 20th Edward III., (1352), it appears that he and his brothers then held certain lands in Penoscroth.

It began thus.—"Cote Endenture faite p' entre le p'shant & puissant prince Jo^s Due de Gwynen & Lancaester d'un p'te, & Eigon ap Ithel Esq; de auter p'te. The Duke granted to Einion a pension of 20 marks a year out of the manor of Halton, "for his service in time of peace and war."—MS. in the autograph of Robert Vaughan of Henllys, Esq., who died in 1667. After the death of Walter Lord Manwy, he received a grant for life of the Shrievalty of Merioneth. He died about the beginning of the reign of Henry IV.

⁷ Tudur (Vychan) ap Gruffydd was brother to the celebrated Owen Glyndwr, and was a witness in the suit between the families of Scroppe and Gronowr, relative to the armorial bearings of the former. It is proved by his evidence, that he was born about the year 1362. He was slain at Mynydd Pwll-melyn, in Brecknockshire, in 1400.

He was made Dean of Bangor, the 2^d of March, 1550; and, in 1562, Rector of the Sinecure of Northop, and Archdeacon of Merioneth. On the 5th October, 1566, he was confirmed Bishop, and consecrated the 20th of October. He died the 3^d of February, 1584-5, and was buried in his own Cathedral. See Willis's Bangor. ² When Wille published his Survey of Bangor (1721), all that remained of the inscription upon the Bishop's grave were the words "He jacet Nicholans Robinsonus." Colonel Robinson, of Upper Gwensyllt, in Denbighshire, a distinguished Royalist, who died on the 16th of March, 1684, was the Bishop's grandson.

³ Adam de Salusbury is stated to have been a younger son of the Duke of Bavaria, and the occasion of his settling in Wales was his being appointed Captain of the garrison of Denbigh. The family of Salusbury became a very powerful one in North Wales, the principal branch of which was seated at Llewenny, in Denbighshire. In the reign of Charles II. Hester, sister and heiress of Sir John Salusbury, Bart. conveyed the tafe, by marriage, to Sir Robert Cotton, of Conlemarck, in Cheshire; and it was sold by the late Sir Robert Salusbury Cotton to the Hon. Thomas Fitzmaurice, whose son, Viscount Kirkwall, again conveyed it, by sale, to the Rev. Edward Hughes, father of Lord Dmarden, the present proprietor. The Rev. Sir Charles Salusbury, Bart. is lineally descended from this house.

⁴ This John Salusbury died in 1280.—Ed.
⁵ This Thomas Salusbury was living in 1451, and from him has sprung a numerous family. A large pedigree, showing the several branches down to 1622, i. e. to Sir Henry Salusbury, Bart. is among Vincent's Collections in the College of Arms, No. 135. This heronety became extinct in 1681. The descendants of Sir John Salusbury, knight, the great-grandfather of this Sir Henry, were recorded in the Baronet's pedigree, in the College of Arms, in 1760.—Ed.

⁴ Fowk Salisbury was Dean of St. Asaph, Anno 1511, and held the Deanry, with various other preferments, at the time of his death, which happened in 1543. See Willis's St. Asaph.

⁵ Hugh Cony, of Bryn Euryr, in the parish of Llansiodd, in Rhos, was a son of Robin ap Griffith Goch, Lord of Rhos.

⁶ Harri goch Salbri was of Llanthaladr in Kiamerch, in Denbighshire.

⁸ Tudur Ychwan should be, as Tudur ap Griffith ap Einion, (of the line of Cosegied, in a future page.) This Tudur Ychwan, it appears from an old MS. at Rôz, containing copies of Ministers' Accounts, Extents, &c., died, seized of a tenement called Y Gwyndra, in the township of Aberllynny, in the county of Merioneth, upon the 25th of June, 1476, and that Margaret his daughter was his next heir, and in the 11th year of Henry VII, of the age of five years. She was married to the above mentioned Harry (goch) Salisbury.

¹⁴ The office of Escheator and Sheriff of Merionethshire was granted by Henry VII, on the 22nd of September, in the first year of his reign. "Petros (Piers) Stanley," which office Stanley continued to hold in the first year of Henry VIII. The manor or lordship of Eulo was leased by the latter Monarch, on the 7th of April, in his 26th year, (1535), "Petros Stanley Ar. and groves' hostiars Cam' ar." Edward Stanley of Merionethshire in 1545, 1553, and 1560. He was also M.P. for Merioneth in the Parliament of 33rd Henry VIII, (1542), and was appointed Constable of the Castle of Harlech by Letters Patent, dated the 26th of March, 5th Edward VI, (1551). Compare that which relates to the Stanley family as above with the pedigree at a future page. I have little doubt that Edward Stanley, represented in the above as son of Piers and Constance Salisbury, is the same person as appears in the other as Edward Stanley of Harlech, son of Piers and Janet Butler; and I have a little doubt that the former is the correct version of this descent.

¹⁵ By his valor in battle, Llewelyn obtained from his Prince, Gruffydd ab Madog, Lord of Dinas Brwn, the honorable distinction in his arms of four bloody strokes; or, in the heraldic phrase, paly of eight, Or and Gules. For, while he was talking to his Prince after the fight, with his left hand smeared with blood, he accidentally drew it across his sword, and left on it the marks of his four fingers. The Prince observing this, ordered him to carry them on his shield; and at the same time bestowed on him the township of Golligynan, in this neighbourhood, as a more substantial mark of his favour;" by grant dated in Yale, on the vigil of St. Egidius, (probably Eglwys, whose festival is December 1st,) 1256. (See also pp. xxvi, and xxviii.) the stock of one of the fifteen Tribes of North Wales, was of Nant Conwy, and lived in the time of Prince Owen Gwynedd, who sent Ithel his son to be fostered by him; but Nevydd caused the young child to be murdered at a place called him Cwn Idwal, on account of which Nevydd and his posterity were degraded, and from gentlemen were made bondmen. His son Rhyu, to expiate the murder, gave the lands whereon the Church of Llansawt was built. The arms which this Tribe have borne are argent, 3 spears' heads inlaced, Sable, pointed upwards.—See Cambria Register, Vol. I., page 149.

¹ William ap Gruffydd seems to have been the first of the family who adopted the surname of Jones. In a bond, to which he is party, dated 24th of May, 23rd Elizabeth (1581). He is styled "Wm. Griffith Jones Esq." He died in 1587, and Margaret, his first wife, in 1583. Their eldest son, whose signature is attached to Lewis Dwna's pedigree of this house, was afterwards knighted, and at one time Chief Justice of the King's Bench in Ireland; subsequently to which he was a Justice of the same Court in England. He died on the 9th of December, 1640, and is interred under the Chapel of Lincoln's Inn. His first wife, Margaret, a daughter of Griffith ap John Griffith, of Cefn-amwlch, Esq., died in May, 1609, and was buried at Beaumaris, in the church of which town is a monument, with the following inscription, to her memory:—

Her descent is not quite correctly given at a future page. See Marged ferch Gruffydd, &c. It should be thus—Marged ferch Gruffydd ap Sion ap Gruffydd Esq, ap Sion. Sir William married, secondly, Catherine, daughter of ... Powis, of Abangdon, by whom he is believed to have had no issue. Griffith, the eldest surviving son of Sir William Jones, had two daughters; Margaret, the eldest, married Sir William Williams, Bart. of Yscol, and so conveyed the Castellmarch estate into that family. It now belongs to Thomas Asheton Smith, Esq, under the same title by which he holds Yscol. Lady Williams died in January, 1647. Her sister, Jane, was the wife, first, of Griffith Williams (whose settlement prior to their marriage is dated the 11th of January, 1645), Sir William's younger brother; and afterwards of the Hon. Thomas Bulkeley, second son of Thomas, Viscount Bulkeley. It was during the life-time of Sir William Jones, or his son, that a party of the French, landing near Castellmarch, carried off the master of the house prisoner to France.

² In a return to Archbishop Parker, upon the state of the diocese of Bangor in 1561, appears "Henry Holland the younger, Priest Vicar of Conwy, resident and kept his house;" and the same person is amongst "such as are able to preach, and may do good;" in the same return. The names of William and Hugh Holland are in an assessment, containing a list of the freeholders and tenants within the parson of Isy (in which Conwy is situated), made in April, 1567, as is that of Hugh Stodart. In the south-west corner of a Conwy church is a raised tomb stone, on which are the following inscriptions:—"Edward Holland Armiger possit hoc memorabile Hollandum ad repositurum Hugonis Holland Ar. prius sui paulo antea, qui obiit 13 die Maii 1531.

By the side of this stone lyeth buried William Williams, Esq., together with his wife, Margaret, eldest daughter and heir of William Holland, of Mart, Esq. she [died] An. Dom. 1641, [and he] 1679—Beneath lyeth the body of Holland [Williams] son of William [Williams x] Margaret his wife, who departed this life the first day of January 1650, Anno natu 40." Jane, daughter and heiress of Edward Holland, Esq. (who was the eldest son of the above-mentioned Holland Williams, but had assumed the surname of Holland), was married to Robert Williams, of Fwly-crochion, in the county of Carnarvon. Their grand-daughter, Jane Simons, niece of Sir David Erskine, Bart., is the representative of this family. The arms borne by them were, Azure, a Lion rampant gardant, between three fleurs-de-lis, argent.

⁶ Ednoew Bendew was the stock of one of the fifteen Tribes of North Wales, and lived about the middle of the 11th century. See page 83.

² Elin; Catrin; ferched, &c. This passage appears as though placed without reference to what precedes or follows it. The wife of Robert Carrig (who died in 1576) was Catherine, daughter of Richard ap John ap Madoe of Bodwrda. That, doubtless, is what is meant.

⁴ Probably one of the sons of Madoe vyechan (or ap Rhys) of Berkin.

⁵ This does not appear in the Myllwyn pedigree. Perhaps it should be Bron-y-foel,—the first Howel in that descent being generally styled Howel vyechan.

⁶ Dr. John Davies, author of the Welsh Dictionary, printed in 1632, and of other learned works in that language, was Rector of Mallwyd from 1604 to 1644, in which year he died, and was buried in his own Church, beneath the altar, which is remarkable for being in the centre of the building. It probably had been removed from that situation by the direction of Archbishop Land; for Mr. Pennant observes, that Dr. Davies, in defiance of the Archbishop's orders, again removed it to his imaginary superstitious site at the East end of the Church. In the Cambrian Biography, Dr. Davies is said to have been the son of a weaver at Llanverres, in Brecknockshire.

⁸ A branch of the family of Gruffydd Derwas (descendants of his son Gwiliu) were seated for many generations in the parish of Cemmaes, adjoining to that of Mallwyd.

⁹ Robert ap Gruffydd, or Robert Griffiths Lloyd, as he was called, was buried on New Year's Day, 1618-9.

¹⁰ Rolant o Llanillyni is witness to a deed dated on the 1st of September, 4th James I., (1606).

¹¹ She was living on the 4th of October, 1652.

⁵ Robert Gruffydd ab David ap Robert of Bachysaint, is party to a deed dated on the 8th of July, 1578. Robert Gruffydd of Bachysaint, Esq, fourth in descent from Robert above mentioned, married Catherine, daughter, and at length heiress, of Evan Evans, Esq, of Fan-y-wlich, in Merionethshire. Bachysaint was then deserted for that beautiful residence. The heiress of the united houses, Margaret, only child of Evan Gruffydd, Esq, was the wife of William Oakeley, Esq, a brother of the late Charles Oakeley, Bart., and died in 1809. By their son, the late William Gruffydd Oakeley, Esq, Bachysaint was sold, within these few years, to William Ormsby Gore, Esq, of Parkington and Ctenney, the late owner.

⁴ Through the marriage of Catherine Maesmor with Peter Maurice, D.D., Dean of Bangor from 1727 to 1750, the Maesmor Estates passed into that family. Catherine, daughter and heiress of Peter Maurice, A.M., Prebendary of Penmyoydd, and Rector of Llanillochâ, (son of the Dean and Catherine) was the wife, first, of John Kyffin of Uchkeire, and, secondly, of Edward Lloyd of Trebant, Esq. The eldest surviving issue of the second marriage, Catherine Mary Margaretta, is the present owner of Maesmor. Her first husband was John Lewis Parry, Major in the Royal Marines, who died on the 8th of May, 1822; and she is now the wife of John Manners Kerr, Lieutenant-General in the Army.

⁵ Gwenwynyn ap Owen Gyveiliog appears, from a deed dated the 22nd of April, 30th Henry III., (1216), to have been then living.

JOHN DAVIES.

² Gruffydd ap Ifan ap Einion was of the line of Osborn Wyddel, and was one of the defenders of Harlech Castle, for the House of Lancaster, under his brother David, the constable of that fortress. See notes to Pengwern Ffestiniog pedigree.

⁴ The name of Humphrey's wife, daughter of Sir Richard Herbert, was Annae (Agnes).

David Lloyd Morgan, of Crogen, (doubtless the person who attests the pedigree)=Elizabeth Edwards 2nd wife, married before 12th October, 1597

Morgan Lloyd, of Crogen, Esq. (eldest son, there can be no doubt, of the above David Lloyd)=Margaret Moryrick. See page 127.

It is stated, in Davies's Display of Heraldry, printed at Salop in 1716, that the author had seen "in one book," the pedigree of this house linearly traced through Llewelyn ddu to Tudur ap Rees Sali, and that the mother of Llewelyn ddu was Gweryl, daughter to Llewelyn Vaughan, of the line of Owen Brogruytu. It would appear, from the way in which the arms of David ap Morgan are given in Lewis Dwan, that these of Llewelyn ddu and Owen Brogruytu were not the same. One, however, certainly of the houses (that of Hendwr), descended from Owen, changed their paternal bearing. Perhaps the same may have been the case here, and the arms of Owen, afterwards given by this family quarterly with their more modern coat. See more relative to this pedigree, at another page.

² See note to preceding pedigree.³ See Caerlygell pedigree.⁴ See Penegwern and Festiniog.⁵ See Rhaiwas.

⁷ Ucheldrev, in the parish of Gwyddelwern, consists of sixteen farms and very extensive meadows, affording good grouse shooting. — Ed.⁸ Quere, Caerlyg (Holyhead)? See Vol. I. p. 126.

² Edmond ap Meirig was instituted to the Archdeaconry of Merioeth about the year 1560, and died in 1605, being then possessed of the Prebend of Bokenhall, in the Church of Lichfield, the Sinecure of Corwen, and the Chancellery of Bangor, together with the first-mentioned dignity. See Willis's St. Asaph. His will is in the Prescriptive Court Registry, 49 Stafford, proved in 1613, long after his decease; and letters of administration of goods not administered, granted in 1617 to William Green of Hebeging, county of Warwick, during the minority of Gely and Elizabeth Mericke. His executors were—Rowland Mericke, Esq. son and heir of Sir Gely Mericke; Sir Simon Weston, Knight; Sir John Conway, Knight; the Rev. Harry Mericke, A.M.; the Countess of Essex, Rev. M^r. Evans, and a M^r. Snaupe. His surviving children, Peter, George, Gely, Elizabeth, and Grace, are all mentioned in the will.—Eo.

⁶ Peter son of Edm^d Meirick, gent. bapt: 12 Feb. (Thursday) 1623-4. Edmond Meirick is styled here Gent., though, at an earlier period in the Registers, Esquire; but the same person is intended, as is proved by a pedigree, carrying down the descent of the family to a later period than that in Lewis Dwan's Visitation.

⁷ Elin, daughter of Edm^d Meirick, of Ddolevryn, Gent. bapt: 16 Ap 1625. Dorothy, daughter of D^r bur^r 11th May 1626.

⁸ Gely, son of D^r bapt: 10th Aug. 1622.

⁹ Edmond, son of Edm^d Meirick, by Joett his wife bapt: 11th June 1636.

The last generation has, probably, been added to Lewis Dwan's pedigree, since it was originally compiled; but there is no reason to suppose that this may not have been done by himself. Ucheldrev continued in the possession of the Meirick family till about the middle of the 18th century, when it became, as is supposed, by bequest, the property of the Kyffins of Maenan, in Denbighshire. From them it passed by marriage to the Kenricks of Nantwyd, its present possessors.

¹¹ Probably son of Archdeacon Prys. See a future page.

¹² Margaret, daughter of D^r Meirick, is probably meant.

¹³ Trethraeth, or Newport, in Pembrokeshire.—Ed.

¹⁵ Dafydd ab Gwillm is, doubtless, the same person as is called Gruffydd ap Gwillm immediately above.

¹⁶ See Gwyfyrin.

¹⁷ Probably Llanegwneidell, in the county of Anglesey.

¹⁸ D^r. Rolant Tomas was a fellow of Magdalen College, Cambridge, and was instituted to the Deanery of Bangor in 1576. By his will, dated on the 3d of January, 1586-7, he directs his body to be buried in Bangor Cathedral, near his predecessor, Robert Evans.

⁶ Mam Ivan ap Sr Gruffydd Lloyd. This statement does not agree with the pedigree at another page; indeed, the descents of this Ivan, given at several pages of this work, differ in many respects.

¹⁰ At page XXXI, this marriage is assigned to the son.—Ed.

¹ Ienwnt Gruffydd, or Edmund Griffith. He was an illegitimate son of William Griffith, Esq., of Penryn, Chamberlain of North Wales, called also Gwilim Vyechan, and William Vyechan. Edmund Griffith is the same person as is styled Edmund Gwilim Vyechan at page 131. His wife, a daughter of Meredith ap Ievan ab Robert, Esq., of Gweydir, was married secondly to Sir John Puleston, Knight.

² According to the Tiscrosson MS., the eldest son of Edmund Griffith was named George.

³ George Sparrow, or Sparrow. A family of this name have been for several generations the possessors of Bodelythen, in Anglesey.

⁴ William Griffith purchased Carregloyd, in Anglesey, for £700, which is still the property of his representative, though not in the male line. His wife was Elizabeth, a daughter of Griffith ap Robert of Carme, in the same county. He was instituted to the Rectory of Llanaethle on the 20th of May, 1544, and deprived of it in 1554, on account of his being married, but was restored to the living in 1558. He died in 1587.

⁵ Owen Owen, Archdeacon of Bangor. See Hobbslin.

⁸ Heilin ap Sir Tudur is grantee in a charter of Prince Llewelyn ap Griffith, dated at Dolwyddelan, on the next Thursday before the feast of St. Lawrence, 1281.

William, (it is doubtful whether he was younger than Edmaud,) & several daughters, of whom Agnes was wife of Sir Roland Velville, natural son of Heo. 7. Her will is dated 16 Dec: 1542, & was proved at Bangor 15 Dec: 1543.

Catherine, dau. = Roland Griffith Esq of Plas = Annes, dau. of Merelith ap Ievan ap Robert. 1541, 1543, 1553, in which year he died. Two daughters. John (or = George) of Talyhoat. Elin Bulkeley. Robert, Constable of Carmarvon, M.P. for the Carmarvonshire Boroughs in 1558, married Elinth Sparrow. See for his issue, p. 130. William, Rector of Llanfachtyl, 1544. (near^e Elinth dau. of Griffith ap Robert) and, according to Lewis Dwnn, other issue.

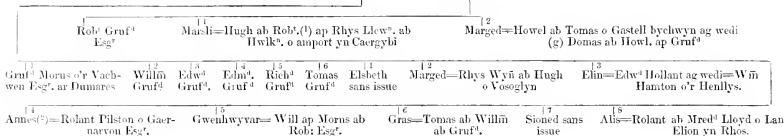

⁴ He was M.P. for Beaumaris in the second Parliament of Edward VI. (1553.) According to the Tacrocion MS., his wife was Alice, daughter of William Bulkeley of Beaumaris. It will be seen that, at another page, his nephew of the same name is stated to have married Alice, daughter of William Bulkeley, Gent.; and the children, which, in the MS. above cited, are given to Morris Griffith, the uncle, are, at that page, made the issue of his nephew. I am unable to say which pedigree is the correct one. In Lewis Dwnn's pedigree, the elder individual is styled of Fachwon, probably in Anglesey; and in the Tacrocion MS., he and his descendants appear as of that place.

⁶ Richard Gruffydd of Cefn-y-firwen, in Anglesey, and is party to a deed dated the 20th of October, 1524.

⁴ Morus Gruffydd, or Plas Newydd, Esg., was Sheriff of Anglesey, in 1502, and was living on the 4th of June, 1602. He conveyed Plas Newydd, either by sale or mortgage, to Sir Henry Bagnall. The heiress of the Bagnalls was married to Lewis Bayley, Bishop of Bangor, from 1631 to 1651. His lineal descendant, the Margaris of Anglesey, whose ancestor, Sir Nicholas Bayley, assumed the surname of Paget, from his marriage with Caroline, daughter and heir of Thomas Lord Paget, is the possessor of this place. Maurice Griffith was seated, but probably not till after the alienation of Plas Newydd to Sir Henry Bagnall, at Llanvair Isawr, on the opposite bank of the Mona. A letter from him is dated at Llanvair, in 1602. Through the marriage of his grand-daughter, Mary, daughter of Robert Griffith, with Edward Wyn, of Talrydd, in Merionethshire, the Llanvair estate passed into that family, and from them, again, by marriage, to Hugh Griffith, Esq. of Brynodd, in Llyn, who was born on the 14th February, 1726. He was Sheriff of Carnarvonshire in 1770; his son, John Griffith, Esq., in 1813.

³ William Bulkeley, of Portham, Esq., represented in Lodge's Pedigree of Ireland as fourth son, was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1544.

⁴ William Bulkeley, Esq., of Hotoerft, was Constable of Beaumaris in the reign of Henry VI., and is stated in Lodge's to have prevented Richard, Duke of York, from landing in Anglesey, on his return from Ireland to join the Earl of Warwick against the King. According to the same author, he died in 1414.

first wife of Sir William Norris, of Espoake (Spoke), in Lancashire; and Margaret, married on the 12th of June, 1531, to George Beoth, Esq. of Dunham, in Cheshire, of whom she was the first wife, and died without issue. There was also another daughter, Catherine, whose will is dated the 10th of November, 1559. See page 134. Sir Richard Bulkeley (the second) was knighted at Berwick by the Earl of Warwick, in the first year of Edward VI., (Cotton Mss. Claudius C. III.), and was M.P. for Anglesey, in the second parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which commenced on the 11th of January, 1562-3. He was Sheriff for Carnarvonshire in 1559 and 1558, for Anglesey in 1561, and died in 1569. Sir Richard Bulkeley, eldest son of the above, was M.P. for Anglesey, in the parliament which commenced on the 2nd of April, 1571, and in the first and second parliaments of James I. (1603, 1614). He was Sheriff for Anglesey in 1570, and was knighted on Shrove Sunday (17th February), 1579, at Whitehall, the day preceding his wedding. (Cotton Mss. Claudius C. III.) He died on the 28th of June, 1621, and was buried at Deconmar. He was also constable of Beaumaris: letters patent, appointing him to that office, bear date 28th May, 1561. He is styled in those "Rich^d Bulkeley, son and heir of Sir Richard Bulkeley." He was twice married, first to Catherine, daughter of Sir William Davenport, of Bramhall, in the county of Chester; and, secondly, to Mary, second daughter of William, Lord Borough, of Gainsborough, in the county of Lincoln. His second son, of the second marriage, Thomas, was created a Peer of Ireland, by the title of Viscount Bulkeley of Cobelin, on the 6th of June, 1643, which title became extinct on the death of Thomas James, the seventh Viscount, in 1822. The issue of the second, Sir Richard Bulkeley, by his second wife, Agnes Needham, were, according to Lodge, Launcelot, Arthur, and Tristram, who all died young; George and Edward; Launcelot, Archbishop of Dublin; Arthur, Vicar of Coedana, and Thomas; and two daughters, as in Lewis Dwen, excepting that Grisel was the elder. Arthur Bulkeley's name, however, does not appear in the list of Rectors of Llan Eilian, with the chapels attached to it of Coedana, &c. in Rowland's Mona. Coedana is not a Vicarage. Hugh Bulkeley, of Beaumaris, gentleman, and William Bulkeley, gentleman, sons of Thomas Bulkeley, deceased, are parties to a deed, dated 20th September, 1574. Mary, wife of the said Thomas, is mentioned as living, in a bond of the same date.

¹ Sir Henry Poore of Berham, in Denbighshire, Constable of the Castle of Maryborough, and Knight Marshal of Ireland; created Viscount Valentia on the 1st of March, 1620. He died without issue, on the 25th of May, 1642, his wife on the 4th of September, 1641, and she was buried on the 17th, in St. Patrick's, Dublin.—See Lodge.

² Launcelot Bulkeley was instituted to the Rectory of Llanddyfnan on the 15th of November, 1593, and to that of Llandegfan on the 4th of March following. On the 11th of August, 1619, he was appointed to the Archbishopric See of Dublin. He died on the 8th of September, 1639, in his 82d year, and was buried in St. Patrick's Cathedral.

³ Should be Rowland Thirkens.

⁴ Arthur Bulkeley of Coedana, Esq., was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1598.

⁵ There is either a word omitted here, or it should be Griffith ap Grono Lloyd ap y Penwyn. Grono Lloyd ap Penwyn was one of the jury for taking the extent of Nant Conwy, on the next Monday after the festival of the translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 20th of Edward III. (3th July, 1352.)

⁶ Heald Molywyn, called also, according to the Cambrian Biography, Hydd Molywyn, or Hydd ab Olywyn. In the same work, it is stated that he lived about the end of the seventh century; but the following notice of this chieftain, by which it would appear that he lived at a much later period, occurs in the Harleian Mss. No. 2288.—"Heath Molywynne one of the 15 Tribes of North Wales, Lord of C'weh Dulais in [Denbighshire].—His name Heath signifies a Hind [which] he bore for his Arms, & [he] was with Llywelyn ap Iorwerth in the great expedition he made into England when he burned several towns unto Lleicesterhire Anne as Mr. Vaughan of Hengwri."

Taylor of Brynkymallt in Denbighshire, wrote the following epitaph on Eva, his grandmother:—

"Here lies by name the world's mother,
By nature my aunt—sister to my mother;
By law my grandmother—mother to my mother;
My great-grandmother—mother to my grandmother;
All this may be without breach of consanguinity."

See Historical Essay on the Isle of Anglesey, in the Cymmellion for 1892, page 25.

² In the History of the Isle of Anglesey, by Miss Anglward Llwyd, occurs the following account of this person:—"This knight," says Lewis Dwnn, "was usher of the palace of Sheen (Richmond) in the early part of the reign of Henry VI. and thus required his absence from his native country for such a length of time that he acquired the name of Saïs." Llywelyn his grandson fought on the field of Bosworth; and his two handed sword and salletlar are still preserved at Bodorgan,³ as was his salade within the memory of several persons. Upon the death of the late Owen Fattland Meyrick, Esq., Bodorgan and its extensive possession passed under his will to his grandson, Owen John Augustus Fuller, Esq., only son of his eldest daughter, Clara, by her marriage with Augustus Elliott Fuller, Esq., of Ashdown House, Sussex. He has adopted the additional surname of Meyrick, was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1827, and is the present proprietor.

Amongst the Rectors of Llanbeulan occurs the name of Morgan Hughes, (probably this person), whose successor, upon his death, was instituted to that living, January 23d, 1542-3.

⁴ At another page, she is called Jane. She had a sister named Mallt.

⁵ A Poem by Howel Kilan, a poet who wrote between 1450 and 1490, upon the sons of Llewelyn ap Hwlkin, is extant. They are thus named,—Hugh, Lewis, David, Gruffydd, Rhys. Rhys was appointed Sheriff of Anglesey for life. He is witness to a deed dated the 12th of January, 2d of Richard III., (1485.)

of Llyshals, according to the Taicrosson MS., his first wife, he had an only daughter, Ann, (wife of Colonel Hugh Owen of Bodowen,) who built the Bodowen Chapel, adjoining Llangadwalader Church, in 1691. By Elin, above mentioned, daughter and heiress of John Wynn, son of Owen Wynn, at a future page; he had a son, John Williams, A.M., father of Griffith Williams. ² Lewis Glyn Cothi addressed an Ode to her, in which he requests the gift of a coverlet, owing to the inhabitants of Chester having plundered him of his household furniture; in which, alluding to her splendour, he pays her many flattering compliments. The name of her grandfather, Hwlkyn, is a contraction of Hwlwyn, the diminutive of Hwyl. Her father was the ancestor of the Lewises of Pysgodwell, which is still a fine ancient mansion in the parish of Bod Edeygn, to one of whom, Hugh Lewis, the bard has addressed another Ode.—Ed.

⁵ Davydd ap Rhys, Esq. was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1550 and 1567, and died in 1574.

⁶ Wiliam Lewis, Esq. was probably of Glasgow.

⁸ This is a mistake. Davyd Lloyd, who married Dorothy, daughter of Robert Wynn of Brynkr, was not son of Davydd ap Gwiliam, but of his grandson Davydd ap Rhys, though Davydd ap Gwiliam probably had a son of the same name. It will be seen that Davydd Lloyd is styled at a future page, "ap Davydd ap Rhys." At another page he is also improperly represented as a son of Davydd ap Gwiliam.

⁹ Two ap Davydd had also another daughter, Anne, who was married to Morris, one of the sons of Iwan ap John ap Meredith of Brynkr. Her husband died in 1563.

¹⁰ The arms of Tegrin ap Carwed, the founder of this family, were, Or, a falcon surmount azure, beaked &c. on.

² The arms borne by this family are those of the tribe of Llowarch ab Bran v: namely, Argent, a chevron between 3 crosses, each bearing a "Queen of Ferns" in its bill, sable.

³ Gwenllian was a daughter of Rhys, commonly called the Lord Rhys, who died in 1197, grandson of Rhys ap Tewdwr.

¹ Of the line of Hwfa ap Cynddelw.² According to the Talorcision MS. the mother of Griffith ap William was Margaret, daughter of Richard Owen Tudor, Esq. (or Richard Owen, hen) of Penmynydd.³ This pedigree is very confusedly drawn. In the above quoted MS. William ap Griffith appears to have had a brother, John, and two sisters of the names of Catherine and Annes; but the statement there given, as regards their marriages, is very different from that in Lewis Dwnn: the husband of Catherine is stated to have been John ap Hugh of Bodewyd, and of Annes, Edward Meredith, curate of Llanfichroth. It should be observed, however, that no such person as John ap Hugh occurs in the Bodewyd pedigree.

⁵ For the earlier part of this pedigree see also page 104, (Bellach plant Cynedda Wledig), and notes thereto; also, Bodeid Roldri Mawr, page 98, where there is a difference as regards one generation (Dwyg being omitted) from the line as given here.

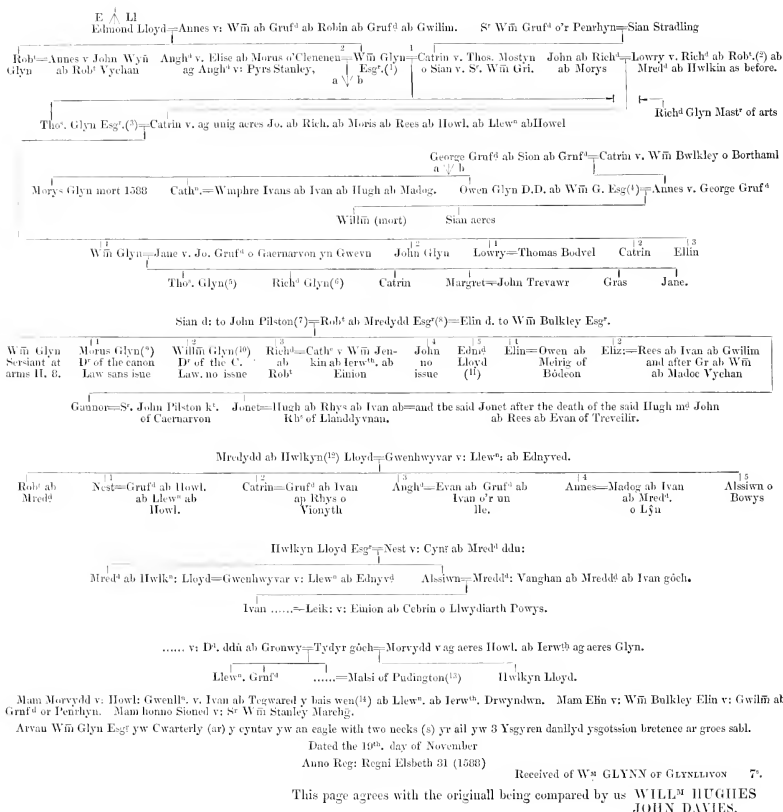

⁶ Cilin Droetu was the stock of one of the tribes of North Wales. He lived in the time of Merlyn Frych, King of Man (Merlyn was slain in 843), being his brother's son, and came with his uncle from the North of Britain, when Merlyn married the Princess Esgyl. He lived at Gyrffulon. The arms of this tribe are—1st, Argent, an eagle displayed with two heads salde; 2nd, Argent, three very ragged sticks gules; the third as the second, the fourth as the first. Over all, upon an escutcheon argent, a man's leg, coupe à la cuisse, sable. See account of the Fifteen Tribes of Wales, in the Cambrian Register, Vol. I.

² See a future page.

⁵ William Glyn was living in the 17th year of James I. (1615).

⁷ The last generation, and the issue of Thomas Glyn, have probably been added to this pedigree since the date of its attestation; certainly the marriage of Lowri, daughter of William Glynne with Robert Owen has, for that did not take place till about twenty years subsequently. These additions, however, may very possibly have been made by Lewis Duan. Thomas Glynne was Sheriff of Carnarvonshire in 1627, and died in 1659.

Besides the daughters named in the pedigree, he had several sons, the eldest of whom, William, was entered at Brasen Nose College, Oxford, on the 9th of December, 1631, aged 18. Lowry, the wife of Robert Owen of Ymaugeid, died in 1655. Rhys ap Robert, or Rhys Wyn, of Grianog, for he adopted that surname, the husband of Jane Glynne, died in 1656.

² In the magnificent church of Glynog, in Carnarvonshire, is the following inscription to the memory of the second William Glynm:—

"He Jaet Willelmus Glyn de Llear armiger, qui sepultus fuit vicesimo die Maii, Anno Domini 1699."

From the effigies of his children, upon his monument, it appears that he had in all twelve. The eldest son of the third William Glynm, Thomas, seems to have died before his father, without issue, for the father's successor was another William, who died in 1610. The daughter and heiress of this last William was married to Colonel George Twisleton, whose tomb is also in the church of Glynog, and upon it the following inscription:—

"Sub hoc tumulo Invet corpus Georgii Twisleton de Llear in Com. Carnarvan, filii Johannis Twisleton de Aula Barlow in Agro Eboracensi, Armigeri, qui obiit 12 die Maii, A.D. 1697 ætatis sue 49."—In the middle of the tomb are his arms, viz. Azure, a Chevron Sable between three Moles of the 2nd, with a Mullet for Difference, and underneath this inscription:—

"In Spem Resurrectionis sub hoc quoque Invet corpus Marie Twisleton uxoris Georgii Twisleton supradicti, filie et heredis Galcham Glyn de Llear in Com. Carnarvan. Ann. que obiit 8 die Junii A.D. 1676."

Mary Twisleton, third in descent from the above-mentioned George, succeeded to the property of this branch of the Glyn family. She was married to Captain William Ridsdale, of Ripon, in Yorkshire, who sold the estates of his wife to Sir Thomas Wynn, of Glynllwain, and was killed at Dettingen in 1745.

⁶ Sir Roger Puleston, Knight (husband of Angharad, as she is called, but her name was Margaret). This name occurs in the family records, from the 15th of July, 5th

Edward II. (1311), to the 4th of Edward III. He is said to have died in the 13th year of that monarch. His wife was living in the 17th of Edward II.

² Robert Puleston, Esq, was examined as a witness in the controversy between the families of Scrope and Grosvenor, relative to the Scrope arms; and it appears, from his evidence, that he was born in or immediately about the year 1358. His wife was a sister of the celebrated Owen Glyndwr, whose father was Griffith Vychan of Glyndyfrdy—Glyndwr; and his brother also gave evidence in the above-mentioned controversy. Robert Puleston forfeited the Ennal estate for joining in the rebellion of his brother-in-law, but it was restored to him.

oide addressed to him by Lewys Glyn Cothi is described as a distinguished and powerful warrior, possessed of great wealth, a noble mansion, and ample territory.—En.

⁵ Sir John Puleston was constable of the Castle of Carnarvon, and died in 1551. In the Cambrian Quarterly Magazine, Vol. V., page 276, is a curious inventory of the stores in Carnarvon Castle, taken after his death, on the 25th of February, 5th of Edward VI.

³ See note, page 118. If it be true, as stated in the Cambrian Biography, that Edmowen Bendew lived about the middle of the 11th century, and, as is said, Elystan was born in 933, Edmowen's grand-daughter could not have been one of Elystan's wives. In one pedigree that I have seen, Gwladys is represented as mother of Cadwgan, and Cadwgan's wife named Jane; only one, the daughter of Brochwel, being mentioned.

⁴ Iestyn ap Gwrgan was a Prince of Glamorganshire in the eleventh century, and the stock of one of the Five Royal Tribes of Wales.

⁵ Ierwerth ap Owen Brogyntyn lived in the reign of Henry III., so his daughter could not have been wife of Idnerth, who must have lived at a period considerably

earlier; unless it be true, as stated in a note on the face of the pedigree, that Idnerth was not the son of Cadwgan. (In the Talceosion MS. Idnerth is styled "ap Llewelyn Lord of Buellt ap Cadwgan ap Elystan;" but this additional generation makes little difference as regards the anachronism above-mentioned). Nor could Eldir ap Owen have married a great-grand-daughter of Einion ap Seisyllt, who was certainly contemporary with Llewelyn the Great, who died in 1240, if he was only third in descent from Cadwgan, son of Elystan, and the latter was born in 933.

¹ William Thomas, Esq. ap Rhys, was Sheriff of Carmarvonshire in 1581, and M.P. for that county in the fifth Parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which commenced on the 23d November, 1555. He commanded, under the Earl of Leicester, two hundred of his countrymen in the low countries, and was slain at Zutphen in 1586, in the same skirmish in which Sir Philip Sidney fell. Thomas's widow, Elin, was living in February, 5th of Elizabeth (1555), and was then the wife of Richard Gyweo, Esq. (or Wynn as he is sometimes called), afterwards Sir Richard, of whom the following notice occurs in some memoirs by Sir John Wynn of Gwedir, Bart. of remarkable Welshness, mostly contemporary with him:—"Sir Richard Wynn, of Carmarvon, Knight, of the house of Brynker; captain of a hundred men in Ireland; provost martial of Flushing, under Sir Philip Sydney; sometime page to Captain Borehall, who was slain in the north of Ireland, whose armour he brought to Sir Henry Sydney, then Lord Deputy of Ireland, whose follower he was all his life after; and after his death, and for his sundry good services, being knighted; and, after having got the widow of Captain Thomas afore-mentioned in the country, lived at Carmarvon all the rest of his time. He was one of the council of the marches; keeping a very worthy house, being a religious, honest, and true-hearted man to his friend, having always in his mouth this saying, 'Daw a dweidd da,' which in English is, 'God and a good end,' which no question God did hear, for he made a Christian and a good end; as Gwedydd Williams, Doctor in Divinity, now living, being his ghostly father at his end, and respecting which, also, the Rev. Father, Lewis [Lewis Bayly, Bishop of Bangor from 1616 to 1631], now Bishop of Bangor, preaching the funeral sermon of William Glynan, of Glynafon, knight, did remember, persuading all to the imitation of him."

² Sir William Thomas, knight, was under age on the 8th February, 25th Elizabeth (1553), and at that time "her Majesty's ward," and owner of property in the counties of Carmarvon, Carmarthen, and Anglesey. He was Sheriff of Carmarvonshire in 1603. In 1616 he was the owner, with other lands, of Coeshelen, now the property of his descendant. His "chief Mansion House" was in Carmarvon. He died in 1623.

⁸ He was Rector of Aber and Aberffraw—to the latter of which livings he was instituted on the 29th June, 1601; and his successor, upon his death, March 29, 1644, William Thomas had also another son, Griffith, supposed to have been younger than John, but senior to Herbert, and three daughters, who were all married. Griffith was married to Margaret, daughter and heiress of David Arowsmith, and is party to a deed, dated 29th December, 1614, to which Herbert Thomas, William Thomas, and John Thomas, are witnesses. Griffith Thomas was alive on the 22d March, 1631-1. He left issue. The present Rice Thomas, Esq. of Coed Helen, is lineally descended from Robert, third son of Sir William. John, the eldest, was disinherited; but his only son, Richard, died without issue, as certainly did one, and probably both the sons of William, Sir William's second son. The arms of Sir William Thomas, it appears from the Harleian MS., 1975, were, argent, on a cross salt, three crescents, Or, in the dexter chief a spear head erect, gules.

³ Here lieth the body of Wm, Griffith Esq, the son of Sir Wm. Griffith K^t, who died Nov: 28, 1587, and Marg^t his wife, Daughter of John Wynne ap Meredith, Esq: who built this Tomb 1695. — He was Sheriff for Carnarvonshire in 1563.

⁶ William Gruffydd, Doctor of the Law, was M.P. for the town of Carnarvon, in the sixth Parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which met on the 29th October, 1585.

⁷ The following mention of Captain Morys Gruffydd occurs in the Memoir by Sir John Wynn, of Gwydir, before referred to (page 152):— For martial men, our age hath produced, out of this county (Carnarvonshire), Sir Manria Griffith, Knight, born in the town of Carnarvon, and one of the younger sons of William Griffith. He served in the realm of Ireland all his youth, and was captain there; and for his good service received his degree (probably his commission); and liveth at this time in Conchast castle, which himself built, and is called Bala me Rusk; and he is one of the council of the province.

¹¹ Gruffydd Maelor, Lord of both Breinfellets and Yale, in Denbighshire. His son, Madoc, founded the Abbey of Vale Crucis about the year 1200.

JOHN DAVIES.

¹ The title of Sir William Morys has been added subsequently to the date of this pedigree, for he had not then been knighted. ("Sir William Morys, of Carnarvonshire," was "dubbed" knight, at Whitehall, on the 23d July, 1603.—Nichols' Progresses of King James I.) He was born in or immediately about the year 1540; Sheriff of Carnarvonshire in 1582 and 1590; for Merionethshire in 1594 and 1600; M.P. for Carnarvonshire to the Parliament which met on the 19th November, 1592; and in that which began on the 19th March, 1603-4; for Beaumaris in the last Parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which met on the 7th October, 1601. Sir William was also one of the council in the Marches of Wales, and it is probable Constable of the Castle of Harlech. He died in August, 1622, and is buried at Penmaen. He was three times married, but had issue only by his first wife, Margaret Lacon, of Pokington. His second lady was Elin, daughter and co-heiress of Hugh ap Llewelyn, relict of John Lewis of Chwain; she was living in 1528. His third wife, to whom he was married between June 8, 1604, and June 8, 1605, was Jane, relict of Sir Thomas Jones of Abermaris, in the county of Carmarthen, knight, daughter and heiress of Rowland Puleston, Esq. of Carnarvon. She was living in 1622.

² Margaret, sole heiress of John Lacon, was heiress of Pokington, in Shropshire, and was buried at Sallatyn, on the 25th February, 1571-2. The Lacons, for several generations the possessors of Pokington, it is believed, were descended from an illegitimate branch of a family of that name, seated at Earl, near Wem, from a very early period. Sir Richard Lacon, knight, witnessed the Earl of Arundel's charter to Oswestry in the eighth year of Henry IV.

³ John Morys was of Beddgelert, and is styled also John Wynn Morys. A settlement, made subsequently to his marriage, is dated the 10th July, 27th of Elizabeth, (1585). He was living in August, 1622. Morys, the eldest son of John Morys, adopted the surname of Wynne, and was living in April, 1625.

⁴ Elizam ap Morys was living in January, 1576-7.

⁶ Thomas ap Owen Gwuffydd, Esq. (of Plasid), served the office of Sheriff for Carnarvonshire in 1609, and was living in 1575.

⁷ Robert Sunli (Sontley), Esq. of Sontley, in Denbighshire, was living in January 1577-8.

⁸ Anne, wife of Robert Wynm ap Elize, Esq., commonly called Robert Wynn Brynker (see Brynker), was under the age of twenty-one on the 23d January, 1576-7.

¹¹ He died in 1606, before the 20th of June. His widow, and his son Elizam Morys, then a minor, were living on the 1st September in that year. John Morys was ancestor to the Moryses, formerly seated at Ynweith, in the parish of Penmaen.

¹² William Lewis (of Chwain wen) was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1604, and was living in August, 1622.

¹⁴ Elizam Morys was baptized at Sallatyn, 21st June, 1552, and died in 1594, prior to the 11th July.

¹⁵ Elin, wife of John Owen, o Fodslin, was heiress of Clewney and Pokington; he was a younger son of Owen ap Robert, of Bodslin, in Carnarvonshire. They were married, probably, in 1595 or 1596. He was living on the 16th February, 24th James I. (1611-12), but dead before the 2nd of June, 1614. She married, secondly, subsequently to the 12th April, 1616, the Hon. Sir Francis Eure, Chief Justice of North Wales, a son of William, Lord Eure, and grandfather, by an other marriage, of George and Ralph, the seventh and eighth Lords. Sir Francis died in April 1621, and was buried at Sallatyn; she was buried at the same place, on the 14th of September, 1626. By her first husband she had several children, of whom the eldest son was the celebrated Royalist, Sir John Owen, of Clewney, who died in 1659, in his 66th year. Her issue, by her second husband, was a son, Compton Eure.

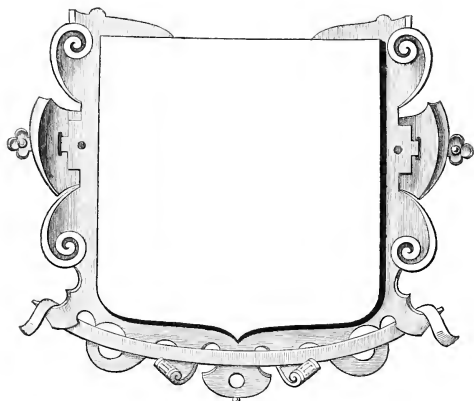

¹⁶ Marged, wife of Ellis Brynker. See Brynker. They were married prior to the 24th October, 1598. He died in 1628. She was remarried to William Glyn, Esq. of Llewyr; and was living, a second time a widow, in 1641.

¹⁸ Elizam ap Sion ap Morys's name does not appear elsewhere: perhaps a mistake for Morys ap Sion ap Morys.

¹⁹ The first quartering in the armorial bearings of the Maurice (de Clewney) family, were those of Prince Owen Gwynedd—vert, three eagles displayed, in fess, or.

² In the Earl's pedigree, Morydd is called forth Iorwerth gôch. It should, however, be as here. The will of Morydd was proved in 1148.

cesters, and he was one of the Captains, who laid waste the Duke of York's estates in Denbigh Land.” He died, “being but one and thirtieth years of age.”

⁵ See Bron y Ffwd.

² Morys Wynn represented the county of Carmarvon, in the Parliaments which commenced on October 5th, 1553; April 30th, 1554; January 23rd, 1558-9; and January 11th, 1562-3. He was Sheriff of Carmarthen in 1555, 1570, and 1575. He died on the 10th of August, 1589, and was buried at Dolwyddelan. He had been thrice married: first, to Jane Bulkeley; secondly, to Ann, daughter of Edward Geville, Esq. of Mileote, county of Warwick; and, thirdly, to Catherine, daughter and heiress of Tudor ab Robert of Berain, the celebrated Catherine of Berain.—See Pennant.

³ Sir John Wynn, Knight, represented the county of Carmarvon in the Parliament which met on the 22nd October, 1589; was Sheriff for that county in 1578 and 1609; for Merionethshire in 1589 and 1601; and was created a Baronet in 1611. He was also one of the Council in the Marches of Wales. He died on the 1st March, 1626 (probably 1626-7), aged 73, and was buried at Llancarvet. Sir John was author of the History of the Gweilar Family, edited by the Hon. Daines Barrington, and published in 1770. His widow, Sydney, died on the 8th June, 1632, and was also buried at Llancarvet. "Dawsoner," signifies Downshire.

⁴ John Wynn, the eldest son of Sir John, died before his father, at Lucea, in 1614, in his thirtieth year. Catherine, the daughter of John Wynn, probably died young, for in no other place than in this pedigree have I seen her mentioned.

⁵ Richard Wynn, the second son, succeeded his father in the Baronetcy. He was Gentleman of the Privy Chamber to Charles I. when Prince of Wales, and attended him to Spain in 1623. He was afterwards Treasurer to Queen Henrietta Maria; and, though married, died without issue, on the 19th July, 1619, in his sixty-first year, the title and estates devolved upon his next surviving brother, Owen.

Lord Lieutenant of Carmarthenshire, through his mother, eldest sister and heiress to the last Duke of Ancaster.

⁷ Robert Wynn, fifth son, entered into holy orders, and died in 1617, in his twenty-fourth year.

⁹ Elsbeth was married to Sir John Bodell, Knight, of Bodell, in Carmarthenshire.

¹⁰ William Wynn was Prothonotary of North Wales. (See another page). He married Jane, daughter and heiress of Thomas Lloyd, of Gwern-y-broeddydd and Garthgwyn, and by her had issue. His male descendants became extinct in the second generation. His eldest surviving daughter, Sydney, was married to Edward Thwalby, Esq. of Plas-y-wald, in Denbighshire; their eldest daughter and heiress, Jane, to Sir William Williams, Bart. of Llanerddin, in Stroudshire; and the eldest son of this marriage was Watkin Williams, Esq., to whom Sir John Wynn of Wynnystay, the last inheritor of the Baronetcy, conferred upon Sir John Wynn in 1611, bequeathed his estates. Mr. Williams assumed the additional surname of Wynn, and, succeeding to his father's title, was the first Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. He was killed by a fall from his horse in 1749.

¹² Ellis is buried at Whitford, in the county of Flint.

¹³ He married Catherine, daughter and heiress of Ellis Lloyd, Esq. of Rhiwgoch, in Merionethshire; and, lying on the 27th July, 1671, was buried in the Temple Church, London. Sir John Wynn, the first Baronet of this family, was the son of Harri and Catherine Lloyd. He married Jane, daughter and heiress of Eytan Evans, Esq., of Watstay, the name of which place he changed to Wynnystay, but by her had no issue. He died in 1718, at the age of 61, and bequeathed all his property, acquired both by inheritance and through his marriage, to his kinsman, Watkin Williams, Esq., as is before mentioned.

¹⁴ He was buried at Cowsay, 30th November, 1598.

¹⁵ From Robert Wynn, and Catherine, his wife, it is believed that Rice Wynn, Esq. the present eminent surgeon of Shrewsbury, is lineally descended.

² Sr. Bromy-Eol.
The children of Mredydd ap Iwan, according to his great-grandson, Sir John Wyn¹, were as follows:—By his first wife, William, who died without issue, John, R: & Rhodri; and the rest as in Lewis Duan. Cadwallar was died before the 14th June, 78, but his widow, Janet, daughter of Thomas ap Morris, was the youngest of his children, legitimate children more are given by Lewis Duan than by Sir John Wynn. See History of the Gwydir Family. Griffith ap Meredith ap Iwan ap Robt¹, read less another son, but whether legitimate or not is unknown, is party to a conveyance to property in the neighbourhood of some of the Gwydir estates, dated 8. 8. 1608, 124 in Henry VIII. (1570).

³ Cadwric, here stated to have married John ap David ap Madog of Tregeron, and whose first mother of Thomas John Gent (Tuan Sion Catt), is generally supposed to be the same as the maternal daughter of Sir John Wynne of Gwydir. It appears, however, by the above, that she was the issue of Sir John Wynn's co-wife, Sioned. Mredydd ap Iwan ap Robt¹, which agrees with the account given by Thomas Jones (G.O.C. 88, Vol. I., page 16). Cathrine was most probably born when he was was considerably advanced in years, and allowing about twenty-four or thirty years to intervene before the birth of her son, ample time would be given for him to have reached years of maturity, and to have acquired celebrity as an accomplished Welsh herald, before the period he furnished Lewis Duan with his pedigree, 1588. Sir John Wynne and Thomas Jones were contemporaries; the former died in 1628, aged 78, and the latter was alive in 1613.—Ed.

⁴ See also Parke and Massmor.

⁵ Iwan ap John ap Meredith, and Robert, his son and heir, are parties to a deed, dated 5th of August, 17th Henry VIII. (1525).

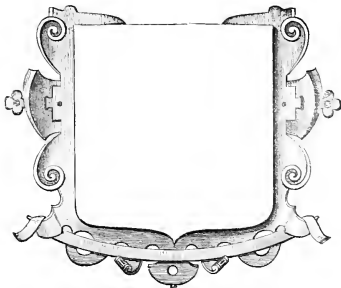

⁶ Elise ap Robert Wyn died in May, 1568. His mother was Margaret Wynn, daughter of Robert ap Griffith ap Rhys, of Dinmael.

⁷ Robert Wynn ap Iwan is here meant.

⁸ Robert Wynn, who certifies the pedigree, was the first of his family who adopted the surname of Brynkir, and was latterly always called Robert Wynn Brynkir. He was under the age of 21, on the 23d January, 1570-7; Sheriff of Carmarshire in 1593, and died in 1616. His second son, William, was entered at Oxford in 1599, graduated B.A., was Rector of Llanistyn and Llansgawny, and died about 1627. Robert Wynn Brynkir had also a daughter named Amy, who was born probably after this pedigree was compiled.

This page agrees wth y^o original being compared by us WM HUGHES
 JOHN DAVIES.

¹ This passage must have been added long subsequently to the date of the pedigree, for at that time the wife of Ellis Brynkr could have been but a mere child. In no other account of this family have I seen it stated that he had a son named Richard. His issue, according to the best authorities, were as follows:—Robert, who married Winifred, daughter of Thomas ap Rees Wynan of Giler, and died in the same year as his father, leaving an only daughter, Mary, who died an infant in 1631; James, born about 1600, who succeeded to the estate on the death of his niece, and died on the 29th June, 1644, leaving issue; William, who was killed at Newbury during the civil wars; John; and Jane, who was married to William Glynn, Esq. of Llear: she, unless there was another daughter, was born on the 24th of May, 1610—certainly the wife of Ellis Brynkr gave birth to a daughter on that day. Ellis Brynkr was Sheriff for Carmarthen in 1624, and died in 1628. His widow, Margret, daughter of William Maurice, Esq. of Clonmoy, was remarried to William Glynn, Esq. of Llear (father, by another wife, of William Glynn, mentioned in the text), and was living, again a widow, in 1641. It is barely necessary to state that this Ellis was the eldest son and successor of Robert Wyn Brynkr.

² The son here named John is called James at another page. In another pedigree of this family, compiled certainly as early as the reign of Elizabeth, the former name is given to him.

He died in 1563, and was buried at Penmorfa. John ap Morris Iwan, second by birth, but eldest surviving son of this Morris, was born in, or immediately about the year 1528. In 1572, he followed, with 100 men, the army sent by Queen Elizabeth to the occupation of Harre (then called Newshaven), and was living in May 1584. From him was descended the family of Johns, or Jones, of Wern, in the parish of Penmorfa, the heiress of whom married, about 1680, William, fourth son of Robert Wynne, Esq. of Glyn, in Merionethshire, and died in 1715.

⁶ Robert Wynne, Esq., was Sheriff for Carmarthen in 1501, and buried at Conwy, on the 5th November, 1528. The curious old mansion, in the town of Conwy, called Plas Mawr, was erected by him in 1525.

Recd of HUGH HOOKES 3: iiij

¹ In Conway church is the following inscription to his memory—

"Johannis Hookes, Arni: hunc tumulum fieri fecit in memoriam celeberrimi viri Hugonis Hookes Arni: patris sui, qui obiit 27 die Julii A.D. 1600."

"Implyer errantes oculos converti viator.
Futura lamentis spargere nostra pas;
The tua res agitur, mortalia funera curas
Volvere precipiti pulvere dicte meo."

² The name of "Elyn (Elin) Hookes," appears in a record of the 22d year of Henry VIII., in which year she was living.

³ John, son of Hugh.

⁴ William Hookes's name appears in an assessment, furnishing the names of the freeholders and tenants of the ville of Castell, in the command of Esq., on the 13th of April, 1567.

⁶ Child of a Richard o' Aber Conwy was the second husband of Gannor, daughter of Willem Hookes; also, Mary, wife of Gryffydd ap Robert ap Richard, it would seem was a daughter of Willem Hookes; but from the pedigree of Robert ap Richard, at page 161, she appears to have been a daughter of Thomas Porter.

⁷ I have little doubt that this Nicholas is the person commemorated in the very remarkable inscription in Conway Church—

"Here lyeth ye body
Conwy, Ge⁶, who was y⁴ child of his Father Wm.
Hookes Esq^r by Alice his wife, and y⁵ Father of 27 children, who dyed y²⁰ day of March 1637.

N.B. This stone was removed in y⁶ year 1729, att y⁵ charge of John Hookes Esq^r & since by Tho⁶ Bradney & W. Archer Esq^s.

Though Lewis Dwan's pedigree of the Hookes family does not quite tend to confirm the truth of this inscription, yet it does exhibit William Hookes as having been the father, by his four wives, of a most extraordinary number of children.

² Thomas Vaughan, of Pant Glas, was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1604.

³ Some authorities have probably been misled in this pedigree—viz. as to the date of it.

Obiit Merigus Meirig ap Iedwelyn ap Hwlkin, et Margareta uxoris, & Obiit Meirig & Elinor, Forch Roberti Merethil ab Glyn-Ieuan, Aringeri, uxoris, nec opti hunc fides tam ferri foremunt.

⁵ Sir Owen Arbingion Mōn, was elevated to the dignity of Archbishop of Angleson, on the death of Nicholas Robinson, Bishop of Bangor, in 1541. He was also Rector of Burton Leathers, in the county of Northampton, where he was buried on the 21st March 1572. Since his death, the Archbishopric of Angleson has always been held by the Bishop of Bangor, prior to 1855, in commendam, but in that year it was united to the Bishopric by Act of Parliament.

⁶ Sir William Owen was instituted to the Rectory of Hen Eglwys, on the 25th September, 1583, and resigned it on the 17th October, 1605.

⁷ John Owen was Secretary to Sir Francis Walsingham, and was living on the 19th February, 30th Jan. - L. 1011-12. His wife was heiress of Puckington and Clemeney. Mary Jane, the wife of William Ormsby Gore, Esq., M.P., is sixth in descent from John Owen and Ellen, and their representative. See notes to the pedigree of the Family of Marrow of Clemeney. In a MS. in the Harleian Collection, only one daughter of Owen ap Robert is given, and she is said to have been wife of William, son of Robert Griffith of Carnarvon. This pedigree, however, is certified by a son of Owen ap Robert, and, consequently must be estimated a better authority.

⁸ Angharad died in 1605.

PIERS GRIFFYTH 8:

¹ See a future page.² She was daughter of John Puleston, Esq, Chamberlain of North Wales, and sister to Sir John. She had previously been the wife of Robert ap Meredith, of Glynallion.³ He was Sheriff of Carmarvonshire in 1567, and was living in 1575.⁴ According to the account of the families of Penryn and Codelwillan, appended to Williams's Observations on the Snowdon Mountains, John Grif^d, of Kieley, was fourth son by the first wife. He served the office of Sheriff for Anglesey in 1582 and 1593.⁵ William Grif^d is the person represented at a future page as the son of a preceding Sir William Grif^d, by Jane Troutbeck. The pedigree, headed Ach y Penryn, is the correct one. In that at another page, it will be seen that the summary of the descent of John Grif^d, and the pedigree which follows it, do not agree; a generation (one of the Sir William Grif^ds) being omitted, evidently by accident, in the latter. William Grif^d, of C. rnarvon, died on the 25th November, 1587, and is buried at Llanelbilly, where his tomb remains.⁶ This is an error; the husband of Grace was Sir William Stanley, of Howton, Knight, who was upwards of forty-six years of age in 12th Henry VIII.⁷ John Philip, of Peton Castle, in the county of Pembroke. See Vol. I, page 115.⁸ Margaret, wife of Peter Mutton, died in 1594. Her second husband, according to Williams's account of this family, before referred to, was Thomas Grif^d, and Simon Thelwall her third.⁹ Mary, wife of Sir Randle Breton, married, secondly, Sir Hugh Cholmondeley, Knight, of Cholmondeley, in the county of Chester; and was buried at Malpas on the 21st day of October, 1588.¹⁰ Sir Nicholas Bagnall was Marshal of Ireland during the government of Sir Henry Sidney, and Sheriff for Anglesey in 1590. His wife, Elin Grif^d, died at Newry in 1574.¹¹ A Memoir of Pyrs Grif^d will be found in Williams's account of the Penryn family, and in Pennant. He bought and fitted out a ship at his own expense, and was present at the defeat of the Spanish Armada. He also accompanied Drake and Raleigh in a subsequent expedition against the Spaniards. In the following reign, complaints were made against him, by Count Gondomar, that he had continued his piracies after the proclamation of peace; and he was so harassed by prosecutions on that account, that he was obliged to mortgage his property to defray their expenses. In 1616, the estate of Penryn was sold to one of the mortgagees, Ievan Lloyd, Esq., in conjunction with Sir Richard Trevor. In 1622, it was purchased by the celebrated Lord Keeper Williams, a descendant, through a female, from his former possessors, Piers Grif^d, was buried in Westminster Abbey.¹² All underneath this refers to the earlier portion of this pedigree, page 130. Sir William Troutbeck died about the fourth year of Edward IV., and was buried at St. Mary's, Chester. His wife's Christian name was Margaret. She was daughter of Thomas Lord Stanley, and sister, as is stated by Lewis Down, of Thomas, Earl of Derby. It should be observed, that the descent of this family, as given by Williams, differs very materially from that in Lewis Down's visitation. The following pedigree is compiled from Williams's work:—

Jane Stradling = Sir Wm. Griffith Kt. = Jane Paleston.

Penrlyn, as above stated, having been purchased by the Lord Keeper, Williams, continued in that family for several generations. Upon the death, without issue, of Sir Griffith Williams, Bart., it became vested in his eldest sister, Frances, wife of Lord Edward Russell. She also died without issue, and Lord Edward either gave or left the estate to her sister, Anne, wife of Thomas Warburton, Esq., of Wiltnington, in Cheshire, and Gwen, wife of Sir Walter Yonge, of Escot, in Devonshire. So says Williams—(See Observations on the Snowdon Mountains, page 184)—but Pennant observes that Lord Edward “generously resigned his part of the estate to the surviving sisters.” Mrs. Warburton's moiety descended to her grand-daughter, Susannah Anne, daughter of Hugh Warburton, Esq. She was married on the 6th December, 1765, to Richard Pennant, Esq., afterwards created Lord Penrlyn, by whose father, John Pennant, Esq., the other moiety of the Penrlyn estate had been purchased from the Yonge family. Lord and Lady Penrlyn dying without issue (she on the 1st of January, 1815), these estates became, by bequest, the property of James Hay Dawkins, Esq., who assumed the additional surname of Pennant. By him, probably the most magnificent modern baronial mansion in these kingdoms was erected on the site of the ancient castle of Penrlyn. Mr. Dawkins Pennant died on the 17th of December in the last year, leaving his princely landed possessions to his eldest daughter, Juliana Isabella Mary, the wife of Lieutenant Colonel the Hon. Edward Gordon Douglas, who has received her Majesty's permission to bear the additional surname and arms of Pennant.

¹ Thomas Williams was by birth the third son. His elder brothers were William ap Williams, of Coehwallan, and Robert party to a deed of 24th August, 1519, who died in the following year.

² William ap Williams (or Williams), son of William ap Gruffydd, was Sheriff of Carnarvonshire in 1542, 1547, and 1555; and is party to a deed, dated 24th of August, third of Edward VI. (1549).

³ William ap Gruffydd ap Robin espoused the cause of the Earl of Richmond (afterwards King Henry VII.), and brought a troop of cavalry to the field of Bosworth, on the 23d of September, in the first year of that Monarch, he was appointed Sheriff of Carnarvonshire for life, and continued to hold the same office at Michaelmas, 1496.

⁶ Harri Williams is party to a deed, dated 18th December, 1567.

⁵ The latter, Sion (John), is the celebrated Lord Keeper Williams, successively Bishop of Lincoln and Archbishop of York, born on the 25th March, 1552, and who died on his birthday, 1559.

⁶ Mary, daughter of Owen Wyn, died in child-birth of twins, on the 10th October, 1555. There is a monument to her memory at Conway.

⁷ He is party to a deed, dated the 11th of March, 10th of Elizabeth (1573-4). An omission occurs in the pedigree here, Thomas Williams had another and younger son, Simon, of Wreg, who, with his brother William, is party to a deed, dated 31st August, 1593. This is the person mentioned as Simunt Williams underneath, who, from his name not previously occurring as one of the children of Thomas Williams, would seem to be intended for Simon, mentioned above, son of Arthur. William, the eldest son of Thomas, was created a Baronet on the 15th June, 1622.

⁹ Sian was daughter of Sir William Stanley, of Heaton, in Cheshire, and sister of Sir Rowland, who died on the 5th April, 1613, in his 90th year.

¹¹ This is a repetition of a passage above, excepting that Elin is here omitted. The children of Arthur Williams must have been added to this pedigree subsequently to the date of it: for a settlement, prior to the marriage of his wife to her first husband, Owen, son and heir of John Wyn Owen, of Ystymgeid, is not dated till the 26th of October, 1584, and she had issue by him. See Ystymgeid.

¹⁵ A Feoffment from John ap Meredith, to Owen his son, and Ellen the daughter of Hugh Lewis, and the heirs of the said Owen and Ellen, of his lands in the townships of Pennant, Berkin, Treddreuan, Troforwith, and Trelys, bears date the 12th January, 1485 (second Richard III.) This Ellen was daughter of Hugh Lewis ap Llewelyn ap Heikin, of Preaddeil—John ap Owen Arm, is party to a deed, dated 2nd January, 1521 or 1522.—A feoffment of the capital messuage, called Ystymgeid and other lands, upon Owen ap John ap Meredith, for life, with remainder to Owen ap John Owen and his heirs; and, in default, to Maurice ap John ap Owen and his heirs, bears date the next Monday after the festival of the conversion of St. Paul, viz Henry VIII. (1st February, 1516-17). The settlement prior to the marriage of Owen ap John ap Owen, is dated the 20th January, 1521 or 1522; and Lowry, his widow, was living on the 2nd October, 1554.

JOHN WYNNE OWEN 10^r

² John Wyn ab Owen is party to the settlement, dated the 20th of October, 1584, made prior to the marriage of his son and heir Owen ap John Owen, called here Owen Wynne. Jane, his wife, was then living.

³ In another pedigree Anne is called Annes (Agnes).

⁴ See Cefn Treflaeth.

⁷ Sion, daughter of Roland ap Dafydd, was living in 1626.

April following. Catherine, his eldest daughter, heiress of Ystymkegild, was married when a mere child, to Robert Wynne, of Glyn, in Merionethshire, Sheriff of that county in 1657 and 1663. She died 30th June, 1675. By this marriage, the estates of Glyn and Ystymkegild became united, and so continue to the present day. It was through the heiress of the latter place that the Wynnes of Glyn, Owens of Ferkington, and subsequently their representatives, so long claimed and exercised the hereditary offices of Constable of the Castle of Crickieth and Mayor of the Borough.

⁹ It is doubtful whether Robert Owen, who died in 1627 is here intended, or the person denominated Robert ap Owen, earlier in the descent; if the former, this sentence must have been added subsequently to the date of the pedigree. He certainly had daughters, named Katherine, Ann, and Jane, but if sons, they died very young; for he had no son when the settlement subsequent to his marriage was executed (12 of August, 1612) nor when he made his will, the 20 of February, 1626-7. At the former period, his daughters, Katherine and Ann, must have been mere infants, and Jane probably not born.

² In the History of the Gwydir Family are published Letters Patent, bearing date the 24th of August, 20th Henry VI. (1442) addressed to John ab Gronwy and others, of the comtee of Ewioneth, commanding them to arrest certain outlaws.

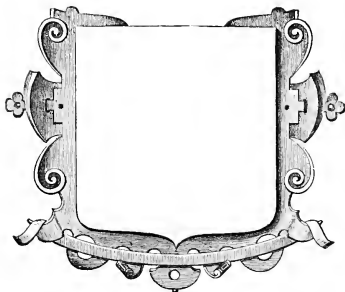

³ John ap Morys ap Ieuan was born about 1338, joined, with a hundred men, the army sent by Queen Elizabeth for the occupation of Newhaven, (Havre) in 1562, and was living in Marc, 1586.—See Brynkir.

JOHN DAVIES.

¹ The following notice of John Wyn, Esg, occurs in "Memoirs," by Sir John Wynn, at Gwylid, of several of his contemporary countrymen. "The memorable services of John Wynn ap Hugh, born at Bodvel, in Llyn, whereof he was Lord, now in this tract [are] not to be forgotten. He was standard-bearer to John Earl of Warwick, and afterwards Duke of Northumberland, in the great field fought between him and Kett, and the rebels of Northfolk and Suffolk, near Norwich, in Edward the Sixth's time [in August 1549]: his horse was slain under him, and himself hurt, and yet he upheld the great Standard of England. There is mention of this (the) shot made at the great standard of England in the Chronicles of that time, for the which service the Duke of Northumberland bestowed upon him two fine things in Llyn, viz.—the Isle of Bersley and the handsome house of the Abbot of Bersley, near Aberlaron, called the Certwirth. The honorable mention made of his service in the grant, which I have seen and read; a rare matter to find so good a master." (Sic.) John Wynn ap Hugh was Sheriff for Carmarshire in 1551 and 1560.

² Hugh Gwyn Bodvel, Esg, is partly a bond to Robert Earl of Leicester, dated 24th May, 25th Elizabeth (1563), and was Sheriff for Carmarshire in 1569 and 1575.

³ See Plus du.

⁴ Thomas Bodvel, Esg, was Sheriff for Carmarshire in 1609. Lowri was his second wife, and by her he had more children than are here named, born probably after the date which appears under the name of their mother.

⁵ Jane and William Griffiths were married on the 27th November, 1563.

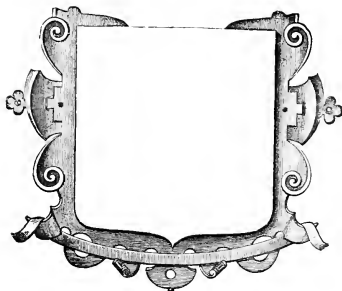

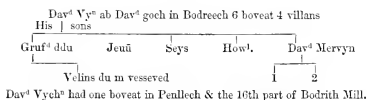

⁶ Sion Bodvel, afterwards Sir John Bodvel, Knight, was Sheriff of Carmarshire in 1627. Mary Bagnall was probably his first wife, and it is believed died without issue. He was also married to Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Wynn, of Gwylid, Baronet, by whom he had a son, who died without issue, and two daughters, Sarah, wife of Robert Roberts, Earl of Radnor, and Mary, wife of Hugh Chabonduley, Esq. By him, who was laptized at Power, in the county of Chester, 24th July, 1591, and died at Bodvel, 11th September, 1655, she was mother of Robert, the first Viscount Chabonduley.

² Gruffydd ap Sion ap Gruffydd was alive on the 1st day of June 1510.

⁴ John Griffith, son of the preceding, was Sheriff for Carnarvonshire, in 1604, and was probably living in 1618, as his son John is described, when Sheriff of Carnarvonshire in that year, as "John Griffith, Junior." (He is also described as John Griffith, Junior Esq. in February, 1625-6, but as John Griffith Esq. in March, 1627-8.) The last named person represented the County of Carnarvon, in the Parliaments which met on the 26th of January, 1620-1, the 6th of February, 1625-16, and the 6th of March, 1627-8.

⁵ Amongst the records of the late Welsh Audit Office, is a License from the Crown to Hoel ap Griffith ap David Vychan, to build a Mill on his lands and waters, in the ville of Llangan, dated the 10th of May, 4th Henry VIII. (1512) ings of Prince Rhys ap Tewdwr. It will be seen that a portion of this pedigree is rendered somewhat confused, from its being repeated, probably for the purpose of inserting the names of the younger children, which are not given in the original of that part of the pedigree which occurs twice.

The last possessor of Cefn Amwlech in the male line of this very ancient family, dying without issue, bequeathed his extensive property to his kinswoman, Jane, wife of the Honourable Charles Finch, second son of Henry, third Earl of Aylesford. She was the eldest daughter and coheir of Watryn Wynne, Esq., of Voelas, in the County of Denbigh, was married the 28th of December, 1778, and died in 1811. The Cefn Amwlech and Voelas Estates are now vested in her eldest son, Charles Wynne Griffith Wynne, Esq., who has adopted the surname of his mother, instead of his patronimic of Finch. He for some time represented the County of Carmarvon in Parliament.

³ Gruffydd ap Dafydd Vychan of Cefn Amwlech is doubtless here intended, and this passage should follow the one commencing, "Mam yrhain Sabel," but it does not agree with the Griffith of Cefn Amwlech pedigree. The wife, however, of Dafydd Vychan must be incorrectly given in that pedigree. He was living in 1481, and his wife could not have been fourth in descent, as there stated, from John ab Robert ab Llewelyn ap Ithel of Castellmarch, who was Sheriff of Carmarvonshire in 1549. This is probably a correct statement of the part in question of the Cefn Amwlech pedigree, excepting that one generation, Tudor ap Ierorwh, is omitted.—See Castellmarch.

⁴ Thomas Madryn, Hugh Madryn, &c.—The former is the same as the person called before, Thomas ab John ab Madog.

² There is an error in the first passage of this pedigree. The line should run thus—John ap Howel Vachan (Vychan) ap Howel ap Madog Vychan, &c.

³ A foefment to Howel ap Madog Vychan, and Margaret verch Ienau ap John ab Meredith, his wife, made, probably, shortly after their marriage, is dated on the next Monday succeeding the feast of St. Katherine the Virgin, 4th of Henry VIII. (November 29, 1512). The foefor professes to have lately received the lands included in this deed, by the gift and foefment of Madog Vychan, father to the above-mentioned Howel, and he reconveys them to Howel and his wife. In Sir John Wynn's History of the Gwydir Family is an account of the murder of Howel ap Madog Vychan by John Owen of Ystumkeg, "for noe other quarrell, but for the mastery of the country, and for the first good morrow."—History of the Gwedir Family, octavo edition.

⁴ A deed to Madog Vychan, from the Crown, relating to certain lands in the township of Aberkin, bears date on the 6th May, second Richard III. (1485).

⁵ Madog ap Ienau is party to a deed, dated in the third year of Henry V. (1416). His son Howel ap Madog was living on the 28th August, 1442.

⁶ Elize ap Howel Vychan was living on the 3d November, 1566.

⁷ Elsbeth swm^g Rowland ap Owen ap Thomas.—This agrees with another pedigree of the Vaughan's of Aberkin; but amongst the records at Peniarth, in Merionethshire, is a foefment, dated 3d November, 1566, from "Rowland Owen ap Madoke," of certain lands, which he grants to the foefees, to hold to the use of himself and Elizabeth verch Howel Vaughan, his wife, and their heirs.

⁸ See Talhebbort.

⁹ Marged ferch Owen ap John ap Mredydd, should be Marged ferch Ienau ap John ap Mredydd. She was married, secondly, to John Wynn ap Robert Vaughan.

⁸ Elin, a second daughter and co-heiress (that eldest that left issue) of John Vaughan, of Abwrack, co. Merioneth (which John Vaughan died on the 6th of July, 1709), was wife of the Rev. Griffith Williams, of Llanddwynan, in Carmarthenshire, who deceased on the 12th May, 1741, in his 18th year. Their eldest son, Griffith Williams, of Llanddwynan and Aberkin, Esq., died unmarried, and his sister, Elinor, inherited these estates. She was married, first, on the 8th of June, 1711, to William Wynne, Esq.

of Wern Penmorfa, and, secondly, to Evan Evans, Esq. of Penbryn, in the county of Carmarvon. She died on the 14th February, 1804, and was buried at Llanddwynan. Her grandson, the late William Wynne, of Penarth, Esq., succeeded to her property. He sold Aberkin, about the year 1821, to the trustees of the late Thomas John, second Lord Newborough, then a minor.

ROBT VAUGHAN OF BEWMARIS 2:

¹ Dr. Richard Vychan died on the 21st March, 1607, and was buried in St. Paul's Cathedral. There is at Bangor a monument to his memory and that of Bishop Rowlands, erected by the latter, on which is the following inscription:—

“Pis Memoria dæorum Episcoporum in hac Ecclesia proxime succedentium, qui fuerunt contigie nati, Coetani, sibi invicem cari consociipali, consanguinei; ex illustri Familia Vaughanorum de Talbenbont in Ercwethy Prior; Filius Thomæ ap Robert Vachan Generosi, de Nifryn in Llyn, Qui sedem hanc per Biennium tenuit, deinde Cæstrensem per septem Annos; postea Londinensem per Triennium tenuit, ubi vitam Mensis Martii ultimo An: Dom: 1607 immaturè morte committavit. Cujus Virtus post funera vivit. Posterior, Henricus filius Rolandi ap Robert, Armigeri, de Mechryn in Llyn, ex Elizabetha filia Griffithi ap Robert Vachan, Armigeri, de Talbenbont, qui annua consecrationis sue jam agit decimam octavam, multoque apud fœditer ad honorem Dei & Evangelii propagationem Mutuo amore alter utriusque hoc struxit Monumentum mense Maii, Anno Dom: 1616.

“Oritur vicissim Moritur

² This is the same person as Richard Vychan, in the second passage of this pedigree.

⁴ Harri Parry was not instituted to the Rectory of Trevdraeth till the 30th December, 1606: an addition, therefore, has been made here subsequently to the date of the pedigree. He died in 1616. See a Biographical Notice of him in Willis's Bangor, of which Cathedral he was a Canon.

² According to the MS. just quoted, the wife of Rowland ap David was Janet, daughter of Evan Lloyd ap Ellis of Rhagati, in the county of Merioneth; and it was as a grand-daughter, Rowland Wynn, "living 1539," who married Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Meyrick, Esq. of Bologran, by Jane, his wife, daughter of John ap Rhys Vaughan, of Bodeyhan. In the pedigree of the Bodeyhan family, in the same volume, Jane is believed to have been daughter of John Bodeyhan ap John ap Rhys Wynn. See also Lewis Dwnn's Genealogies of the Meyrick family (pages 129,—138.) which also differ from that in the Taircrosion MS. and from each other. Perhaps the same is intended to be expressed here, and that the sentence referred to has been added subsequently to the date of this pedigree, and accidentally misapplied. It would seem, from page 138, in this volume, that Elizabeth Meyrick was not married on the 22d September, 1504.—Thus

³ The heirs of the house, Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Wynn, Esq. was wife of Thomas Edwards, of Plas-y-croed, near Dorton, in Flintshire; and their daughter and heiress was married, first, in 1722, to Maurice Wynn, Esq. of Pengwern, in Merionethshire, and Llyven, in Denbighshire, who was born in 1690; and, secondly, to Edmund Meyrick, of Trehob, in Merionethshire. Penrhin, however, has long since been alienated from the descendants of the Wynn family.

² His father was upwards of 44 years of age, 12th Henry VIII; and her brother, Sir Rowland, died on the 26th of April, 1613, in his 96th year.

⁵ The church of Llanaes is dedicated to St. Catherine. Here stood the monastery of Llan Ees, or Friars, erected by Prince Llewelyn the Great over the grave of Joan, his Princess, who died in 1257. It was granted, at the dissolution, to Nicholas Brownlow, and afterwards, in October 1553, purchased by Richard Whyte (the name is thus spelt in all the signatures of the family that I have seen), of Beaumaris, gentleman, from Ellis Wynne, gentleman. It will be seen that Richard Whyte is stated to have been four times a Sheriff for Anglesey. The years in which he served that office were 1568, 1582, 1589, and 1594. Consequently, twice out of the four times was after the date of his pedigree; but the statement above referred to may have been added by Lewis Dwan himself.

⁴ Robert Wyo was of Trefan in Evioneth, and is feeble to a deed dated the 2nd of November, 1566. Another son was Griffith White of Noydd. In one place in the Taliesion Collection, he is represented as second son, in another he is said to have been fourth, the third Richard White above. There was also, according to the heraldic collection just quoted, a son named Owen John (Owen ap John) of Nysgyn, who it would there seem was senior to Harry, made here the fourth son.

⁶ The Glynes of Glyn Llŷon are frequently so styled.

⁷ The heiress of the White family, Jane, grand-daughter of Harry White above-mentioned, was married to John Holland of Bery, Barrister at Law, whose father Thomas Holland, Rector of Llangeinwen, died the 12th of October, 1746. Friars was sold, probably somewhat before the year 1739, to Edward Williams, Esq. afterwards of Penarth in Merionethshire, a younger son of John Williams, Esq. of Chester and Bodelwyddan, a younger son of The Right Honourable Sir William Williams, Bart, Speaker of the House of Commons in 1620 and 1631. Mr. Williams died on the 10th of February, 1762, aged 52, leaving his estates in Anglesa to be sold for the benefit of his two younger daughters. Friars was purchased either by Sir Hugh Williams, Bart., or for his 8th-son, Thomas James, last Viscount of Bulkeley, during the minority of the latter, whose property by purchase, eventually, it certainly became. It now belongs with the rest of Lord Bulkeley's estates, under his will, to Sir Richard Bulkeley Williams Bulkeley, Baronet, grandson of Sir Hugh Williams. Over an archway near the present house, at Friars, are the arms of Whyte.—Sable a chevron between three bars de lys, argent, with the initials, "R. W. 1623. L. B."

³ It is more probable that Ellen Griffith's father was William, a natural son of William Griffith of Penrhyn, Esq, and half brother to Sir William.

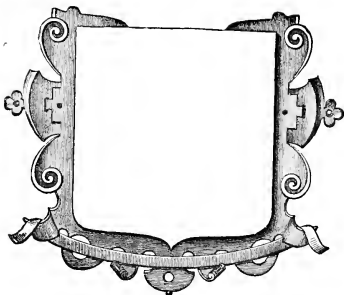

⁴ The pedigree is very obscure here; it is impossible to make out which William Hampton is intended, not I think the first in the descent. A family of the name of Elkocke appear to have been connected with the neighbourhood of Beaumaris at a much later period. Perhaps the sentence should stand "Gwraig William Hampton," and that the brother of Richard first mentioned is intended.

⁶ This is Richard Hampton, whose name first occurs. His father-in-law, Robert Wyn ap Cadwaladr, &c. was party to a deed dated the 28th of June, 1590.

ELLEN THOMAS.(1)

⁴ Francis Lloyd of Llansannell, in the County of Carnarvon.

⁸ Morus ap Iwan appears, from his elegy by Griffith Hirastog, to have served in the army in Ireland and France. He died in 1593, and was buried at Penmorfa.

His son, John, second by birth, but eldest, it is believed, by survivorship, was born in 1538 or 1539, joined, with 100 men, the army sent by Queen Elizabeth for the occupation of Havre (then called Newhaven), in 1562; and was living in May, 1586. He was direct ancestor of the family of Jones, of Wern, in the parish of Penmorfa.

⁹ Robert ap Richard was of Llechidion, in Carnarvonshire, and was living on the 22d July, 1590.

¹⁰ See Park.

¹¹ Ellen Thomas was the wife of Sir Richard Wynne, mentioned above, and relict of William Thomas, Esq. killed at Zutphen in 1586. It is singular that after her second marriage she should use the name of her first husband. The Hirŷfag estate passed, by marriage, into the family of Lloyd, of Llansannell, in Carnarvonshire. Margaret, sister and heir of John Lloyd, Esq. was married to Francis Langford, Esq. of the Kingsland of Ireland, and their daughter and heiress, Annabella, or Arabella Langford, to her second cousin, Richard Lloyd, Esq. of Rhosbeirio, in Anglesey. (His father, Francis Lloyd, Esq. V. B. Sheriff of Anglesey, in 1701, was son of Richard, a younger son of Francis Lloyd, of Hirŷfag, Esq.) The issue of the last-mentioned marriage was an only daughter, wife of the late Richard Edwards, Esq. of Nanhoron, Colonel of the Carnarvonshire militia, by whom she was the mother, with other children, of Richard Lloyd Edwards, Esq. of Nanhoron, in whom the Hirŷfag estate is now vested.

³ See Bodrelen.

⁴ In the Talorcroston MS. Margaret is said to have been daughter of Madoc ap Ievan of Pengwern, which is doubtless correct. The error here may be one of the transcriber. In the descent of Margaret, too, Rys ap Einion should be Rys ap Ievan. See Piss. 3b. Madoc ap Ievan ap Gruffydd, of Pengwern, is party to a deed dated in 1532.

² Richard Owen, of Penmydd, Esq., was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1565 and 1573. A person of the same name, and of the same place, probably grandson of the former, was Sheriff in 1623.

Richard Owen Tudyr appears, from this pedigree, and one of the same family in the Talercession MS., to have had three sons named William. The second William Bold, is stated to have been called by the latter name from his grandmother. Perhaps a slight mistake has been made here, that the William who left issue was the youngest of the three, and that the other two died young. According to the Substanty MS. at Wynnstay, William Owen, who married Agnes, daughter of Mathe ap Llewelyn (see a future page), was third son of Richard Owen Tudyr, and appears, from the pedigree of the Bold family in the Talercession MS., to have had a son called Rhys Bold, whose wife was Elin, daughter of William Bold, of Carnarvon. The names of the other children of William Owen, as given in the pedigree just cited (excepting that there are two daughters named Margery), exactly agree with those in the passage commencing Plant William Owen, at that page. There is some difference between Lewis Duma's pedigree and that of the house of Penmydd in the MS. above referred to, with respect to the names of the children of Richard Owen Tudyr. The former, being certified by his grandson, David Owen, should be the more correct.

¹In an account of the Fifteen Tribes of North Wales, in the Cambrian Register, Vol. I. Llywarch is said to have married a daughter of Grono ap Owen ap Edwin, sister to the wife of Prince Owen Gwynedd: as authority for which marriage, an old parchment MS., written four hundred years previously, is cited; and at another page in this volume, the mother of Ierweth appears to have been Annes ferch Aron (doubtless a mistake for Grono) ap Owen ap Edwin. This account of the Welch Tribes is stated to have been written about the middle of the seventeenth century.

²Argent, two foxes counter salient, the dexter surmounted of the sinister, gules.

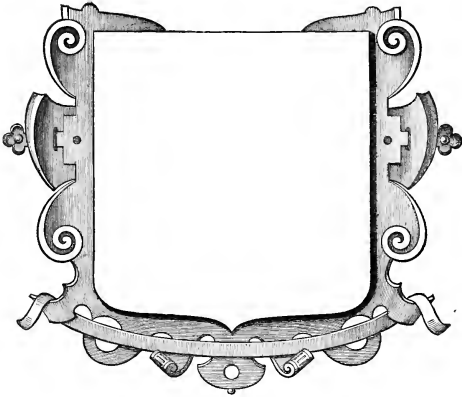

The representative of this family, Anne, daughter and sole heiress of Richard Williams, Rector of Llanyddlad, espoused William Mason, M.D. now of Carnarvon. He was seventh in lineal descent from John Wyllyam, who certifies the pedigree.

⁴These are the children of Rhys ap William.

⁵In Owen's British Remains, the arms assigned to Carwed are nearly similar to those here given to Tegryn, his son. Or, a falcon surmounting azure, beaked, &c. or.

³ See preceding pedigree.

⁴ Tegwared y bais we¹, as is stated in a note to this pedigree, was a son of Prince Llewelyn the Great, but an illegitimate son.

⁵ The above-mentioned Hugh Lewis, Esq., by Jane, his second wife, daughter of Richard Wyllye, of Friars, and relict of Griffith Lloyd, of Carno, had two daughters. The eldest, Anne, died unmarried; the second, Magdalen, was married to John Wood, Esq. (living in 1656), second son of Owen Wood, Esq. of Llangwyfan, and by him had an only daughter, Jane, wife, first, of Lewis Powell, Esq. of Gwaredor, who died without issue; and, secondly, of John Griffith, of Carreglwyd, Esq. who died in 1695 or 6, and by whom she had issue.

⁶ Pyrs Lloyd was Sheriff of Anglesey in 1595 and 1603.

⁷ This account of the Stanley family, is at variance with a pedigree in the Harleian MS. No. 1871, and with the authenticated one in Ormerod's Cheshire. See also Stanley, at a future page, and notes.

¹ Sir Dafydd Hammer was appointed a Justice of the King's Bench, on the 24th February, 1287 (probably 1287-8).

² Sir Randle Breerton was Chamberlain of Chester, from 21st Henry VII. to 20th Henry VIII., a Baronet, and knight of the Body to Henry VII.

³ John, son of Sir David Hammer, was slain at the battle of Shrewsbury in 1405. But Johnkin, described as son of Edward, is probably here meant. In the pedigree of the family of Lloyd of Llynny-moer, however, Margaret is stated to have been wife of Griffith Hammer.

⁴ She was not mother of Griffith-son of Jenkin, but was a Griffith. This L. is noted, as she has been called previously, and that he was father of Jenkin, have made no mention of it.

⁵ Edw¹ ab D¹ ab Gronwy was living, unmarried, upon the 7th of September, 1588.

⁶ See the other and see also the other above.

⁸ The date of the birth of Elin is here fixed, as she died in 1607.

¹⁴ See Hwlwbrech.

¹⁵ This is evidently an omission here.

¹⁶ This was a second wife of Edward ab Hugh Gwyn.

¹⁹ The date of the birth of her mother, is dated 25th October, 1574. She was married, secondly, to Arthur Williams, A.M., who was called to the dignity of Professor of Divinity, at the 10th February, 1622; and died, Rector of Hwlwbrech, on the 24th July, 1621. She was living on the 22d J. 1609. 22d of James I. 1603. Her father, John, is described in Han's Jane Lewis's, and was then living.

² Gules, a chevron between three lions rampant, or. Hwva, the stock of one of the Fifteen Tribes of North Wales, is said to have enjoyed, by inheritance, the office of bearing the Prince's coronet, and placing it on his head, since the Bishop of Bangor anointed him. It is doubtful when he lived. According to the Cambrian Biography, he flourished in the middle of the 11th century; but in an account of the Tribes of North Wales, in the Cambrian Register, (Vol. I, page 145), which is taken from a MS. written not earlier than about the middle of the seventeenth century, he is said to have lived in the time of Prince Owen Gwynedd, who began to reign in 1137. Rowlands, in his Mona Antiqua, says, "that Hwva ap Cynddelw, of Preswdded, held his estate, in fee, by attending on the Prince's coronation, and bearing up the right side of the canopy over the Prince's head at that solemnity, and cites the following extract, from a MS. of one Lewis Dun, out of the Gwddith Llyfrary:—Yr Hwva hwn a'i Enffeddon bynd a wisant y Dalath am ben y Teyssog gyla ac esoch Bangor, ac y dybl cyntaf y cyssogri y Teyssog yn y Dalath yr oedd i Hwva, y par dillad a fal am y Teyssog wrth wico y Dalath am ei hen. Alyn oedd wasaneth Hwva ap Cynddelw."—Cambrian Register, Vol. I, page 145.

² See also Bodson and Bodafon.

⁴ It does not appear who was the wife of William ap Ievan. This passage probably refers to Margry, in the preceding sentence.

(1) Trei Edward, in which I had a share. This parcel of land in the township has the name of his three sons, Ierwth, Coloman, and Madog. He also appears to have had a son named Gruffydd (see Rhysgoch). Mreidd, his grandson, through his son Ierwth, was his grandfather. (2) This parcel of the township of Treveilir was given to him and his heirs for ever, by Prince Llewelyn ap Iorwth. (See p. 100, note 1.) For the unusual bearing of this Trei, see p. 100, note 2.

(3) A visit to Prytherch must have died in 1581, as the institution of his successor, 1400 years ago, took place on the 11th December in that year.

(4) Tegwared Iais wen (page 107) was an illegitimate son of Prince Llewelyn ap Ierwth, styled the Great.

(5) Davydd Vychan is probably the same person the names of whose daughters are given in the preceding page.

(6) Elinon ap Gwalehmai was an eminent poet, who flourished from about 1170 to 1240. Some of his compositions are inserted in the Welsh Archæology.

(7) Probably Llanvechel.

² Owen Woods was Sheriff for Anglesey in 1513.

³ Jane, wife of John Bodelythen, of Bodelythen, appears by the Talbotson MS., to have been a sister of John Bodelythen, son, Esq^r—whose mother was Margaret, daughter to Richard Marfel, of Bodgorgan.

⁶ Of Merthyr, in Glam.

⁸ Of How^t village.

November, 1552. John, the third brother, appears to have died unmarried. There were also two sisters, Florence, the eldest, was wife of William Wynm, Esq. of Tre^rddol, who assumed the name of Bodd, and whose wife he died 15th January, 1588; Ann, the youngest, was married to a person of the name of Canon. The male descendants of Hugh Wood, in the direct line, are believed to have become extinct in the second generation, in the sons of William, Chancellor of Worcester, the eldest of whom, William, had three daughters. The name of this family is found written with and without the final s.

¹⁰ See Bodron.

¹¹ Sir Richard Williams was instituted to the Rectory of Llangadwalader on the 11th March, 1572 (probably 1572-3), and to that of Rhesealon on the 13th July, 1578, and died about the year 1591.

¹² William ap Williams, or Williams, of Coedwillan, does not appear to have had a son named Morgan (see Vaenol, &c.); but a son of that name is mentioned amongst the children of Williams ap Griffith ap Robin, in the account of this family appended to Williams's "Observations on the Snowdon Mountains."

¹⁴ John Brywnog was an eminent poet of Mona, who flourished from about 1506 to 1570.

⁵ Llewelyn ap Gruffydd, the last Sovereign of the Welsh, of the ancient British Gruffydd, to whom this note refers, is represented as having been his contemporary, and to have married a daughter of Ririd Flaidd, a chieftain, who Mr. Vaughan of Hengwrt, the eminent Merionethshire Antiquary, states, was "slaine about the later Jayes of Hen: 2." One of these statements must be erroneous.

¹ See Bodlily. Meurig appears to have had another son besides Owen and John. See sentence beginning "Plant Owen ap Sion," &c.

² See Clapenney.

⁴ See Pysy Talleyllan, &c.

⁵ Mreolth ap Rhys, of Bolewyr. See also Treffnewth.

⁶ In the Talercroen MS. she is stated to have been wife of Fulk Salisbury, of Llan-ris, and Sioned is not named. This pedigree, however, it should be recollected, is certified by Owen ap Hugh, the nephew of these ladies.

⁷ Of Pilsnewydd.

⁸ This does not quite agree with the Bald pedigree, as given at another page in this Volume.

¹¹ According to the Talercroen MS. the second husband of Gwen was Thomas Price, of Bodlily.

¹² Thomas Vychan, of Pant Glas, in the Talercroen MS. (see Pant Glas). But Lewis Owen is probably correct. Llieth Cadvan is in the parish of Llan Gtalen, Carmarthenshire.

¹³ Dorothy, wife of John Owen, of Orleton, Esq. was a daughter of Rowland Loughran, of St. Breles, in Pembrokeshire. See Vol. I, page 237.

¹⁵ John Owen, Alderman of Chester, was one of the Sheriffs of that city in 1595.—Ormerod's History of Cheshire.

¹⁶ More likely Done, a great Cheshire family, a branch of which was seated at Chester.

¹⁷ Lewis ap Owen also seems to be here referred to; but Elizabeth, his wife, is not named amongst the children of Hugh Owen, in the next page.

¹⁸ See some curious letters, and other particulars of him, in the Gen^l's Mag.—Ed.

¹⁹ Which Owen? Neither of them appears to have been married to Margaret ferch William o Benarag.

¹ In the tabular part of the pedigree, a generation is omitted, viz.—Jeuñ, son of Mredydd ddu, and father of Ieuñ Wyddel.

² A generation (herewith) has been omitted in the line of her descent. In the line of Mallt, wife of Rhys, three generations lower, Jestyñ, a chieftain of Glamorgan, and founder of one of the Royal Tribes of Wales, lived about the close of the 11th century.

³ Should be "Gruffydd ap Mredydd," &c.

¹ If it be true that this family is descended from John, Duke of Exeter (who was beheaded on the 9th of January, 1st of Henry IV, 1400), the first marriage in the tabular part of the pedigree must be incorrectly given, for Hoegsyn Holland, represented as fourth in descent from that nobleman, is there stated to have married Margeret, daughter and heiress of David Chwith, who was living in the reign of Edward I. It cannot be correct, also, that John Holland, the husband of Elin forch ag aeres (see below), from the time at which she must have been living, was only fourth in descent from David. Since the above was written, I have found in the emblazoned collection of pedigrees at Wynnstay, by Salisbury, of Erlstock, a Welsh genealogist of eminence, one of the Holland family, in which their lineage, as traced to Sir Thomas Holland, agrees with the pedigree in this Visitation; but Salisbury's pedigree does not ascend higher than Sir Thomas. According to it, Meredith, the father of Agnes, wife of Robin Holland, was descended only in the fourth degree from Prince Griffith ap Cynan; but if Hoegsyn Holland's wife was seventh in descent from Prince Owen Gwynedd, more than four generations must have intervened between Griffith ap Cynan, the father of Owen, and the wife of Robin Holland, son of Hoegsyn. There is another error in the earlier portion of this pedigree: two generations are transposed, Sir Thomas Holland (created Earl of Kent, and who died on the 25th December, 1390) was the father, and Sir Edward Holland, the third son of the Duke of Exeter, the Earl of Kent's widow, Joane, "the fair maid of Kent," only daughter of Edmund of Woodstock, Earl of Kent, sixth son of King Edward I., was remarried to William Montacute, Earl of Salisbury, and afterwards to Edward "the Black Prince." By him she was mother of King Richard II. She died on the 8th July, 1385. John de Holland, probably a member of the same family, was Escheator of the county of Hereford upon the 14th September, 1390.

² Her half brother, Ievan ap Rhys. (see Glyn a'r Sifon,) is party to deeds dated upon the 1st October, 15th Henry VII. (1492), and 4th March, 4th Henry VIII. (1513).

⁴ Owen Holland, Esq. was M.P. for the county of Anglesey, in the fifth parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which commenced on the 23d November, 1555, and Sirriff in 1591 and 1599.

¹ Thomas, son of Owen Holland, was M.P. for Anglesey in the tenth parliament of Queen Elizabeth, which met on the 7th October, 1601, and Sheriff for that county in 1609. He afterwards received the honour of knighthood, and again served the office of Sheriff in 1622.

² Hugh Gwyn ap Owen of Cronlech.

³ Their eldest son, Thomas, was entered at All Souls, Oxford, on the 21 November, 1621, aged 19; therefore, unless he was born several years after the marriage of his parents, their marriage must have been added to the Holland pedigree subsequently to the date of it. See Clwyd Farr. Margaret was married previously to William ap Hugh Grey, of Pengwern, in Llanrwsti, and, thirdly, to Richard Williams, of Llysdudd, Esq. See Pengwern, where she is represented as daughter of Howel Holland, certainly a mistake.

⁴ Sir John Savage, of Clifton, in Cheshire, styled the younger, 12th Henry VIII., died in July 1527 or 1528. His widow, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Charles Somerset, first Earl of Worcester, was living 23d Henry VIII., and afterwards was married to William Breton, of the bedchamber to King Henry VIII. Breton was, "for matters touching Queen Anne," beheaded on the 17th May, 1536.—Ormerod's Cheshire, Vol. I. page 528.

⁵ William Herbert died on the 16th July, 6th Henry VII. (1491), at which time his daughter, Elizabeth, was upwards of thirty years of age.

 Iwan, the brother of Howel Ychwan, was living upon the 28th August, 1442.

⁷ Rhys ap Iwan ap Einion should be Rhys ap Iwan ap Gruffydd, but they were of the same tribe. See Ystynlyn.

⁸ Thomas Holland, of Berw, fourth in descent from Owen, with whom this pedigree terminates, was Rector of Llanginew, to which living he was instituted on the 24 August, 1708, and died on the 12th October, 1746. He had two sons, who appear to have died without issue. His sister, Jane, was wife of Ellis Anwyl, Rector of Llankystyn, in Lloy, and by him had several children, of whom the only one that left issue was Elizabeth, wife of Richard Trygarn, Esq. of Trygarn. By him, to whom she was married in 1723, she had a daughter, Mary, who, by her marriage with John Griffith, of Carregwyl, Esq. conveyed the Berw and Trygarn estates into that family. The Holland family, in the direct line, is believed not to be extinct.

⁹ This pedigree does not agree with that of the Bulkeley family at page xxxvii, but both are very incorrect; as is that in Lodge's Peerage of Ireland, and another in Burke's Extinct Peerage. In each of these pedigrees many representatives of the family are omitted, and in this some members of it misplaced, as will be seen by the following extract from Ormerod's History of Cheshire, in which work there are genea-logies of several branches of this house, compiled from, or corrected by authentic documents:—

Sir Richard Bulkeley Kt, died 17, Jan. 1. Edw. 6 (1545) =

Sir Richard Bulkeley, with whom the above pedigree terminates, was grandfather of Sir Richard Buckley, at page XXXIX of Lewis Dwnn's Visitation. The latter died upon the 28th of June, 1621. For his marriages and issue, see page 93.

⁵ See Petyon (Merthyn). Madog Vyrhan was living on the 8th February, 1185.

⁸ See Bron y Facl.

⁹ Eimon Yrth was Sovereign of North Wales from 329 to 443.—Cambrian Biography.

¹¹ See Pen Hesyn.

¹² A chieftain of Arvon, in the beginning of the tenth century.

⁵ The marriage with Owen Wood is not mentioned in the pedigree of that family.

¹ David ap Iwan ap Emlon was constable of the Castle of Harlech, and held it for several years for King Henry VI. against the hostile faction of the Yorkists. It was, during his custody of that fortress, that the unfortunate monarch, accompanied by his illustrious Queen, found a refuge within its walls, in 1463 (see Lingard's History of England). An account of David's gallant bearing, when constable of Harlech, will be found in the Autobiography of Lord Herbert, of Chesham; and a petition, and other proceedings consequent upon his refusal to surrender the Castle, in the Rolls of Parliament for the first and fourth years of King Edward IV.

² Margaret, daughter of John Puleston, of Emlod, in Flintshire, was married subsequently to the 20th of February, 22d Henry VI. (1433-4), as is proved by her father's will of that date.

³ See Cefn Anwyl.

⁸ The Pys, LL.D. of Plas Iolun, in Denbighshire, one of the Council in the Marches Wales.

⁹ John Lewis, second son, according to a pedigree in the Harleian MS. 1071. He was born in 1615, married to Anne, daughter to Griffith ap John ap Griffith Wynn (or Griffith William), and died in 1649. The latter part of the pedigree of the Lewis family, in this Volume, must therefore have been added subsequently to the date of Maurice Lewis's signature.

¹⁰ Robert Lewis, in the Harleian MS. above referred to, is styled of Pengwern, and represented as eldest son. If this be correct, he probably died, unmarried, before the end of the year 1626, as John Lewis was, prior to that time, owner of Pengwern. He is also represented as eldest son in the Salisbury Collection of Pedigrees at Wyandey, and is styled of "Gwyn's Inn and Pengwern."

¹³ His will is dated 7th August, 1484.

² His eldest son, Sion (John), who was of Dolymoch, in the parish of Festiniog, was Coroner for Merionethshire, and sold his estates, including Dolymoch, to Edmund Vaughan, of Bronheulog, in Denbighshire. There appears also to have been a son named Richard, who married Mary, daughter of ... Richard Thomas's Welsh Pedigree in the College of Arms. In Thomas's Pedigree of this family, Evan, son of Robert and Catherine, is not named; but the second son of John ap Robert and Margaret is named Evan. He appears to have been married, and How would seem to have been third son. Two daughters of John and Margaret are also mentioned.—Ed.

³ Azure, a chevron, between three spear heads, argent, imbrued gules.

⁵ The contraction of Armlger, that is Esquires, to King Henry V.—Ed.

¹ Richard Vaughan (son of Rhyss) was Sheriff for Carmarthenshire in 1579; and is party to a bond, dated the 24th May, 23d Elizabeth (1581). A contemporary Elegy upon his death, by Sioe Philip, is extant, and from it I have compiled the following pedigree, differing but little from that in Lewis Dwn's Visitation:—

* Only two named by Robert Vaughan, of Hengwri, the Merionethshire Antiquary, agreeing with Lewis Dwn, and with a Pedigree compiled in the life-time of Richard Vaughan.

³ See preceding pedigree.

⁴ Dafydd Lloyd ab Hugh was a younger son of Hugh ab Ievan, of Mathavarn, in Montgomeryshire, and from him were descended the Levans, of Dol-y-golyn, in Merionethshire.

⁶ See Nanner.

⁷ Was Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1558 and 1603. He died on the 9th of November, 1616, and was buried at Llanddywvan, where there is a Monument to his memory, erected from a design of the celebrated architect Inigo Jones.

⁸ His first wife was Lowry, daughter of Thomas ap John ap Llewellyn Vaughan, of Harlech; his second (according to Mr. Vaughan of Hengwri), Ellen, daughter of Jobe Robert ap Howel, of Dol-y-moch; but the marriage is not noticed in the pedigree of that family, nor does John ap Robert appear to have had a daughter named Ellen. See Dol-y-Prydydd.

¹⁰ See Egryn.

¹³ Edward Edwards, of Llwydau. See Llan Aber.

Whittlebury, in the county of Northampton, Esq., and to have died before the 2d of August, 1611.

¹⁷ See "Rhw Goch."

²⁰ Griffith Vaughan was one of the defenders of Harlech Castle, under his cousin, David ap Ievan ap Eridon. In an account of this family, by the eminent Merionethshire Antiquary, Mr. Robert Vaughan, is the following notice of him:—"This Gr: Vyn¹⁶ was in great credit wth Jasper Earle of Pembroke, who lay in his house at Corsygod when he fled to France in y^e time of Ed: 4, and as some report, Harry the Earle of Richmond wth him, who afterwards was King of England." An old house in Carmarthenshire, called "Ty Gwyn yn Bermo," is said to have been erected by Griffith Vaughan, for the purpose of holding communication with the chiefs of the Lancastrian cause, being nearer the sea, and consequently more easy of access, and secure for escape, than his mansion at Corsygodal. Lowry, the wife of Griffith Vaughan, was niece to the celebrated Owen Glyndwr. Her father, Tudur Vychan, born about 1362, was slain during the rebellion of his brother Owen, in an engagement between the forces of Glyndwr and those of Henry IV. at Myddyl y Pwll Melyn, in Brecknockshire, on the 15th March, 1405.

²² Party per bend sinister ermine and ermines, a lion rampant or.

²⁴ Quarterly, gules and or, four lions passant guardant, counterchanged of the field.

²⁵ Argent, two bendis wavy, salted: on a chief gules, three bendis.

²⁶ Gules, a chevron, ermine, between three Englishmen's heads couped, proper.

²⁷ Gules, a Saracen's head erased, argent, wreathed or and salted.

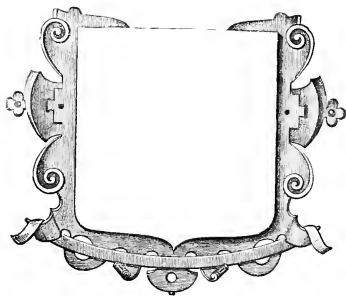

²⁸ The crest to this achievement is upon a wreath, &c.—Ed.

³ See also Llwyn Griffin.

⁴ Robert ap Jeun ap Morgan was alive, and residing at Taleruddyn, on the 20th of October, 1696.

⁵ Jeun ap Morgan is witness to a deed, dated 24th July, 1531.

⁷ John Vivian le Colier⁽¹⁾ is party to a deed, dated in 1440; and, in the Minister's Accounts, for the county of Denbigh, for the year ending at Michaelmas, 20th Henry VII. it is stated that the lands of John Vivian, doubtless this person, had been in the King's hands (how long is here is not mentioned), after the death of the

² It appears, by an imposition taken at Bala, on the next Monday after the feast of St. Michael, sixth of Henry VI. (6th October, 1427), "quel qu'ilques Eignion ap Seysyllt fut seigneur en domoies suo et de feodo de totz terra que fait et est inter apus de Davi et Dewlas, tempore Llewelyn ap Ierweth super principis, et quod terra illa tunc fait pars et parcella Comiti de Estinaur in Comitatu Merioneth, et saluce de jure esse debet." The powerful family of Pache, of Merthyr, near Merbynth, now extinct, were the representatives of this chieftain.

⁵ This does not agree with the pedigree at a future page, where the mother of Elin is stated to have been a daughter of Llewelyn ap Rhys.

⁷ See Caeo Kinwech.

⁸ See Dolgely and Peniarth.

⁹ The armorial bearing of the family of Edwards of Llwyn du appears, from the Harleian MS., No. 1974, folio 41, to have been sable, a lion rampant, argent; that, however, of Alo ap Rhialwal, the chieftain to whom they traced their descent, was, or, three lions' heads erased, gules, within a bordure engrailed, azure.

¹⁰ See Pengernw, Fostnig.

¹¹ See Brany-foot.

¹² No such person as William ap Hugh ap Howel has been previously mentioned in this pedigree: probably the person called above William ap Huw ap Howel, is intended. William ap Hugh ap Howel, a baronet of Harlech, is party to a deed, dated on the next Monday after the Feast of St. Dunstan, the Bishop, 1st Richard III.

¹ Bwlch Coed Dyffryn is now called Tany-lwlch.² William Cynwal, out of whose collection this pedigree is said to have been taken probably not the whole of it, was an eminent poet of Penmaenob, who flourished from about 1560 to 1600.—See Cambrian Biography. In a collection of pedigrees at Wynnstay, by one of the Salesbarys of Ebbw Vale, an eminent Welsh genealogist, the line of this family is thus given, from Adda up Ierweth upwards.—“Adda up Ierweth up Merweth, otherwise Madoc; of Ffynwold, up Einon up Cradock, up Gwgon, second son of Moryydd goch, otherwise Merweth goch, up Collywan.” Salesbary's pedigree, however, differs from every other of this branch of the tribe of Collywan that I have seen.³ Robert up Ieuon up Ierweth witnesses a deed relating to property in the parish of Festiniog, dated the 20th August, 55th of Henry VIII. (1511).⁴ See notes to preceding pedigree.⁵ See Gwaialar.⁶ See Penzance, Festiniog.⁷ A contemporary deed passes How^o up Gruffudd up Dafydd to have been alive on the 23d August 23d Henry VIII. (1511), and to have then had a son named Robert. This family owned Dd's manor in the Vale of Festiniog.⁸ Iwan or Rob^o is commonly styled Evan Evans, eldest son and successor of Robert up Iwan, by Elizabeth, daughter of John Wynn up Cadwalader, of Rhiwlas, was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1635. His marriage must have been added subsequently to the date of this pedigree, for at that time his wife was a mere infant, as her father's first marriage did not take place till 1578, and she was the third daughter of a second marriage. Catherine, eldest daughter, and at length heiress, of Evan Evans, Esq. grandson of Evan Iest-methiure, was wife of Robert Gryffydd, of Bachy-saint, in Carmarthenshire. He was living in 1725. Their descendant, Margaret, only child of Evan Gryffydd, Esq. conveyed the Tany-lwlch estates, by marriage, to William Oakley Esq. of an ancient family in Shropshire, and elder brother of the late Sir Charles Oakley, Bart. She died in 1800, and he in 1811. They left an only child, the late William Gryffydd Oakley, Esq. who, dying in December, 1855, left this beautiful place, and its ample possessions, to his widow, the present march and very deservedly respected Mrs. Oakley. For the armorial bearings of this house, see note page 121.

² See note, page 88. In a pedigree of some of the descendants of Ririd Flaidd, by Mr. Vaughan, of Hengwrt, the Merionethshire antiquary, "Malcol ap Ririd Flaidd" does not appear to have had a son named Rhys.

⁴ See Rhysgob.

⁵ Ellis Prys, Doctor of Civil Law, of Plas Iolyn, in Denbighshire, M.P. for the county of Merioneth, in the first and second Parliaments of Queen Elizabeth (1559 and 1563).

⁶ "Nicklas ap Thomas, &c. or an lle." It is not clear what place is intended.

⁸ At page 221, the line of this family, without, however, the surname of Palkws (Palgus) being mentioned, is deduced from Ffifio ap Ieuan Coler. This would make Jenkin ap John ap Ffifio, and Reinold ap John ap Ffifio, in the pedigrees of the Tal Treddyn and Llwyn Galfri families, sons of John Palkws ap Ffifio Palkws, in the pedigree of that house; but in it, John Palkws does not appear to have had some of the above names. The Palgus family may have been lineally descended from one of the earlier Colers, of Harlech (see page 220), but not, I suspect, from the person to whom it is traced at page 221.—"Jankyn ap John Vian," and "John Palgous," are the one party, the other witness to a deed, dated in the first year of Richard III. If the former was one of the latter, would he not have been styled Jankyn ap John Palgus? "John Vivian le Coler," and "Vivian Palgus," also, are the one party, the other witness to a deed, dated in 1440; and John, son of William Palgus, is also witness, with the latter, to one dated in that year. I have little doubt, from what follows the first passage in this pedigree, that that passage, in the frequent repetition of the Christian name of John, is very erroneous; and that John Philip, who certifies the pedigree (brother of Mary ferech Philip, whose name occurs at page 221), is the person intended.

See passage beginning "Rhys ap Ieuan a brosedol." &c.

¹⁰ Richard Falkos ap Robert Falkos is witness to a deed, dated 1st September, 1st Henry VIII. (1509).

¹¹ John Philip, or "Sion Phylip," according to his poetic designation, who certifies this pedigree, was a Welsh poet of some eminence. He died in 1620, at the age of 80, in Ardudwy in hundred of Merionethshire, in which stands the town of Harlech, where, or in its neighbourhood, the Palgus family appears to have been seated, who flourished from about 1570 to 1590. Another, probably, of this family, Griffith Philip, was author of some poetry, written in and about the year 1658, and Philip John Philip, author of a poem in 1674. For the armorial insignia of the Palgus family, see a future page.

¹³ Elize ap William Lloyd, Esq. was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1565.

¹⁴ In a deed of settlement, to which Morg⁴ ap John ap Mrethyl, is a party, dated on the next Monday after the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, 4th Henry VIII. (15th August, 1511), this William is styled "first born son" of his father.

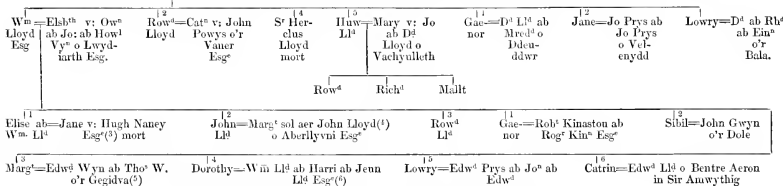

¹⁵ A great portion of this pedigree, from "Owen Gwynedd" upwards, will be found in the History of Wales.

² Alford, Arghyldd Macnoher. In another pedigree I have seen him styled "Arnulf, King of Dublin."

³ See Nannau. She was married, secondly, to Lewis Gwyn, Esq. of Dolauwyn, in the parish of Toxyn.

⁴ John Lloyd succeeded his brother in the Rhiwaeod estate, was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1616, and died in November 1616, without issue.

⁶ Vyr, three eagles displayed, in fess, or.

⁸ Huw Nannau, Esq. was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1587, and was living on the 1st of February, 40th of Elizabeth (1598).

25d Henry VI.; and the "farm" of the Mill of Llanvachreth granted to them by that Michaelmas 33th Henry VI. for four years.

¹² See notes to "Beth o ach Nannau."

¹⁷ In a pedigree, by Robert Vaughan of Hongert above-mentioned, the wife of Ynyr Vychan is stated to have been a daughter of Gruffydd ap Gwyn ap Eneoc ap Seussell¹. Gwewnywya, son of Owen Cwyllog, Prince of Powys, was not descended from Einion ap Seisyllt, who was contemporary with Owen, and lived in the time of Prince Llewelyn ap Iorwerth.

³ Gruffydd Nannau, Esq. (son of Hugh), was born upon Friday the 11th June, 1568, and was M.P. for Merionethshire in the Parliament which met on the 14th November, 1592. See Rhivlas.

⁴ Lewis Gwyn (of Dolauwyn). See Ynys-y-maengwyn. She was his first wife, and for her he had an only daughter and heiress, Jane, wife of Griffith Nannau, of Nannau, Esq. (who died in 1655), son of Haw, whose name appears at the bottom of the pedigree.

⁶ John Hughes, of Maes-y-pandy. Gwyn was married, secondly, to John Pugh; and her sister, Mary, was wife of Edward Tanat, of Nenaddeu, in Montgomeryshire.

⁷ Haw, eldest son of Gruffydd Nannau, last mentioned, was born upon the 22d of October, 1588; was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1627 and 1638, and died in 1647 or 1648. This last generation, therefore, must have been added subsequently to the date of the pedigree, probably, however, by Lewis Dorn. His wife was Ann, daughter of Griffith Vaughan, of Cerysgold, Esq., and she was "aged 48" in 1632. John, the second son, was born about 1600; and married Ellen, daughter of Edward Edwards, Esq.

⁸ Anne was born about 1591, and died, without issue, probably unmarried.

¹⁶ Robert Nanney was a merchant in London. His wife was Joyce, daughter of ¹⁷ Rhys Nanney died without issue.
¹⁸ Richard Nanney was born in, or immediately about, the year 1575; was in Holy Orders, and Rector of Llanglynin, and Vicar of Towyn, in Merionethshire. He was married to a daughter of Hugh Gwyn, of Pennarth; died about the year 1634, and left a widow, Eleanor, who was living upon the 10th of January, 1646.
²⁰ John Eaton (Eyton), of Eytun, in Deuoligshire. He was Steward, or Seneschal, of the Lordship of Brunfield, in 1477.
²¹ Sir Roger Kynaston was Sheriff for Shropshire in 1492; and the office of Constable of the Castle of Harlech was conferred to him in the Parliament of the 12th and 13th Edward IV. (1472-3). He also received a grant of the same office in the first year of Richard III. Through Elizabeth, Sir Roger's wife, his representatives have in modern times advanced a claim to the ancient barony of Powys. It would appear, from Blakeway's Sheriffs of Shropshire, that a generation is omitted in this pedigree, in the line of Kynaston, and that Gruffydd was son of Madoc, son of John (or Jenkin, which is the same), who was living in 1398.
²² Harri, Earl of Tankerville, in Normandy. He was living 26th Henry VI.
²³ Antigone was an illegitimate daughter of Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester.
²⁴ She died 14th Henry VI. (1426). Her father, Edward Charlton, was summoned to Parliament as "Edwardus de Charlton de Poyys," from the 3d Henry IV., to 5th Henry V., and died in 14th Henry V. (1422). He was the fifth Lord Powys of that family.
²⁵ "Hawys Gadarn gwaig Edward." Her name was Eleanor. She was daughter of Thomas Holland, Earl of Kent, and was married, first, to Roger Mortimer, Earl of March, and, secondly, to Edward, Lord Powys. She was half-sister to King Richard II., through her mother, Joane, the "Fair Maid of Kent," who, after the death of the Earl, was wife of Edward the Black Prince. Hawys Gadarn was heiress of Powys, and wife of John de Charlton, summoned to Parliament 7th Edward III. She was living 14th Edward III. (1345).
²⁶ The armorial bearing attributed to Bleddyn ap Cynvyn is, or, a lion rampant gules, crowned of the field.—Owen's British Remains.
²⁷ The coat of the Nanneys is, or, a lion rampant azure—that of Cadwan of Nannau. Colonel Hugh Nannau, grandson of Haw, the last in the pedigree, was twenty-four years of age in 1667. He died M.P. and Colonel of the Militia for the county of Merioneth, and Vice-Admiral of North Wales, in the last year of King William III. (Monument at Llensarboeth.) By Katherine, his wife, daughter of William Vaughan, of Cwsg-gedol, Esq. and relict of Griffith Wynn, Esq. of Bodion, in the county of Carnarvon, he had four daughters. Anne, the eldest, died unmarried in 1729, in her 37th year. Katherine, the second, was married in 1732, to William Vaughan, of Cwsg-gedol, Esq. Lieutenant, Custos Rotularum, and M.P. for the county of Merioneth. They had an only child, Anne, married to David Jones Gwynne, Esq. of Talisari, in Carmarthenshire; but she died, without issue, on the 1st September, 1757. Janet, the third daughter of Colonel Nanney, was wife of Robert Vaughan, of Henegert, Esq. by whom she had several children. The eldest, Hugh, succeeded, eventually, to the Nanney estates; but died unmarried. The next brother, Robert Howel Vaughan, of Nanney and Henegert, Esq. was raised to the dignity of a Baronet in 1792, and was father of the late highly respected possessor of Nanney, or, as it is now spelled, Nannau, who, for more than forty-four years, represented, uninterruptedly, the county of Merioneth in Parliament. He was also father of Griffith ap Howel Vaughan, now of Hug and Henegert, Esq. Commandant of the Merioneth Militia, and Edward William Vaughan, Colonel in the Guards, who, upon inheriting the Rig estates, assumed the additional surname of Salesbury, and died in 1807. Mary, the youngest daughter of Colonel Nanney, is believed to have died unmarried.

² Robert ap Rhys was chaplain to Cardinal Wolsey, and is party to a deed, dated 23d November, 1525. His tomb, as also that of his father, Rhys ap Meredith, to whom, at the battle of Bosworth, Henry VII. entrusted the standard of England, after the bearer, Sir William Brandon, was slain by Richard." (Penman's Wales), is still to be seen within the church of Ysgrty, in Denbighshire.

³ Marchweithian, "a chieftain of Is-Dulas, in Denbighshire, who lived about the beginning of the eighth century. He was head of one of the Fifteen Tribes of North Wales, from whom the families of Is-Dulas trace their descent."—Cambrian Biography. If it be true that Marchweithian lived at so early a period, there must have been many more generations than are here given between him and Rhys ap Meredith. In an account of the Tribes of North Wales, in the Cambrian Register for 1796, it is stated that the lands of this chieftain were "Carwed Fynydd, Dinecfael, Pres, Bernin, Llyswen, and many other townships within the hundred of Is-Aled, as appears by the extent of the Lordship and Honour of Denbigh, made in the eighth year of Edward III. at what time Cynwrig Fychan, being the ninth in descent from Marchweithian (in this pedigree, not reckoning the chieftain himself, he is the eighth), lived."

⁴ Marchudd was of T'weh-Dulas, in Denbighshire, and is said to have lived about the middle of the eighth century.

⁶ Hbi Vdyon, of Tal, a chieftain who lived in the middle of the twelfth century, and married Elen, daughter of Prince Gryffydd ap Cynan.

⁷ Gronwy (or Grono Llyod) ap y Penwyn was one of the Jury for taking the extent of Nant Conry, upon the next Monday after the Festival of the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 26th Edward III. (31st December, 1322).

³ John Wyn also adopted the surname of Price, and was of Cwmmain. His wife was Margaret, daughter of Ellis Vaughan, in the next pedigree.

⁴ Of Fanybwlch.

⁵ See preceding pedigree.

⁶ John Prys was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1609.

⁷ John Lloyd of Vaeol, near St. Asaph, Registrar of that Diocese. Where his property, in Merionethshire, was situated, I am unable to discover; but he was Sheriff for that county in 1613.

⁸ Elisbeth was married prior to, or upon the 12th October, 1557.

⁹ Jane was married, first, to George Puleston, of Emral, Esq.; secondly, to Ellis Sutton, Esq.; and died 5th March, 1664 (probably 1664-5).

¹⁰ Howel y Gadair was brother to Ieuan ap Griffith ap Madog, in the succeeding pedigree. ¹¹ Gules, a lion rampant—argent, armed, &c. azure.

¹² Argent, a ree gules.

¹³ Vert, a chevron between three wolves' heads erased argent.

¹⁴ Howel Vyehian is lessee in a deed, dated 8th November, 2d and 2d Philip and Mary (1555), and grantee in another one of 13th September, 10th Elizabeth (1568).

¹⁵ His tomb is extant within the church of Llanuwchllyn, and if there is not a mistake in the inscription upon it, or a figure has been broken off, he died in 1570; but I find a person of the same name, and I am inclined to think him one of the jury in an inquisition held at Bala, upon the next Friday after the Festival of the Assumption, 48th Edward III. (1st September, 1374).

¹⁶ Celynn, of Llywdiarth, in Powisland.

¹⁷ He was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1594. His son, John, who was living in 1636, by Mary, his wife, daughter of Roger Kynastor, of Hordley, Esq., carried on the line of this family.

¹⁸ The inquisition upon his death was taken 8th January, 45th Elizabeth (1603).

¹⁹ Thomas Wyn ap Richard, of Plas Newydd, in Denbighshire. Jane was married secondly, to Humphrey Hughes, Esq. of Gwercia.

¹ According to a pedigree, by the Merionethshire Antiquary, Robert Vaughan, "Dafydd Lloyd" had five sons and four daughters, by which of his wives they severally were Vaughan does not state. The names of the sons, as given by him, are as follows: Llewelyn, Robert Lloyd, of Nantreiner, Howel Vaughan, Owen, William Vaughan. The daughters are not mentioned by name, but they are stated to have been married, the eldest to Robert Wynne, of Macmore, Esq.; the second, to Sir John, of Gwynyston, and, after his death, to Pennant of Bickton; the third, to Richard ap Griffith ap Iwan ap y Gwyn, of Henllys, gentleman; and the fourth to a gentleman of Bromfield, whose name is not given.

³ Gweillan, daughter of Elisev ap Cynwric ap Rhysallan, a nobleman of Bromfield in the pedigree referred to above.

⁵ She is the only wife mentioned in Robert Vaughan's pedigree. For her lineage, see Henry's list.

⁶ Ellis Vyehan is party to a deed, dated 5d May, 1626, and is styled in it, "of Bromfield, in the county of Merioneth."

⁸ Jane, daughter of Ellis Vyehan, was married to Cadwallader Watkin, of Garth-Wald, gentleman, who was buried at Llanedderf, 27th May, 1622, and by him was mother of Grace, the first wife of Edmund Meyrick, of Ucheldre, Esq., Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1633.

⁹ Margaret was married to John Price, of Cwmmein, gentleman. See notes, page 226.

¹¹ Elsbeth was married to Cadwallader Lewis, gentleman, of Llwynygern, in Ffestiniog, in the county of Merioneth.

¹² Dory was married to David ap Iwan ap David, of Cerrig-y-drudion, in the county of Denbigh, gentleman.

¹⁴ Eimon ap Llwylyn should be Eimon ap Griffith ap Llwylyn.

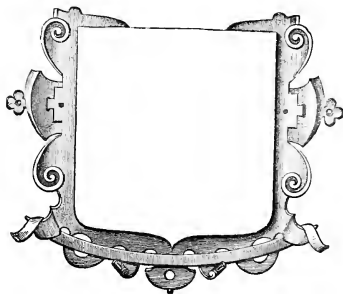

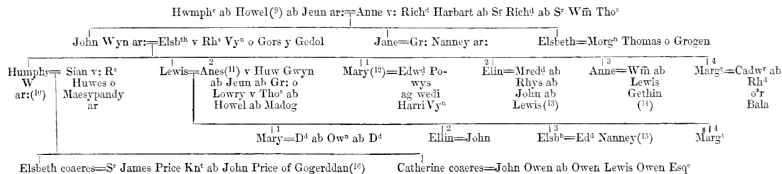

¹⁵ There was also another son, named Griffith, ancestor to the Vaughans of Cors-y-gedol; which see.

⁴ Sion ap Ievan Yrŷnau, of Caethle, in Merionethshire. ⁵ Howel ap Jenkin died of the plague in 1494.

⁶ Sir Roger Kynaston, of Herdley, in Shropshire, and Constable of the Castle of Harlech, and Sheriff of Shropshire in 1462.

⁹ Humphrey ap Howel died in 1545. His wife was Anne, or Agnes, daughter of Sir Richard Herbert, of Montgomery, Knight.

¹⁰ "Hunfre ap John Wynne, of Towie, gent." doubtless this person is party to a deed, dated the 24 December, 1571.

¹² She married, secondly, Harry Vaughan, of Machylylleth, gentleman.

Powsy is party to a bond, dated 15th January, 16th Elizabeth (1574). See also note at another page.

¹³ Mredyd ap Rhys was of Abergywdol, in the parish of Darowen. His will is dated 17th March, 1630.

¹⁴ Of Dolgelly: of the same line as Vaughan of Cae Rnwech.

¹⁵ Edward Nanney was born in, or immediately about, the year 1578. See also Nanney.

¹⁶ Sir James Pryse, Knight, was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1608. By an inscription on his picture, now remaining at Yr-y-maengwyn, he appears to have been of the age of 47 in 1618. She died 17th May, 1642. Bridget, only child and heiress of Sir James Pryse and Elizabeth Wynne, was married, first, to Robert Corbet, third son of Sir Vincent Corbet, of Morton Corbet, in the county of Salop, Knight. She is party to a deed, as his widow, dated 21st January, 20th Charles I. (1644-5). She married, secondly, Walter Lloyd, Esq., of Llanfair Clynoglan, in Cardiganshire, who, with her, executes a deed, dated 21st of May, 1652. Walter Lloyd was subsequently knighted. He died before her; and she, being his widow, is party to a deed, dated 2d April, 1662. The Yr-y-maengwyn estates having, for several generations, been vested in the Corbet family, descendants of the above-mentioned Bridget, by her first husband, were conveyed to the Owens of Rhiwaeod, in Montgomeryshire, by the marriage of Anne, eldest daughter and heiress of Vincent Corbet, Esq., with Athelstan Owen, Esq. Mrs. Owen died on the 15th of July, 1700, aged 76. By her an entail was created, settling Yr-y-maengwyn, and its extensive possessions, upon the descendants of her youngest daughter (her two sons died issueless), Anne, wife of Price Maurice, Esq., of Llanon, in Denbighshire, upon the condition of their assuming the name of Corbet. Under this entail, these estates eventually were vested in the late Athelstan Corbet (previously Maurice), Esq., who died on the 29th December, 1835. They are now held in trust, for the future benefit of his niece, now a minor, eldest child of his sister Anne, by her marriage with Charles Decimus Williams, Esq.

² Dafydd Lloyd purchased the mansion and demesnes of Ghanlyth, in the parish of Llanywlllyn, from Jenkin ap Rees ap Howel, in the 13th year of Henry VI.

³ The Yrse estate is believed to have been sold in 1749, together with Cergwl, by the Rev. Henry Mainwaring, and Mary Elizabeth, his wife, daughter, and at length heiress of John Vaughan, Esq. Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1709, to Sir Watkin Williams Wynne, Baronet. It belongs to the present Sir Watkin.

This chieftain, "by his valour in battle obtained from his prince, Gwyrddol ap Madog, lord of Dinas Brân, the honorable distinction in his arms of four bloody strokes, or in the heraldic phrase, pale of eight, or & gules." For, while he was talking to his Prince after the fight, with his left hand smeared with blood, he accidentally drew it across his sword, & left on it the marks of his four fingers. The prince, observing this, ordered him to carry them on his shield; & at the same time bestowed on him the township of Gellgwyn in this neighbourhood, as a more ostentatious mark of his favor. —By grant, dated in Yal, on the Vigil of St. Egidius, 1256.

¹ He was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1639, at which time he was 47 years of age. Jane, one of his daughters and co-heirs, heiress of Maes-y-neuadd, of which her mother was also heiress, was wife of Maurice Wynne, second son of William Wynne, of Glyn, Esq. From them John Nanney, the present youthful possessor of Maes-y-neuadd is, in a direct line, descended; the name of Nanney having been assumed by his grandfather, William Wynne, Esq. who died 4th April, 1705.

² Cadwallader, eldest son of Maurice ap Robert Wynne, of Glyn, Esq. He is party to a deed, dated 7th May, 1692, and died before his father, without issue. His widow remarried William Tudor, of Egryn, and had no issue by him.

³ See Trawsvynydd.

⁴ Gwen Lloyd was wife of Lewis Nanney, of Cefn-den-dwr. See next pedigree. ⁵ Richard Nanney was alive, probably, on the 3d of April, 16th Edward VI. (1522). His next brother, according to a pedigree in the Harleian MS. No. 2299, was Hugh. This MS. I believe to be a transcript of one at Naoson, in the autograph of the Merionethshire Antiquary, Robert Vaughan, so frequently mentioned in these notes.

⁷ This again differs from the pedigree in the Harleian MS. No. 2299, where the wife of John (who is there called "John Wyn"), is represented as Sioned, daughter of Thomas ap Llewelyn Vychan, of Harlech; and to Ieuan, the younger brother of John, no wife is given.

⁸ See Dolgellu.

⁹ Ellen, according to other pedigrees. See also Rhiwgoch.

¹⁰ Gwynn Richard Nanney, son of Lewis.

¹¹ Son of Richard, last named, by Elizabeth Lloyd. He was living upon the 20th of August, 1555. His wife was Gwen, daughter of Robert Lloyd, of Rhiwgoch, Esq.

¹² In the MS. referred to above, the name of the eldest daughter of Richard Nanney is not mentioned, but she is stated to have been married to "Ieuan ap Hugh ap Ieuan ap Edward," and Catherine, the other daughter, to "Morris ap Rhys ap Owen ap Morris."

¹³ The last lineal representative of this ancient family died in the present century, when his estates passed, under his will, to his nephew, David Ellis, Esq. of Gwynnryn, in Carmarvonshire, who assumed, in consequence, the additional surname of Nanney. He died without issue, in 1819, leaving the united properties of Gwynnryn and Cefn-den-dwr, to his sister's son, Owen Jones, Esq. of Brynkir, in the county of Carmarvon, who has taken, after his own surname, those of Ellis and Nanney. Cefn-den-dwr is converted into a farm house, Gwynnryn being the residence of the present owner of these estates.

⁴ Anne died in 1541; Humphry Jones, her husband, is party to a deed, dated 15th June, 1617; and died in January 1619 (probably 1618-20). He was "Receiver of the King's Revenue in North Wales." His father, Morris Jones, Baron of the Exchequer of Carnarvon, and Clerk of the Peace for Carnarvonshire, died in 1604.

⁵ She was wife of Rowland, son of John Wyn Owen, of Llanfachtyl, in Anglesey. See another page.

⁶ She was married to Robert Bulkeley of Gronant.

⁷ Owen Mredydd was instituted to the Prebendaryship of Bangor Cathedral, 21st October, 1615; and was also Rector of Llanistyn, in Glyn, to which he was instituted 26th September, 1590. He was buried at Llanistyn on the 23rd November, 1612.

⁸ She had previously been the wife of William ap Hugh Gwyn.

⁹ Thomas, son of Owen Mredydd, was entered at All Soul's College, Oxford, on the 23rd November, 1621, aged 19. According to a pedigree, in a MS. of Ellis of Talorcrossion, before referred to in these notes, the other children of Owen Mredydd were, besides Humphry and John, Richard, and Ann. Lewis Owen's account of the family certainly rests upon better authority. Perhaps the two last may have died young, and therefore were not named to him.

¹⁰ See Poole.

¹¹ See Penarth.

¹² Margaret, in the "History of the Gwydir Family." See Gweadir.

¹³ See Cyfnewid.

¹⁴ The heiress of this family, Anna Maria, only child of Meyrick Meredith, Esq, was wife, first, of John Mostyn, Esq, of Segrewyd, in Denbighshire, and, secondly, of Watkin Edwards Wynne, Esq, of Pengwern, in Merionethshire, and Llwyn, in Denbighshire. By her first husband she had two children, a son and daughter. Portions of her estates, including, it is believed, those in the parish of Clynog, were sold under a clause in her will; the remainder are vested in trustees, for the use hereafter of her grandson, Bertie Mostyn, Esq, the representative of that branch of the Mostyn family. For the arms of the Meredith family, see Rhingobog, the Lloyds of which place gave the same bearing, being descended from a common ancestor.

¹⁶ John Powys, father of Edward, was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1543. The site of the dissolved Monastery of Vaner or Cymmer, with the greater portion of its possessions, was granted in perpetuity, or leased to him, on the 19th April, 1550. He is styled, in a charter of the reign of Edward VI., "John Powes de Hospicio suo gnt," (the King's household); and in the accounts of the Chamberlain of North Wales, for 1st and 2d Philip and Mary, (1554), "Johannes Powes, ar' hall' nup Mon' Kymer." He was alive in the 4th and 5th Philip and Mary. The line of ancestry of this family, as here given, differs materially from that in Davies's Display of Heraldry.

"Grifri ap Gwyn ag Grifydd," here occurs twice, there but once. Beli is here made the son of Brochwel ap Aeldan; there, the son of Selyf, and grandson of Brochwel, and Elizan, who in this pedigree is represented as son of Selyf Sargh Cadan, is in Davies's book made to have been son of "Hwyllawg ap Beli (another of the latter name) ap Mad Myran, alias Myrion ap Selyf Sargh Cadan." &c. According to Davies, Brochwel Ysgithrog flourished early in the seventh century; but in the Cambrian Biography, Selyf Sargh Cadan, his grandson, is stated to have lived about the middle of the sixth.

⁹ Dafydd Lloyd is party to a deed dated on the 15th of March, 9 James I. (1612.)

¹³ There appears to be some omission here. This is the first mention that is seen made of Elize ap Dafydd Lloyd.

¹⁶ Of Dolgellau.

¹⁷ Robert Vaughan of Caerwynch, Gent., third in descent from Tudor Vychan above mentioned, was buried at Dolgellau, July 20th, 1693. His wife, Margaret, one of the daughters of Robert Vaughan of Hengwrt, Esq., "the Anti-pary," had previously been the wife of William Pryce, B.D., Rector of Dolgellau, who was buried there October 25th, 1646. This William Pryce was graduated A.M. on the 21st of June, 1619, and instituted to the above mentioned Rectory on the 10th of February, 1621. He was the first Moral Philosophy Reader at Oxford, after the foundation of that lecture by Dr. Thomas White. Grace, daughter and heiress of Robert Vaughan of Caerwynch, must have been of full age upon the 20th of August, 1676, as she executes a deed on that day. She was married at Dolgellau, on the 6th of November, 1639. Her husband was John Humphreys, (who had been previously married, and had issue,) fourth son of "Captain William Humphreys," of Merthyr, in the parish of Gwyddelwern, by Dorothy, his wife,

JOHN DAVIES.

A daughter of Peter Myrick of Uchelref, Esq., Captain William Humphreys was one of the Commissioners for assessing the subsidy in the County of Merioneth, in 1577. Peter Myrick, Esq., died 9th November, 1609, in his 66th year, and was buried at Ruthin on the 10th of the same month. The great grandchild of the above mentioned Grace, Catherine, only child of Robert Vaughan Humphreys, Esq., Sheriff for Merionethshire, in 1709, was wife of that learned and highly respected Judge, the Right Hon. Sir Richard Richards, Knight, Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, by him she had a numerous and talented family. Her eldest son, Richard Richards, Esq., one of the Masters in Chancery, is the present owner of Cerynwech. He is credited to represent the county of Merioneth in Parliament, upon the resignation of Sir Robert Williams Vaughan, Bart. in June 1835, and is the present member. The old mansion of Cerynwech, now used as a farm house, is curious as a specimen of the residences, in former days, of the Welsh gentry of the class to which it belonged. It covers a considerable extent of ground, but down stairs has only one sitting room, square, and about eight feet high, adjoining to which is a hall, apparently of the same size. Over this is what appears to have been a drawing room, handsomely wainscoted with oak, but open to the "valley" of the roof, and the rafters showing so low, at the sides of the room, as not to admit of a person standing upright. The rest of the house consists of a few bedrooms and the offices. The whole building is very irregular, and seems to have been erected without any plan, and probably at different times. The present mansion is a capacious modern one, at a short distance from the former.

² Llewys ap Owen was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1560 and 1565, and M.P. for the same county in the Parliaments which met 8th November, 1547, 1st March, 1552-3, and 12th November, 1554. The following account of his murder, in 1555, written by his great grandson, Robert Vaughan, of Hengwart, affords a fair specimen of the then lawless state of society in the district where it occurred.—"Lewys Owen, esq. vice-chamberlain and Baron of y^e Excheq^r of Northwales, lived in great credit and authority in y^e time of King Hen. 8. Edw. 6. and Queen Mary, as it appears by their letters under these Signes manuell directed to him & John Wynne ap Meredith of Gwiorh Kap^t teaching masters that concerned the peace & quiet governm^t of the county, as the apprehending of and punishing of felons & outlaws, (which from y^e civile warres betwixt Yorke and Lincaster abounded in y^e country, and never left resting, burning of houses, & murdering of people, in soe much that being very numerous they did often drive great droves of cattell sometimes to y^e number of a hundred & more from one country to another at middle-day, as in the tyme of warre wth out feare, shame, pittie, or punishment to the utter undoing of the poorer sort.) And they in performance of y^e duties required by some of these letters, (being authorized to call in their owne power of the Countie, and also to Levee Sessions of Court deliv^r where when occasion required) raised a great company of talle & lustie men, and on a Christmas eve tooke above 80 felons and outlaws, whome they punished according to the nature of their delinquencies; as y^e noble Sr Jo. Wynn of Gwiorh K^t (author of the History of the wylsh Family, died 1st March, 1625, probably 1256-7), & Beronet grandchild of y^e former John Wynn often told me. The letters after-ensyd I have seen & read, and are yet extant in the house of Gwiorh. Afterwards the sayd Lewis Owen, being high shiriff of y^e County of Merioneth, having occasion to goe to Montgomery shipp-assizes, to treat wth the Lord of Menthwath, about a marriage to be had betwixt J^{as} Owen, his sonne and heere, & y^e daughter of y^e sayd Lord deliv^r in his returne met by a damned crew of thieves & outlaws, who in the thick woods of Menthwath lay in wait for his coming, & had cutt downe hoo trees to crosse y^e way and hinder his passage, & being come to the place, they lett the air thin wth a shower of arrows, who shot him in the head, the which he took out with his hand & leake it, then they fell upon him with their bills & javelins, & killed him, hee was no more than the first assant d^o d. Jett him away accompanied with his son in law John Lloyd, of Kresswyn, Esq^r, who defended him till he fell down to the ground as dead, where he was found having above 300; thowly wounded in his body. This cruelty murder was committed about allhallowe tide in y^e year of our Lord 1555. And the murderers soon after were for y^e most parte taken & executed, some few held the land, & never returned. And soe, with the losse of his life, he purchased peace & quietnes to his country, the wch. God be prayesd, we enjoy even to o^r dayes." Baron Owen was murdered on the 11th of October, 1555. The place where he was assassinated is known as the day of Llanidary-Burn, the Baron's gate; and the woodland adjoining, as Ffildy-y-Groes, the enclosure of the cross, a cross having probably been erected to mark the spot, as I believe is common in Roman Catholic countries.

⁴ Ilywlyn ap Gruffydd ddu, "asoull his lands & tenements in Kerev rysh, called Llancwys, Tylwyn Fawr Glyn, & divers other lands in Estimatour, to Tullt ap Iechan ap Tullt ap Gruff. of Cardif, as by y^e Records & evidences of y^e house is manifest."

⁷ In another pedigree I find these generations reversed, Cadwgan ap Gruffydd.

¹² See Pulestou. He was brother to Sir John Pulestou, Knight, who died in 1550.

5 Hugh Lewis, of Cwberllan. The same remark applies here as in the note above, relating to his brother John. Hugh is described as "learned in the law," probably a barrister. He represented the county of Merioneth, in the Parliament which began 24 April, 1571, and was living in 1590. The present Edward Pugh Owen, Esq. of Cwberllan, is eighth in direct descent from him.

6 See Rhwllas.

7 Edward Lloyd, of Trevegwys, or Berthlwyd, god. father of Dr. David Lloyd, warden of Ruthin, Rector of Wivick, county of Lancaster, and Dean of St. Asaph, who died in 1603. According to another pedigree, Anne was wife of Humphrey ag Jehu, or Jones, and Ursula of Edward Lloyd.

8 Edward Owen was a deed, in which he is described as of Hengwrt, dated 20th November, 1st Elizabeth, probably 20th November, 1559, though the 20th of that month, in the first of Elizabeth, was in the preceding year; but Elizabeth did not ascend the throne till the 17th November, 1558, and the news of her accession, in these days of slow travelling, would hardly have reached Merioneth by the 20th. He was alive on the 10th May, 1601. His son, Robert (the only one who left issue), living upon the 24th November, 1608, had an only daughter, who was twice married. Her first husband was a gentleman of the name of Foster, residing near Northampton; who the second was is uncertain, but probably she died without issue. The Hengwrt estate passed, it is supposed by bequest, to Margaret, second daughter of Edward Owen, or her descendants. She married Howel Vaughan, of Gwengraig, god. here described as Howel ag Gryffid. He is party to a bond, as "Howel Vaughan ag Griffith ag Howel, gent.," dated 24th November, 1608. Their eldest son was the antiquary Robert Vaughan, from whom the late Sir Robert Williams Vaughan, Bart., was fifth in descent. Hengwrt belongs to Lieut.-Colonel Vaughan, younger brother to Sir Robert.

9 Gryffid Owen was of Tal-y-bont, in the parish of Llansgrynny, which place, with extensive privileges attached to it, under the name of the demesne lands of Llansgrynny, or manor of Tal-y-bont, he obtained by purchase from the Crown. He was living in the 12th year of James I. Through his marriage with Elizabeth, one of the sisters of William David Lloyd, of Peniarth, Esq. Lewys, his eldest son, who died in 1633, he came possessed of that estate. Upon Huw, son of Gryffid Owen, his father settled Tal-y-bont. Huw died in March, 1651; and was founder, by will, of the free-school at Llansgrynny. The son named Robert I had found in the pedigree by Lewis Dwnn only. There was another son, named Henry, who was in holy orders, and father of the celebrated Dr. John Owen, Dean of Christ Church.

10 Robert Owen was of Dely-y-son, and an Attorney in the Court of the Marches of Wales. A MS. in the autograph of his grand-nephew, the above-mentioned Robert Vaughan, of Hengwrt, states his issue to have been, Humphrey, Harry, Symon, "Mr Jed Owen a preacher of Gods word," Ledwio, and three daughters. It is probable that John, Owen, here should have been written John Owen, one person, and that he died young; for it seems unlikely that this pedigree, certified by the brother of Robert Owen, is incorrect, or that so indefatigable a genealogist as Robert Vaughan should be so on a point relating to a family closely allied to himself.

11 Lewis and Robert, the sons of Simon Owen, were living in 1636. The former was of Hafod-y-wyl, in the parish of Dolgelly. 12 Hengwrt in Herefordshire.—Fox.

13 Sir John Burch was Sheriff for Shropshire in 1442, and died about the 11th year of Edward IV.

14 For the arms borne by almost every branch of this house, see Note, page . The amended bearing of the descendants of Jestyn ag Gwrgan is, gules, three chevrons argent.

15 An old letter, in one of the Harleian MSS. represents the crest of Baron Owen as having been "a cock's head crested holding a snake in his mouth;" the crest, as here described, the griffin's head, appears to have been borne by the Peniarth branch of this house.

16 Of the family, whose descent is here given, two direct branches, at least, are certainly in existence. Of these one, as has before been stated, is that of Cwberllan, and there can be no doubt that the present Edward Owen, of Gwrtgharthgell, Esq., is lineally descended from the Baron. In an indirect line, there is scarcely an old family in the neighbourhood of Dolgelly that may not be traced to him, and certainly several in the hundred of Tal-y-bont who inherit their lands, though not in lineal descent, from Baron Owen, or one of his sons.

17 Rhes Nicholas, Esq., was Sheriff for Merionethshire, 1582, and died before the 19th November, 1608.

² Dafydd ag Ilywelyn was Prince of North Wales from 1240 to 1246. He is said to have left his issue.—(Wynne's History of Wales). Probably his son, David, was illegitimate.

⁴ He was alive upon the 19th November, 1608.

⁷ See Ynys-y-maenwyn.

⁸ Rhys Hughes had another daughter, named Eilwy, who was married to Lewis, son of Richard Nanney.—See Cefn-llw-dwr.

⁹ Pals Cariadog, Aco=Azure, a Bon rampant party per fess and argent, in a bordure of the third, some of annulets saltire, but in another MS. (I think in the Harleian Library), the arms of this house are represented as the same as that borne by the Owens of Dolegelly (see Note, page 297.). The heiress of this family, Jane, daughter of John Hughes, Esq. married Lewis Nanney, son of Edward, a younger son of Hugh Nanney, of Nanney, Esq. He was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1382. She was married, secondly, to John Lloyd, of Coiswyn, Esq. Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1652 and 1667. The Maes-y-pandy estates, after having been vested for several generations in his family, passed into that of Wynon, of Maes-y-naudd, through the marriage of William Wynon, Esq. to Lucy, eldest sister of John Nanney, Esq. Their only son, William Wynon, Esq. Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1728, assumed the surname of Nanney. He died on the 4th April, 1793; and his grandson, John Nanney, a minor, is the present owner of the united estates of Maes-y-naudd and Maes-y-pandy.

¹¹ John ap Aron was living in the 24 year of King Henry VII.

¹² William ap Aron is party to a deed, dated 20th June, 9th Henry VIII.; and was alive upon the 26th June, 8th of Elizabeth (1566).

Tudur," the domicile of the grandchildren of Llywelyn ap Tudur, and the freeholders in the said "Wale" were "Eigis ap Aron, Gruff ap Aron," and others. "Wale," says Watson, "seems to have been an estate, descending to a child or children, from the same common stock; and what confirms this notion is, that a paragraph in the Laws of Howel Dda, which treats of dividing the inheritance first between brothers, secondly, between cousin germain, and lastly between second cousins (which is the last subdivision), concludes with these words—"An Dir gwelyo y dylwr ml y dywedaes ml." i. e. thus a paternal inheritance shall be divided."—Record of Carnarvon, page 8.

¹⁵ The following account of this chieftain, taken from a MS. written about the middle of the seventeenth century, is extracted from the Cambrian Register for 1796. "Edmowen ap Bradwen is by many writers called Lord of Merionidyl, but I apprehend erroneously, for the Princes and their issue were always Lords of Merionidyl. How he R, it might be that he (as others) took the same to firm, and therefore might be called Lord thereof. Yet certain it is that he & his issue were possessed of all Talbont (a comot or hundred of Merionethshire), save Nanney, & the Princes demesnes, & for the most part of the hundred of Estmainer in like manner. He is said to have lived in Gruffydd ap Cynan's time." [It has, however, been doubted whether he lived at so early a period; Prince Griffith ap Cynan died in 1137]. "The ruins of his house, Llys Bradwen, are to be seen in the township of Osgwyn in the hundred of Talbont Iserevnan. Llywelyn ap Tudur ag Gwyn ap Peredur ap Edmowen ap Bradwen, lived in the time of Edward the first, and did him homage with the Lords & gentry of Wales, as by the said King's records is manifest." Appended to the foregoing account of Edmowen, in the Cambrian Register, is a note giving the following description of his residence, the foundation of which may still be traced, but not even the fragment of a wall is standing.—"These ruins, which I have seen, consisting of large stones, as usually had to form the foundations of buildings, mark the form as well as the simplicity of the habitations of the ancient Regelli of Wales, agreeing exactly with the account given of them by Whittaker, in his History of Manchester, who says, 'they were commonly placed in the middle of a valley, & either upon the margin of one stream, or the confluence of two, for the convenience of water & security from winds. And the followers lived immediately about the person of their chief, or in little hokes along the windings of the valley, to be within reach of the usual signals of the Lord, the striking of the shield or the blowing of the horn.'"

The ichnography of Llys Bradwen presents nearly this figure the outward circular apartment being the audience hall & court of judicature, the oblong building the chief's own retirement, around this principal building there were the traces of others of various forms and dimensions."

¹⁷ John ap Dafydd is party to a deed, dated 2d February, 15th Elizabeth, (1573-3).

¹⁸ John ap Gruffydd ap Harri was living in July 1570. A generation is omitted in the line of his descent. Harri was the son of Griffith ap Elydydd ap Aron. Elydydd is said to have mainly assisted in concealing Owen Glyfyr, during the reverses of that chieftain, in a cave upon the sea shore, in the parish of Llanywddan, still known as Gwaf Owen.

¹⁹ See Dolgelle.

²⁰ Nest is synonymous with Agnes, which was her name.

²¹ In another pedigree she is named "Gwenydyr, or Catharine."

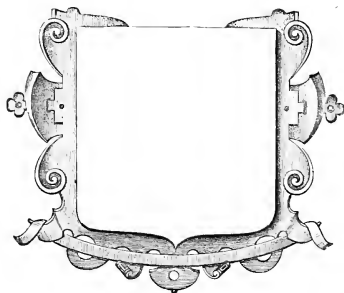

²² Thomas ap Dafydd of this family, this Gwennvryn is stated to have been a daughter of Howel ap Ievan Vyfan.

³ His tomb is yet standing within the church of Towy, in Merionethshire.

⁵ See a notice of Gwyddno Goronau in the Cambrian Biography. To those who believe in the mandation of "Cantref Gwaelod," it may be interesting. However, that a person of this name existed, and that his territories suffered from some great inundation, may be very true; and upon such a calamity has probably been founded the fable of the submersion of the district above mentioned. See Davies's Mythology of the Druids. In one pedigree, I find the descent of Gwaithvoed deduced from Gwyddno in a totally different string of names, making nine generations between them.

⁷ See Cŵr Rannwch.

⁸ These children must have died issueless, as in a deed relating to the Peniarth estate, dated 19th June, 1593, Lewis Owen, nephew to William David Lloyd, is called his heir.

¹¹ Upon the death of William David Lloyd, Esq., the Peniarth estate descended to his nephew and heir Lewis Owen 15th of his sister Elizabeth; by Griffith Owen—see Dalgettel, who executes a deed, and therefore must have attained the age of twenty-one upon the 1st of July, 1593. He died in 1633, leaving no male issue. Margaret, the eldest of his two daughters, succeeded him. She was married, first, to Richard Owen, of Marben (who died about 1627), son of John Owen, of Marbyllleth, Esq.; and, secondly, to Samuel Herbert, a cousin german of the celebrated Edward Lord Herbert, of Chirbury. Her eldest son, by her first husband, Lewis Owen, of Peniarth, Esq., M.P. for Merionethshire in the Parliament of 1633, was owner of the original 3ks. of Lewis Dwan's Visitation (see note, page 63.) In his family the estate continued for three subsequent generations. Jane, eldest daughter and heiress of his grandson, Lewis Owen, Esq., of Peniarth, Custos Rotulorum for Merionethshire, was married, first, to Richard, Viscount Bulkeley, of Cashell, and, secondly, to Edward Williams, Esq., a younger son of John, one of the younger sons of the Right Honourable Sir William Williams, Bart. Speaker of the House of Commons in the reign of King Charles II. By her first husband she had no issue, by her second three daughters, Lady Bulkeley died in March, 1765, and was succeeded by her eldest daughter and heiress, Jane, married in December, 1772, to William Wynne, Esq. of Wern, in the county of Carmarthen (see Glynn & Sully). Their eldest son, the late William Wynne, of Peniarth, Esq., Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1812, died on the 8th February, 1834, and his estates in that county (including the mansion and demesnes of Peniarth) and Montgomeryshire, are vested in trustees, under a deed dated in September, 1827, for the benefit of all his children equally.

¹ Hugh ap Dafydd was instituted to the Vicarage of Llangwn in 1221, the Rectory of Malldwy in 1227, and that of Machynlleth in 1249.

⁴ Edward Prys is party to a deed dated on the 26th of July, 1611.

⁵ He was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1659, and died without issue before the 22d of July, 1642.

⁷ See Taltraddyn, where Hari Prys is called "Harry ap Rhys." Lowry was the only child, by the first marriage, of Edward ap Robert Wm of Taltraddyn.

Robert) Middleton," who was Receiver of North Wales, in the reign of Edward IV., but he left male issue.

¹² Compare this with the pedigree of Taltraddyn. The latter is correct. See also Y Tyfnyce.

¹⁴ Argent, a cross fly engrailed, Sable, between four Cornish choughs; on a chief azure, a boar's head of the first.

¹ Ednyf Griffith, Esq., was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1603.

² Gwergidan, Cwrgilganrhe.

⁴ Ellis Price was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1552, 1556, 1564, 1569, 1574, 1579, and 1584.

⁶ Gruffydd ap Howel was farmer of the Ville of Dolgelly in the 19th year of Edward IV.

⁸ Rice Lloyd of Doly-gelynin, Gent., was living upon the 1st of July, 1609.

² Upon the partition of the estates of Sir John Brough (Burg), amongst his four daughters, two of whom were certainly named Elizabeth, the youngest, wife of Thomas Myton, Esq. had the Lordship of Mowddwy, which remained vested in their descendants till alienated by the late John Myton, of Halstone, Esq. to John Bird, Esq. of Bawdham, the present proprietor. Thomas Myton was Sheriff for Shropshire in 1412, and was living on the 13th May, 16th Henry VII. (1501).

⁴ Sir Hywel y Pechlan was so strong a man, that he could, it is said, straighten horse-shoes with simply his hands; and he was so represented in his monumental effigy in St. Peter's Church, Carmarthen, destroyed within the last thirty years. Hence his name. His mother was King Edward II.'s nurse, on which account he was knighted.—Ed.

⁵ Ieuan Lloyd ap Bafed was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1576.

IEUN AB HUGH 8s iiijd

¹ See Humphrey ap Richard was instituted to the Rectory of Llanbeulan, on the 6th August, 1513.

² His will is dated 24th January, 1558 (probably 1558-9), and was proved on the 6th March following.

Carmarvon, Sheriff in 1631. Their descendants, in the direct line, becoming extinct, the Elerion estate passed, by bequest, to Catherine, wife of William Wynne, Esq., of Wern, in the same county, daughter, and eventually heiress, of Gabriel Goodman, of Breanmore, merchant, by Elizabeth, his wife, one of the daughters of the above-mentioned William Glyne and Margaret Evans. This Catherine died in 1743; and, during the life-time of her grandson, William Wynne, Esq., of Wern and Peniarth, in M. rionethshire, who died in 1796, Elerion was alienated.

⁴ Richard Evans died about 1679.

JOHN DAVIES.

¹ He was Vicar of Maehynlleth in 1585, and was deprived of that preferment, wherefore, it does not appear.

² Richard Vaughan was Bishop of Bangor for two years, of Chester for seven, and of London for three, of which see he died Bishop on the 31st of March, 1607.

³ He is supposed to have held the Archdeaconry of Merioneth about the year 1422.

⁵ This pedigree is here confusedly drawn. It would seem that Dorothy was a daughter of Edward ap Rowland, but it is very doubtful whom it is intended to represent Margaret (lower down) as the account of the Revclaudes of Miltiern, as given by Lewis Dwnn, in parts, differs from a pedigree of that family in the Treasures MS. before referred to. The former, surely, where it is intelligible, should be the more correct, as contemporary with the generations where such contradictions occur, and as signed by the representative of the family—Does 1654 mean 1554 or 1604?—Edo.

⁶ Harri, son of Rowland ap Robert. He was consecrated Bishop of Bangor in 1598, and died in 1615.

⁷ Son of Rowland ap Robert.

⁸ Daughters of Rowland ap Robert.

⁹ Dwydd ap Rowland died in 1616.

¹⁰ O'Speake, in the county of Lancaster.

¹ John Wyn ap Huw was Sheriff for Carmarvonshire in 1555.² The generation of this family, subsequent to Huw Gwyn, ap John Wynne, adopted the surname of Bodwrda. Mary, daughter and heiress of Hugh Bodwrda, Esq. was wife of George Coyntore, of Coyntore, Esq. who was living in 1723. Their grand-daughter and heiress, Mary Coyntore, was wife to Edward Phillip Pugh, of Penrhyn, Esq.; James Coyntore Pugh, Esq. the only son of this marriage, born in May, 1768, was Sheriff for Carmarvonshire in 1775, and died without issue. Bridget, the eldest daughter, married upon the 13th of January, 1766, to Colonel Glynne Wynne, brother to the first Lord Newborough.³ Cadwaladr ap Mredydd was dead upon the 4th of July, 1788.⁴ Thomas Ychlan. Sir Henry Halford, Bart. is supposed to be lineally descended from him, and to be his representative.⁵ Her name was Marselle, and she was the first wife of Maurice ab Robert Wynne, of Glyn (see Nylloen). The settlement prior to her marriage is dated the 4th of June, 1578.⁶ Hugh Aeryn was living in the 58th year of Henry VIII.⁷ Ednyved ap Griffith is a party to a deed, dated 23d December, 13th Henry VIII.⁸ Griffith ap Ieuan ap Einion was one of the Grand Jury for the county of Merioneth in 27th Henry VI.⁹ His brother, Griffith ap Ieuan, was living 32nd of Henry VI.¹⁰ Mredydd ap Howel was one of the Prince, in an Inquest held at Bala, about the 31st year of Henry VI.¹¹ Howel ap Tudr was farmer, under the Prince of Wales, of the Mill of Penarun, in the hundred of Penllan, at Michaelmas, 1st Henry IV. ¹ There is some mistake here. This person must have lived at too early a time to have married a daughter of Howel Selyf.

³ Sir John was collated to the Rectory of Llanylltyl in 1537.

⁴ He was collated to the Vicarage of Eglwysfach in 1588.

⁶ Founder of the third Royal Tribe of Wales, see page 99. His son Merydydd succeeded him as prince of Powys.—Ed.

⁷ Eis was the second wife of Merydydd. His first consort, the mother of Madoc ap Merydydd, was Honydd, daughter of Emydd Gwynor, Lord of Dyffryn Cwyl. Merydydd died A.D. 1182.—Ed.

⁸ Prince of Powys from 1183 to 1193. He married Susanna, daughter of Gruffydd ap Cwvan, king of North Wales, and had four sons, I. Gruffydd Mador, ancestor of Owce Glyndwr; II. Owce Tychan, Lord of Mechain Isod; III. OWAIN BROGYNTYN; and IV. Ierwerth Goch. See Lady Charlotte Guest's Malinogion, part V.—Ed.

¹⁰ His wife was Elin, daughter and heir of Madoc, Lord of Mawddwy, in Merionethshire, younger son of Gwenwynwyn, prince of Powys Wcwynwyn, see page 102.—Ed.

² He married Agnes, daughter of Malloy, Baron of Main yn Meffod, in the county of Montgomery.—Ed.

⁴ This is a mistake: Iwan ap Llewelyn married Maredd, "Ladye of Crogen and Branas," under age 44 Edward III, daughter and heiress of Iwan ap Llewelyn, Baron of Crogen and Branas, in Edeyrnion.—Ed.

⁶ He was living in October, 1427. His wife was Malt, sister of David ap Iwan, Constable of Harlech Castle, which place he so gallantly defended in 1418. His father Iwan, (living on the 6th of October, 6 Henry VII, 1427, an Emion ap Gruffydd, of Ceregeold, in the county of Merioneth, derived from Osborn Wyddel, (see page 215.) David ap Rhys was dead on the 25th of October, 1444, as appears by an Inquisition post mortem, taken 8 Henry VII, 1482—3. Ed.

⁷ Nath. Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion. His wife was Margaret, daughter of William ap Meredith, of Garth Ery. Llanhaidd yn Moelnant, derived from Ffion Edd, Lord of Cynllaeth, son of Madoc, 1st Prince of Powys.

⁸ Of 20-hil and Frouthel, in Denbighshire, descended, through Grmwy Llwyd v Pwys, in the time of Edward I, from Mareddyl ap Cymon, founder of the eighth Noble Tribe of North Wales.—Ed.

⁹ He was living on the 27th of February, 37 Henry VIII, 1546, and above described as "an o Farow-4 Edeyrnion ag Arghydd holl Gymer," (one of the Barons of Edeyrnion and Lord of all Kymmer.) He removed from Kymmer, so long the residence of his ancestors, to the adjoining manor of Gwercles, within the Barony. He died there on the 25th of February, 1609. His wife survived him, and was living on the 2nd of December, 15 Elizabeth, 1602.—Ed.

¹⁰ Humphrey Hughes was High Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1618, and married twice; but died without issue on the 9th of February, 1628—9. His first wife was Jane, widow of Thomas Wynn, of Plas Newydd, Esq, and daughter of Howel Gampell, of Glanglyn, Esq. His second wife was living in 1692. Ed.

¹¹ He succeeded his father Humphrey, as tenth Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, and married on the 2nd of November, 1601, Frances, widow of Richard Evers, Esq, and daughter of Iovani Volpe, an Italian Doctor, " famous in Queen Elizabeth's time." By this Lady, who died on the 29th of June, 1636, Richard Hughes, who died on the 25th of March, 1641, left a son and heir, Humphrey Hughes, Esq, of Gwercles, married Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, High Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1670, who died on the 13th of August, 1615, when only ten years of age, Magdalen, daughter and heir of John Rogers, Esq, of Bryntangor, in the county of Denbigh, she being only thirteen years old; they had issue nine sons and six daughters. He died in 1632, having been married four times. His eldest surviving son, Thomas Hughes, Esq, Captain in the service of Charles I, married, first, Mary, daughter and heir of John Griffith, Esq, of Hendrefordd; and secondly, Margaret, daughter of Thomas Griffith, Esq, of Plas Ffion; and died on the 2nd of April, 1670, leaving two surviving sons by his last wife. The elder, his heir, Hugh Hughes, Esq, of Gwercles and Bryntangor, twelfth Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, High Sheriff of Merionethshire in 1720, married twice. He left issue by his first wife, Dorothy, daughter of Thomas Yale, Esq, of Plas yn Yale, in the county of Denbigh, two daughters, the elder of whom, Dorothy Hughes, heiress of Gwercles, Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, and Bryntangor, married in 1724, Edward Lloyd, Esq, of Plymce, Co. Denbigh, High Sheriff of Merioneth in 1732, and of Denbighshire in 1736. By this gentleman, who died 16 May 1732, the heiress of Gwercles, who predeceased him, 27 August 1732, was another of a son and heir Hugh Hughes Lloyd, Esq, of Plymce, Gwercles, and Bryntangor, High Sheriff of Merioneth in 1747, who married on the 15th of April, 1756, Margaret, daughter and heiress of Richard Walmesley, Esq, of Coldcotes Hall, in the county of Lancaster, and Bashall, in the county of York, representative of the knightly house of Talbot de Bashall; and left issue an eldest son, Richard Hughes Lloyd, Esq, of Plymce, Gwercles, and Bashall, who married on the 8th of November, 1758, Caroline, daughter of Henry Thompson, Esq, and died on the 25th of January, 1822, leaving surviving issue; 1. Richard Walmesley Lloyd, Esq, representative in the female line of the Hughes of Gwercles, Barons of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion. He married on the 24th of January, 1822, Emma, daughter of William Thompson, Esq, and his issue, Edward Walmesley Lloyd, born on the 2th of July, 1829, and Emma Margareta; 2. John Hughes, Lieutenant, R.N., married on the 12th of February, 1833, Mary, only child of Lucas Ward, Esq, and has issue, a son; 3. Edward Salisbury, Captain, E.L.C.S., married on the 16th of April, 1844, Catherine-Anna, daughter of the Rev. Robert Wynn Mayow, and his father of a son; 4. Hugh Hughes, Capt. E.L.C.S.; and E. Beethies, wife of her relative, John Hughes, Esq, of the Manor Temple, Barrister; 5. Jane. The younger son of Captain Thomas Hughes of Gwercles, viz, Margaret Griffith, his wife, viz, John Hughes, Esq, was seated at Kymmer. He was born on the 25th of August, 1662, married on the 2nd of November, 1693, Dorothy, daughter of Andrew Lloyd, Esq, of Plymce, and died on the 1st of July, 1694, and left a son and a successor, Daniel Hughes, Esq, of Penychedd, in the county of Denbigh, who at the decease of his uncle, Hugh Hughes, Esq, became heir male of the Hughes's of Gwercles, Barons of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion. He was born on the 2nd of July, 1694, married on the 14th of February, 1740, Catherine, daughter and heiress of the Rev. John Wynn, of Penychedd, and died 14 Aug. 1754; his son, Hugh Hughes, Esq, of Penychedd, who was born on the 25th of June, 1742, married on the 22nd of July, 1764, Mary, daughter of John Jones, Esq, of Plas Hen, in Montgomeryshire, a cadet of the Denbighshire house of Llwynon, and by her had a son and successor, William Hughes, Esq. of Penyclawdd, who married on the 27th of March, 1800, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Davies, Esq. of Treymant, in the county of Denbigh, derived from a younger branch of the Davies's of Gwessey, in the county of Flint. By this Lady, who died on the 4th of April, 1844, Mr. Hughes, who died on the 18th of January, 1836, left issue; 1. William Hughes, Esq. representative in the male line of the Hughes's of Gwerclas, Barons of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, born on the 18th of April, 1801, who married on the 11th of July, 1835, Eliza Annes, daughter of William Henry Worthington, Esq. of Sandiway Bank, in the county of Chester, and has issue; 1. William O'Farrell Hughes, born on the 18th of February, 1838; and 2. Frances Elizabeth Margareta. 11. Thomas, M.D. of St. Peter's College, Cambridge, born 22 August 1803; 111. John, of the Inner Temple, Barrister at Law, born on the 6th of October, 1805, who married on the 14th of July, 1832, his relative, Dorothea, eldest surviving daughter of Richard Hughes Lloyd, Esq. of Plynog, Gwerclas, Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, and Bashall, and has issue, one child, Talbot de Bashall Hughes, born on the 15th of December, 1836. The Armorial Ensigns of this eminent house are those of their Ancestors, the Sovereign Princes of Powys; viz. Argent, a Lion rampant sable, ("The Black Lion of Powys.")—En.

² In the Pedigree of Phwyll Llanfair, &c. page 222, she is described as sole heiress of Gruydd, and appears to have been wife of Gruydd Lloyd ap Meurig Lloyd, of Nannau. She could not have been her father's heiress, as he had sons; and with regard to her marriage, the account given of her in the pedigree now under review is probably correct.

³ Gruydd ap Ednyfet is witness to a deed, dated 1st September, 1st Henry VIII. (1503).

⁵ Urien ap Tegwared was Raglor of the command of Ardyŵy, at Michaelmas, 1st Edward III. (1327).

⁶ This name is in deeds spelt Palcus and Palgoun.

⁷ In another MS. he is called Einion, probably a false transcript for Evan.

⁸ In another MS. Ievan ab Rhys.

¹⁰ In another MS. he is named Edmund. The latter is, probably, a false transcript.

¹¹ Gronwy Lloyd was one of the Jury for taking the extent of the command of Nant-coventry in 1352.

¹² The representation of this family, and the inheritance of the Egryn estate, passed, by marriage, to the Owens's of Caeberillan, in the same county, in whom both are now vested.

EVAN GRIFFITH CLERK.

¹ There appears to be no such parish as Peneingl.

² This Pysr (Piers) Lloyd, or a descendant from him of the same name (probably a son), was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1628; and sold Plas yn Dd¹, his estate, and mansion in Edeirion, to Humphrey Jones, the King's Receiver for North Wales, by whose descendant the late Richard Parry, Esq. it was again sold to Lieutenant Colonel Vaughan, of King and Hengwt, the present owner.

⁴ Sr Ieuan ag Gruffydd was collated to the Rectory of Betws Gweryll Goch in 1589.

¹ John Fox Fitz Giffard Mytton, Esq. of Halston and Haberley, born 20th November, 1823, is the lineal representative of this very ancient family.

² Hankey, or Hawkyu Mytton. His son, Reginald de Mutton, was representative in Parliament, for Shrewsbury, in 1373.

³ This place was so called from the battle of Shrewsbury, which was fought in 1403; and, if the pedigree be correct, Richard Hush must have lived at a much earlier time.

⁴ There does not appear to have been a Lord Talbot so soon as, according to this pedigree, the person here named must have lived.

⁵ This Pedigree I had of George Owen, Lord of Kemmaes, at the time I visited Pembrokeshire, Anno Domini 1685. This shows that wherever Lewys Dwnn found a spare place, he there inserted whatever came to hand. The short notices of various families which follow, were extracted, by Lewys Dwnn, from the collections of Sion Brynog, Gruffydd Himelech, and William Llyn,—Ed.

⁶ Toniane. See Peniarth and note.

⁷ Rhys Yechan was living in the 5th year of Henry VIII.

⁸ John ap Gruffydd ap Harri was living in July 1579.

⁹ Gruff, ap Ednyvet ap Aron, "gont. de Llanvendidig," here named, was Raglor of the count of Talbot, in the 32d year of Henry VI.

¹ Llewelyn ap Hwlkyn was alive upon the 1st November, 30th Henry VI. (1451).

³ "Hugh ap John." In the next sentence the same person is called "Robert ap Sion" (John).

⁴ In another pedigree, this line runs, "Hwva ap Ardlerch ap Eiddon," &c.

⁶ A chieftain noted for his great strength, who lived in the latter part of the thirteenth century. He was knighted by Edward II, to whom he was foster brother. See before.

² See more under the next head: Llychylched, part of this pedigree, being incoherent, placed there.

³ Madog ab Emladar, and others, held in villanage one carucate of land in Bodcon, in Anglesey, about the year 1260.

⁴ See preceding pedigree.

⁵ Howland Gruffydd died, Sheriff for Anglesey, in 1253.

⁶ In a pedigree of her family, she is called Angharad, and one of her sisters Elin.

⁷ This pedigree is obscurely drawn. Probably Elsbth ferch Dafydd, &c. was the first wife of Huw ap Rhys. Dafydd, son of Owen ap Tudur Vychan, is not mentioned in the pedigree; but, under the head of Pen Mynydd, Dafydd Owen Tudur, his great-grandson, is. This person, however, does not appear to have had a daughter named Elsbth.

⁸ Probably Morgan Ynad.

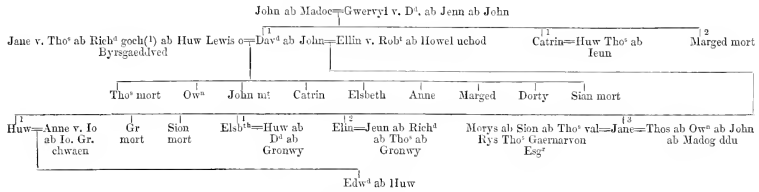

⁹ Maltt is in a pedigree named Gwenshyvar, in another Angharad, which name is also given to her in this volume. See Item y Pedd.

¹⁰ Gruffydd ap Madog Gloadith was the heir of four carucates of Land in the Ville of Nantvaghlan, in Anglesey, in the 26th year of Edward III.

¹ Rhys ap Howel ap Madog was living in the 31st year of Henry VI.

² Sion and Sion ap Rhydderch were married on or before the 5th August, 1225, and both of them were then living.

⁴ Hwv ap Owen is granted in a deed, dated 12th February, 4th Edward VI. (1550).

⁵ Owen ap Sir Dafydd is granted in a deed, dated 8th December, 4th Henry VIII. (1512).

⁷ In another pedigree, Ieun ap Ierwerth ap Adla.

⁸ Called also Adla ap Einion Vychan, and others, occurs, in Lent, 20th Edward III. (1324), held a "Wely" named Wely Kenecor ap Ieuan, in the ville of Rhoelwyn, in Anglesey.

⁹ Two other pedigrees (they, however, not agreeing), deduce the ancestry of this person in a different line from that given here. The representative of this family, in the direct line, is supposed to be Sir Watkin Williams Wyn, Bart.

¹⁰ Nest must certainly have been a more remote descendant than Cadrod Harld than is here stated, if she was grandmother to Sr Hugh Clement, who lived about the time of Henry VIII.; and the mother of a person, so few generations from Cadrod, who is said to have resided at Bodowyn, in Anglesey, in the 10th century, could not have been descended at all from Hwva ap Cynddelw, as he lived in the time of Prince Owen Gwynedd, who died in 1169. Likauk ferch Howel is stated to have been so through many descents. There certainly appears to be some very important omission in this genealogy.

¹¹ Under the head of Lliacheleth, Tegwared ap Ieuan ap Ririd.

¹ The direct line of this family is supposed to have become extinct, upon the failure of male issue in the Lloyds of Pen-y-ban, in the county of Denbigh, late in the eighteenth century. A great portion, if not the whole of the estates of the Lloyds, of Ceiswyn, including, it is believed, the farms so called, and certainly the ancient mansion of Aber-Elwy, having vested, by descent, through two heiresses, in the late John, Lord Cowder, during whose life they were alienated.

² See also Yngs y Maerwyn.

⁴ Einion ap Elywelyn should be Einion ap Griffith ap Elywelyn.

⁶ Afterwards Sir John Lloyd, Knight. See preceding pedigree and notes to it.

⁷ Stoddrton, probably Stoddrart. There was a family of that name settled in the neighbourhood of Caer Rhin.

⁹ Ieu¹ Vychan ap Ienan was a Grand Juror for the county of Merioneth in the 32d year of Henry VI.

¹⁰ Sion ap Ienan was farmer, under the Crown, of the mills of Cefn and Caille, at Michaelmas, 21st Edward IV. (1451), and in the 4th year of Henry VII.

¹¹ Jenkyn ap Sion was living in the 17th year of Henry VII.

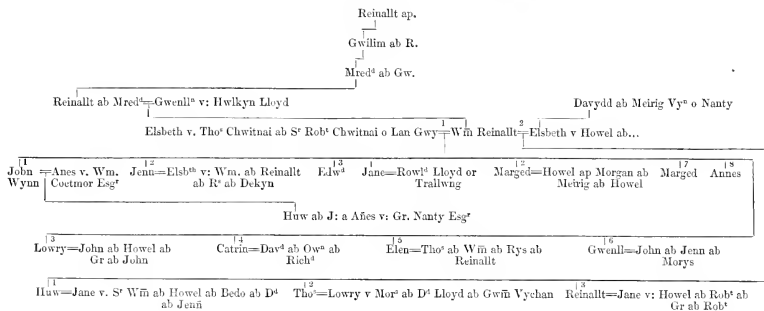

¹² According to another pedigree, she was wife of Jenkyn ap John, below.

¹³ Jenkyn ap John, grandson of Jenkyn ap Sion above, and Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1542.

² Apparently the person called Gronwy ap Einion ap Howel, above. It should be stated, that the account of this family, as here given, does not agree with a notice of it by the Merionethshire Antiquary, Robert Vaughan, of Henrart, which is as follows:—Griff ddu (see Dolgellu), had 2 sons, Llewelyn, & Eion, & a daughter called Nest, mother to Gwaelidan, daughter of Howel ap Griff, ap Owen, & wife to Morgan ap Griff, ap Eion, called Justice Morgan, father of Captain John Morgan, of Rosely deunant, two stout and valiant soldiers. He is also styled Morgan ap Griffith ap Eion, in an account of the Fifteen Tribes of North Wales, in the Cambrian Register,

Vol. I, page 153. Lewis Dwm's pedigree, however, is (certainly in parts of it) the more accurate, with authentic dates. ³ Written above Rainfeth and Rainfeth.

⁷ Sir Iys Cynwal was collated to the Vicarage of Llangwn in 1591.

³ Hugh ab William died in 1623.

⁴ According to the Ticeiroesion MS. before referred to, she was daughter of Ann Holland: and married, secondly, Owen Meredith, B.D. (see Cyngor Fawr yw Arfon). This family adopted the surname of Wgan; and the heiress of it, Anne, daughter of William Wynn, Esq. married Richard Garnons, Esq. of Pant da. The issue of this marriage were William Wynn Vaughan Garnons, who died unmarried in 1794: the late Richard Garnons, Esq. who was born 29th December, 1775, and died, universally respected, a few years since, without issue; and Miss Catherine Jones Garnons (now living) of Colomeezy, near Mold.

⁵ See also Cysgodog and Pen Gwern, Festiolog.

⁶ Elise ab Robert Wynn had the Syffian estate, and was living on the 1st April, 1615. He died without issue.

⁷ Robert Wynn ab John was living on the 29d April, 1592.

⁸ He was living upon the 24th November, 1545.

⁹ Jen⁹ ab Rhys was married, probably, before the 1st October, 1499, and was living upon the 4th of March, 4th Henr VIII. (1513).

¹¹ Ieun⁹ ab Einion was one of the Jury, in an inquisition held at Bala, 6th October, 1427.

¹² Amongst the Exchequer issues for the 10th year of Richard II. payment is recorded to him, and others. Lesquires, Captains of certain Archers, from the county of Merioneth. The date of this payment is Tuesday, 16th October, 1380.

¹³ Llywelyn ab Cywric was Sheriff, or farmer of the office of Sheriff of Merionethshire, in 1573.

¹⁷ Richard Banbil, or Banville, was alive in the first year of Richard III., and died probably before the 1st October, 1499.

¹⁸ He was living upon the 9th February, 1609-10, and dead upon the 16th of April, 1611.

¹⁹ She was born in 1557, died in 1623, and was buried at Maellyellath.

¹ William Wynn was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1618 and 1637, and died in December, 1655.

² See Park. She died on the 23d February, 1638-9, aged about 44.

³ It would seem, from a contemporary entry, upon the above-mentioned Annes, that Edward Wynn was second husband of Elin.

⁴ "Edward Wynn ap Richard," &c., should be Edward Owen ap Richard, &c. He was probably the first husband of Elin. She married, thirdly, Hugh Vaughan, clerk, son of Rees, a younger son of Richard Vaughan, of Cosey-gold, Esg.

⁵ Evan Evans, of Tan-y-bwlch, Esg. Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1635.

⁶ Margaret, eldest daughter and heiress of Owen Wynne, of Glyn, Esg. grandson of the above-mentioned William, married Sir Robert Owen, Knight, of Parkington, in Shropshire, and Clencenny, in the county of Carnarvon. Margaret, heiress of these united families, eldest daughter of William Owen, Esg. was wife of Owen Ormsby, Esg. of Willowbrook, in the county of Salop, and by him had an only daughter, Mary Jane Ormsby, heiress of Parkington, Glyn, and Seflon, with other extensive possessions of her paternal and maternal ancestors. She is the wife of William Ormsby Gore, Esg. of Parkington, one of the representatives in parliament for North Shropshire, who assumed, by Royal sign manual, her surname, before his own. The male line of the Wynne family was continued by William Wynne, Esg. (a younger brother of the above-named Owen), who married his first cousin, Elizabeth, only child of Maurice Jones, of Wern, in Carnarvonshire, gentleman, was Sheriff for that county in 1686, and was buried at Penmorris, 4th January, 1704, probably 1703. Third in descent from them was William Wynne, of Wern, Esg., who acquired the Penlarth estates, in the counties of Merioneth, Montgomery, and Carnarvon, by marriage with Jane, eldest daughter and heiress of Edward Williams, Esg. by Jane, Viscountess Dowager Bulkeley, his wife. The present direct representative of the Wynnes, of Glyn, is W. W. E. Wynne, Esg. grandson of William and Jane Wynne, above mentioned.

⁷ Under the head of Yslytu Evan, she is represented as mother of Rhys Giff.

² See Iron y Fodl, under which head her husband is called Gruffydd Wyn, and it is not improbable that he did adopt the surname of Wyn. His son was certainly styled by that name.

Howel, &c. to have been "Gwenhwyar, daughter to William ap of the hundred of Oswestry."

⁴ He was instituted to the Archdeaconry of Merioneth in 1524, and died in 1562.

STANLEY OF HARGLEIGH⁵

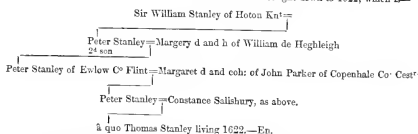

¹ He was instituted to the Deanery of Bangor, on the 12th December, 1534, deprived of it in 1554, instituted a second time on the 27th October, 1557, and died in 1570.

² There is probably a mistake here, for, according to every other account of his family that I have seen, Dafydd had only daughters. This should perhaps be Ieuan ap Gwgan.

³ He was collated to the Rectory of Newtown in 1553, and to that of Llangar in 1592.

⁵ This pedigree of Stanley does not agree with that in Vincent, No. 155, fol. 298, which is brought down to 1622, which is—given in the same work. The name of this place was changed to Rock-Savage. It also differs materially from other pedigrees of the Stanley family.

² See, Nidology.

³ A person of this name was appointed Sheriff for Merionethshire, for life, upon the 22d September, 1st Henry VII. (1485).

⁴ Edward Stanley was Sheriff for Merionethshire in 1545, 1553, and 1560.

³ Probably Madog ap Ierwerth ap Madog ap Ririd, &c.

⁴ In another pedigree this line is given thus:—Madog ap Ierwerth ap Madog ap Ririd Flaidd.

⁵ This is probably the same person as Griffith ap John, who, in Willis' Survey of St. Asaph, appears to have been collated to the Vicarage of Gwyddelwern in 1540.

⁷ This part of the pedigree is not reconcilable with dates, and probably some generations are here omitted.

⁸ Brampton Brian, Herefordshire.—E.

⁹ Cadwaladr Owen was collated to the Rectory of Llanvachan in 1601, and to the Vicarage of Llanbrynmair in 1608.

¹⁰ He was instituted to the Archdeaconry of Merioneth upon the 5th November, 1576, and died about 1621, in which year he was 60 years of age. See page 227.

² Her name was Janet, and she was one of the daughters of Owen ap John ap Meredith, of Ystrakegert.

³ Sion (John) Williams, whose pedigree is here given, "was an antiquary of considerable eminence, and furnished Drayton with many of the particulars relative to Wales which he hath taken notice of in the Polyollian." He was father to Sir John Williams, of the Isle of Thanet, Bart., Edmund Williams, of Marchull, in Dorsetshire, created a Baronet on the 19th April, 1642, and to Sir Morris Williams, "Physician to the Queen." (Query—Elizabeth, Anne of Denmark, or Henrietta Maria?) See History of the Gwydir Family, page 99, and Table III.—Edition of 1827, 4to.

⁵ See pedigree headed "Morys Jones," &c.

⁹ This is an addition.

¹⁰ Although some pedigrees make this Thomas Conwy to have been a cousin, and not a son of the above-mentioned John Conwy, it is more than probable that the descent here given is the most accurate, as it agrees with the account given in the Salesbury Pedigree, page 115, excepting that two other brothers of Thomas Conwy, Robert and Pys, are there mentioned.

¹² The modern additions here are "Robert" and "Celle" ux: Elis Price of Plas Yolin LL.D." Nor do any of these additions appear in R. 32, College of Arms.

⁴ See Vol. I. pages 156, 157; Vol. II. page 126.

at whose death, in 1721, the title became extinct. Sir John Conwy had two daughters, only one of whom married, and from whom William Shapley Conwy, Esq. the present possessor of Bodryddan, is descended. See note to the Hollands of Aberconway, page 115.

⁶ Caerwys is a small borough town in Flintshire, surrounded by a beautiful country, and originally a Roman station. From the twelfth century, to the time of Queen Elizabeth, it was celebrated for its Esculetaria, or Sessions of the lords and ministers, where prizes were given in order to produce competition, and which were revived in the year 1798. But it is known as having produced the Rev. John Lloyd, the companion and assistant, in historical research, of Mr. Pennant, in his valuable Tours; and more especially at the present day, for being the residence of his daughter, Miss Angharad Lloyd, whose indefatigable genealogical collections are so readily communicated to all who are anxious to avail themselves of this kind of literature.

⁹ He lived at Wgwar, near St. Asaph, and attained much celebrity as a Welsh poet. He died in 1602.

⁵ Llan Elwy derives its name from the river Elwy. The Bishopric was founded here by Cynleir ab Owain ab Urien Rheged, generally called St. Kentigern, about the year 559, upon his retirement into Wales from the Diocese of Penryn Rhinnydd, or Glasgow. Having presided for some years over this Bishopric, he was recalled to his original diocese, in his native country, by Rhydderch Hael, King of the Strath Clyde Britons. He then appointed his disciple, Asaph, son of Sawyl Bennel, as his successor at Llan Elwy, which, from this circumstance, has ever since been known in English as St. Asaph, though in Welsh it retains its original appellation. See Professor Rees' Welsh Saints.

¹ Ithel Vychan did homage for his lands to Edward of Carnarvon, at Chester, in the 4th Edw and 1 (1299). ² Ierwerth is the Welsh for Edward.

³ See page 115, where it is stated that Margaret married, secondly, Harry Salabry, son of Thomas Salabry Hen of Llewellyn. It also appears, by this pedigree, as well as that of the Salabrys, that her son, by Howel ap Ienan, married her second husband's daughter.

⁴ Howel ap Howel was a partizan of Henry VII., who, when Earl of Richmond, was executed at Westminster Hall, and after he became King, sent the sword and belt he had worn at the battle of Bosworth to Richard ap Howel, as an acknowledgment of assistance he had rendered him. The Coedra 288, before referred to, has the following note:—"The monies and possessions which descended to the said Richard ap Howel ap Iean Vychan, and the reversion of them.—I. The First Court called Penryn, in Chirkland, being part of the possessions of the aforesaid Adda ap Ierwerth, Elin, and Elizabeth his wife, who was daughter of Gruffydd Vychan, ap Gruffydd, of Rhinallt, which Elizabeth was whole sister to Owen Gruffydd; she was also the mother of Ihan ap Adda, ap Ierwerth dly.—II. The Second Court was Tre Coedra in Mon, in the Hundred of Cwmwd of Tindrefrey, and Tre Gwedyth in the Cwmwd of Eilwon, and was part of the possessions of Angharad, d' and heir of Ednyfed ap Tydyr ap Gronwy, ap Tydyr ap Gronwy, ap Ednyfed Vychan. And this Angharad was the mother of Ihan Vychan, ap Ienan, ap Adda.—III. The Third Court is Moiston, in Tegelng, which was the possession of Angharad d', of Howel ap Tydyr, ap Ithel Vychan. And this Angharad was the mother of Howel, ap Ienan Vychan, and she was also the mother of Ihan ap Adda, ap Ierwerth dly, in Mon, with their appurtenances. All these were part of the possessions of Morydd, d' and heir of Sir Gruffydd Lloed, Bart. This Morydd was the wife of Madog Gloadhath.—V. The Fifth Court is the Court of Gloadhath in the Cwmwd of Gwedyth, which was the possession of Margaret d' or Gruffydd ap Rys, ap Gruffydd ap Madog Gloadhath. And the said Margaret was the mother of Richard ap Howel, ap Ienan Vychan, and she was also the mother of Harry Salabry, ap Harry, ap Thomas Hen Salabry."

⁵ Thomas ap Ierhad assumed the name of Moiston, or Mostyn, by the advice of his friend, Bishop of Llandaff and Coventry, and Lord President of Wales, temp. Henry VIII.

⁶ Hugh Pomeroy, of Dyblon, in Flintshire. The issue of this marriage were six children, viz.,

¹¹ She died about the year 1657, and was buried at Llanrha. See page 159.

¹² William Hughes was appointed Bishop of St. Asaph, 11th December, 1573, and died on the 18th November, 1609.

¹⁴ See "Y Ffens," where he is called "Sir William Hammer, Knight."

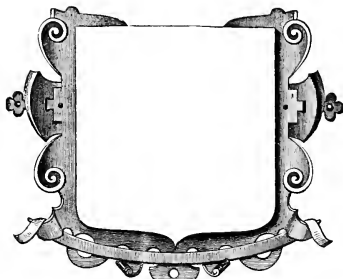

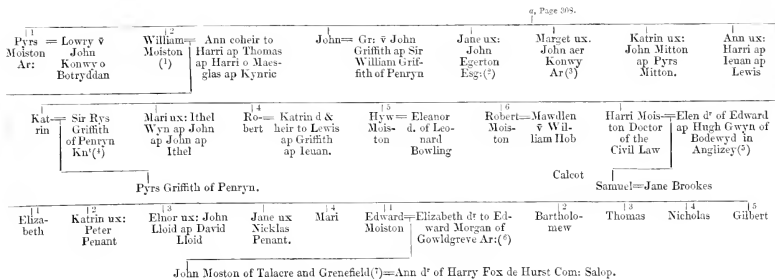

¹⁵ Sir Thomas Mostyn, Knight, died in the lifetime of his father. His wife's name was Elizabeth, and by her he had issue two sons, the eldest of whom greatly distinguished himself in supporting the cause of Charles I.; and, after several hardships and reverses of fortune during the Commonwealth, was, on the restoration of the Royal family, created a Baronet, which title continued, in lineal descent, to the late Sir Thomas Moiston, the sixth Baronet, who sister and co-heir, Elizabeth, married Sir Edward Peers Lloyd, Baronet, who was created Baron Mostyn in 1753.

¹⁷ William Moiston became Rector of Chryslston and Archdeacon of Bangor. In married Elizabeth Abbercy, of Chester.

¹⁸ Her name was Margaret; her father resided at Plas y Nant, in the parish of Mefydd. See page 209.

⁸ See "Gwelyth Rowland Pibson," and notes thereto, page 150.

² The Tower, or Brynedd, is a singular house, in the parish of Mold, and appears to have been designed as a fortified residence. In the year 1465, one Reinallt ap Gruffydd ap Bledin, having taken Robert Byrre, Mayor of Chester, prisoner, executed him by hanging him to a staple, which still remains in the lower story of the Tower. This caused the greatest exasperation at Chester, and two hundred men were sent to seize Reinallt: he, however, being aware of their design, retired to the adjoining woods, and permitted a part of them to enter the Tower, when he rushed forth, fastened the door, set fire to the place, and burned them to death. He then attacked the remainder, who fled to the sea-side, and were either slain or drowned. Reinallt received pardon for these exploits from Thomas, Lord Stanley, which was afterwards confirmed by Henry VI. See Lewys Glyn Cothi's Ode to him, VI., Deap. V. The Tower afterwards became the residence of the Wynne family, whose pedigree is here recorded, in whose possession it remained until the direct line of the family terminated by the death of Roger Wynne, Esq., about the middle of the last century.

Richard Parry, whose father was of Pwllhalog, in the county of Flint, was educated at Westminster School, under the celebrated Antiquary, William Camden, and became master of Eborac School, and took, in 1636, the degree of D.D. His conversation, in the prison, with his patron, Sir Tolly Myerick, is still extant, when he went to offer the consolation of religion. He was consecrated Bishop of St. Asaph, on the 30th of December, 1691, and received the temporalities on the 2th of the following January; and his portrait, painted in his episcopal robes, in the year 1614, and the 25th of his age, is at Goodrich Court. He assisted Bishop Morgan in the translation of the Bible into Welsh, and wrote the dedication to King James. Dr. John Davies dedicated to this "Vigilantissimo Ecclesie: Camdoro Britannice Prasidii," as he terms him, his Rudimenta Wallice in 1621. He died on the 29th September, 1623, and was buried in his own cathedral. On the 27th in the next year, his widow married Thomas Mostyn, of Rhyd, Esq., and, on the same day, her eldest son and heir, Richard Parry, espoused Mr. Mostyn's daughter, and his son and heir, Thomas Mostyn, Ann, youngest daughter of the Bishop. Mr. Richard Parry, of Warrild and Llwyn Yn, who died in 1536, was lineally descended from the Bishop; and his eldest sister, Mrs. Haygath, is now in possession of the latter place, which is near Ruthva.

1 Sir William Mandeville, Knight.

2 Founder of the Priory of Carmelton, or White Friars, at Denbigh, now in ruins. He died in 1258.

3 He served as Member in Parliament for the Borough of Leominster in the 7th Edward III. (1332), and was afterwards returned for the same place seven times during that King's reign.

4 Sir Harry Salsbury, Knight, died about the year 1399, and was buried at the White Friars, Denbigh.

5 Master of the Horse to Edward III. He was in Parliament, and suffered death in 1388.

6 Sir Thomas Salsbury greatly distinguished himself at the battle of Blackheath, on the 23rd of June, 1407, against Perkin Warbeck, and his Cornish followers, for which service he was immediately after the battle rewarded with the honour of knighthood by Henry VII. His first wife died on the 4th of September, 1427; he was afterwards married to another wife, Jenette, whom he constituted his executrix in his Will, dated December 20th, 1504. He died in January, 1505, and was buried in the chapel of the Carmelites, at Denbigh.

7 Henry Salsbury married Margaret, daughter of Rhys ap Gruffydd ap Madoc Gloddath, and had issue Harri Goch Salsbury of Llanaibard, and several other children. See pages 115 and 120.

8 Made Dean of St. Asaph in 1511, and died in 1542.

10 Robert Salsbury married Gwchwyfar, daughter of Rhys ap Einion Vychan, ab Iwan Wyn, ap Rhys, ap Drywall Lloyd, ap y Penryn. He resided at Llansawt, and his descendants afterwards settled at Ewloe, in Flintshire.

11 Of Bryn Ewloe, in Llandrillo. See pages 115 and 299.

12 Of Bryn Ewloe, in Ewloe. See "Harden, Ewloe," page 316.

13 Of Boddyllan. See page 296.

14 Richard ap Howel of Mostyn. See page 508.

15 Jane, wife of John Puleston, died without issue.

16 Sir Roger Salsbury married twice; his second wife's name was Catherine.

17 Ancestor of the Salsburys of Leadbrook. Dean of St. Asaph.

18 Sir John Salsbury was made Constable of the Castle of Denbigh in 1539, and was afterwards Chancellor and Chamberlain of Denbighshire, and Member of Parliament for the same County in the reigns of Henry VIII., Edward VI., and Queen Mary. He died March 18th, 1578.

32 Alderman of Chester. His father was David Myddleton ap Ririd Myddleton of Gwaunwyg. See next Pedigree.

33 Of y¹ Vach, Ysbetty Lewen. See a future page.

34 He was Member of Parliament for the town of Denbigh in 1551. He died in the life time of his father.

35 This was the well-known Katherine of Berain. See Yorke's Tribes, page 98; see also "Berain," page 334.

38 See "Denbigh Towne," future page.

39 Dr. Roger Salsbury, by his marriage with the coheir of Sir Richard Clogh, Knight, became possessed of Bachygraig, near Denbigh, which was built by Sir Richard. He had issue six daughters and a son, John Salsbury, his successor at Bachygraig, who was married to Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Ravenscroft of Bretton, Esq. See page 316.

40 George Salsbury lived at Eribscock, in Flintshire.

41 Mary, daughter of Thomas Grovnor, Esq., son of Sir Thomas Grovnor of Eaton, in Cheshire, was born in 1564.

42 John Salsbury of Ryge. See "Machynbyd."

43 Son of Sir Thomas Hamner, Knight. See page 312.

44 Thomas Salsbury became implicated in the Basington conspiracy to murder Queen Elizabeth, for which he was, with other conspirators, attainted of high treason, and suffered death September 21st, 1586. His daughter Margaret married William Norris, Esq., of Spoke, in the County of Lancaster.

45 See page 159.

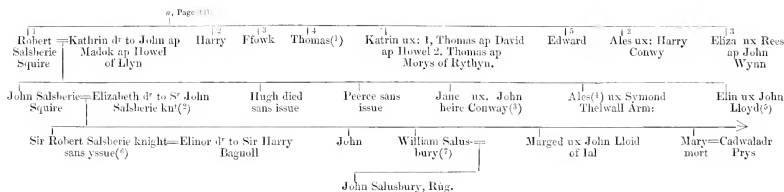

46 Surnamed "the Strong," on account of his great strength. He represented the County of Denbigh in Parliament, 43 Elizabeth, (1600), and received the honour of knighthood. He died in 1619.

47 Henry Salsbury, 11th Earl of Derby.

48 The words "Sir" and "Baronett" are added in another hand. He was created a baronet November 18th, 1619. He married Hester, daughter of Sir Thomas Myddleton, Knight, of Curk Castle. His eldest son, Thomas, succeeded him in his title, which afterwards became extinct at the death of his grandson, Sir John Salsbury, the third baronet.

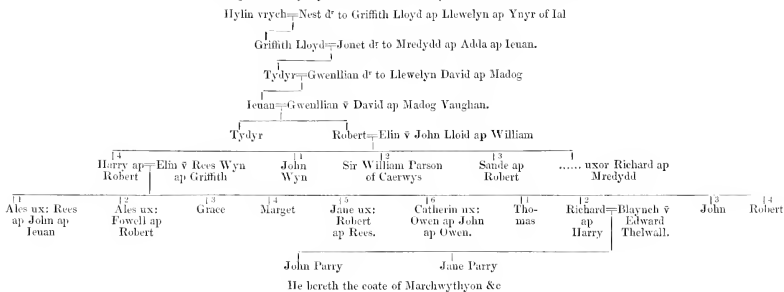

49 He became possessed of Ryg, near Corwen, by his marriage.

50 Of Ruthyn. For his issue, see a future page.

⁴ According to some Pedigrees, Elen was daughter of Sir John Done, son of Sir Jenkin Done.

⁷ Her father was Thomas Smith, Alderman of Chester.

⁹ Richard Mathew of the Green, in Henllan.

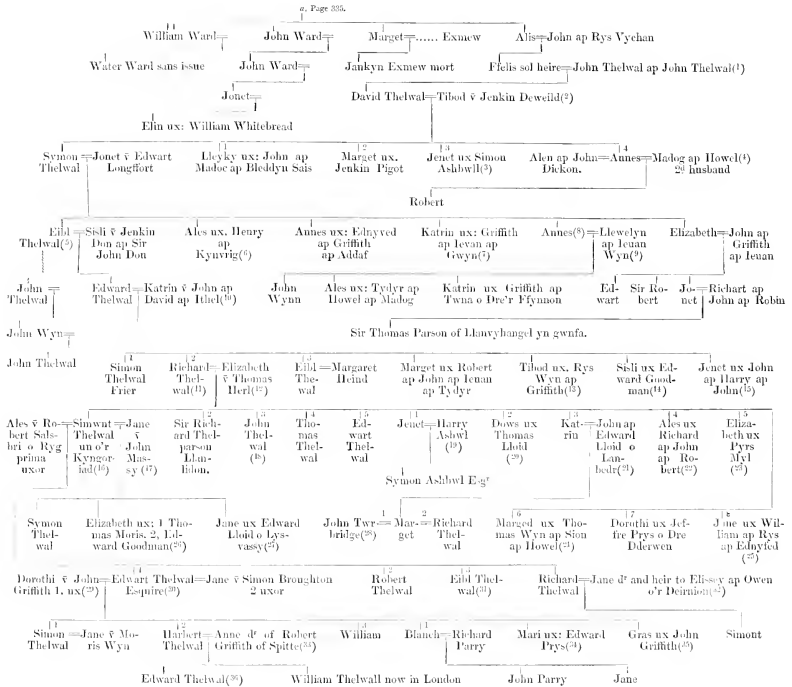

¹⁰ Her husbands were Morys Gethyn of Voelas, Harri Heaton of Plas Heaton, Denbigh, and Piers Holand.

¹¹ Richard Myddleton was Governor of Denbigh Castle, in the reigns of Edward VI. Mary, and Elizabeth.

¹² Hugh Dryhurst of Denbigh. His wife was Lucy, daughter of Robert Greenslyde.

¹⁴ The famous Sir Hugh Myddleton, Baronet, founder of the New River Water-works; and, according to Vincent, "first under out of the Silver Mines in Wales." See also the History of Cardiganshire. There are numerous entries of this family amongst the records in the College of Arms; and three registered are funeral certificates of different members of it, and the Pedigrees of some of the descendants of Sir Thomas Myddleton of Chirk Castle, the brother of Sir Hugh. Amongst the collections of private Pedigrees, in the possession of the Herald's College, are several illustrative of the Myddleton family.

⁹ Dr. Gwladys Goodman was founder of Christ's Hospital at Ruthyn, in 1590, "for a priest, and twelve poor persons, ten men and two women to attend them, all unmarried, and above fifty years of age." He obtained a patent of incorporation from Queen Elizabeth, for the government of this Hospital, under the designation of "The President and Warden of Christ's Hospital in Ruthyn," and endowed the same with the tithes of Llanyrddi and Ruthyn, and appointed the Bishop of Bangor, President; and the Priest, Warden. The Grammar School at Ruthyn owes its origin to the munificence of Dr. Goodman, who founded it in 1595, and endowed it with a majority of the tithes of Llanyrddi. His nephew, Dr. Godfrey Goodman, Bishop of Gloucester, further endowed this School by founding two exhibitions to either of the Universities. He rendered great assistance to Dr. Morzon, in publishing his Welsh translation of the Bible.

⁸ John Trevor succeeded his father at Trevalyn, and was knighted at Windsor in 1618. He married Margaret, daughter of Hugh Tremanion, Esq., and had issue, beside several other children, a son, John, who was knighted by Charles II., and constituted one of his principal Secretaries of State. On his return from an embassy in France, in 1658, he was made a Privy Counsellor, which high office he fulfilled until his decease, in 1672, at the age of 47. His father survived him rather more than twelve months. By Ruth, his wife, daughter of John Hampden, Esq. of Great Hampton, Bucks, he had several children, one of whom, his second son, Thomas, attained such high reputation at the bar, that he was, in 1694, made Solicitor General, and received the honour of Knighthood, in three years afterwards, he became Attorney General, and on the accession of Queen Anne, was made Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas. On the 31st of December, 1711, he was created Baron Trevor, of Beudant, in 1715 he was made Lord Privy Seal; and, in 1727, Lord Chief Justice of Great Britain. In 1729, he was made President of the Privy Council, only about six weeks before his death. He was succeeded in his title by his son, Thomas, ancestor of the late Lord Viscount Hampden, at whose decease, in 1823, the title became extinct.—John Trevor, Esq. eldest son of the above Sir John Trevor, and grandson of Sir John Trevor, of Trevalyn, who died in 1675, succeeded to the estates, and married Elizabeth, widow of John Morley, Esq. Their eldest son, John Morley Trevor, married Lucy, daughter of Edward Montague, Esq. of Broughton, and, dying in 1719, left issue, besides several other children, Grace, who married

Edward Rice, Esq. of Dynevor Castle, Carmarthenshire, and was mother of the Right Hon. George Rice, M.P. for Carmarthenshire, who married, in 1756, Cecil Talbot, Baroness Dynevor, and by her was father of the present Lord Dynevor, whose son, the Hon. George Rice Trevor, M.P. in compliance with the will of the late Viscount Hampden, assumed the name of Trevor. Another daughter of the above John Morley Trevor, Esq. named Gertrude, married the Hon. Charles Roper, eldest son of Henry, eighth Baron Teynham, and had issue Charles Trevor Roper, eighth Lord Dacre, Colonel Henry Roper, and Gertrude, who succeeded her brother in the Baron of Dacre. She married Thomas Brand, Esq. of the Dole, and had issue, Thomas, the present Lord Dacre, and Major-General the Hon. Henry Otway Trevor, who assumed the name and arms of Trevor, according to the will of the late Viscount Hampden.

¹⁰ He was born in 1586, and died in 1628, and made Solicitor General to Prince Charles; was afterwards made Judge of the Exchequer, and, in 1641, was, with others, impeached, from which he was honourably acquitted. He married Francis, daughter of Henry Boteler, Esq., and had issue, Thomas, who was created a Baronet in 1611, which title became extinct at his death without male issue. Sir Thomas Trevor, Knight, died in 1656, aged 83.

¹¹ Edward Fulston, Esq. of Trevalyn. See page 316.

¹² She married, first, Arthur Baginell, Esq., secondly, Mr. Tynningh, of Tynningham, in Bucks, and was buried at St. Margaret's, in Westminster, in 1656.

² In page 357, this James Eton is stated to be a son of Ievan ap Madog ap Llewelyn and not his grandson.

⁸ To this the Cae Ceyrig MS, adds "but he retained no more than that of Elibr, Llowarch ab Bran, and Riryd Flaidd, and for a crest a semidragon displayed Gules holding a sword in its right paw, the pommel and cross Or, the blade Argent, and the point imbued with a drop of blood, and about his neck, down between his fore feet, and over his back a chain Argent proper with a ring pendant. These arms were attested under the Seal of Office of Sir Gilbert Deatwick kn^t Garter King at Arms in the 19th year of the reign of Elizabeth, of England France and Ireland, Queen Defender of the Faith A. D. 1577. The above specified Arms are to be read in Lewis Dwan's book, and the name of Edward Eton subscribed to the arms and Pedigree in his own hand writing." ¹ Dr. Powell, the well known editor and translator of Caradoc of Llancarvan's History of Wales, was born about the year 1552, and when about 16 years of age was sent to complete his education at Oxford. In 1571 he entered Jesus College, which had been newly created, and having completed his studies, he took holy orders, and had his degree of Master of Arts conferred on him in 1576. He was preferred to the livings of Rhwabon and Llanyfilin, and in 1584 became chaplain to Sir Henry Sidney, Lord President of the Marches of Wales, who had in his possession the unfinished Translation of Caradoc's History of Wales, by Humphrey Llwyd, the eminent Antiquary. At his Lordship's solicitation, Dr. Powell completed the translation and enriched the work with many valuable additions, it was in the same year published in quarto; and was followed by other fruits of Dr. Powell's literary labours.—viz: "Ponticir Viruol Historia Britannica," and "De Britannica Historia recte intelligenda Epistola ad Gul. Fleewood C^o. Lond. Recordatum." Besides which, he rendered essential assistance to Dr. Morgan, in the translation of the Holy Scriptures into Welsh, which was completed and published in 1588. He was engaged in compiling a Welsh Dictionary, when his labours were terminated by death in 1598 or 1599.

³ The descendant was Robert Bromfield. In the Cae Ceyriog MS. is the following remark on this pedigree, "N. B. This pedigree was subscribed in Lewys Dwan's Book January 16th 1595, by Edward Bromfield."

⁴ Morris ap John Lloid was Lord of Pale, in Edeyrnion. He died in 1614.

⁶ Evan ap Llewelyn Ddu, third Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion, married Maredd, "Lady of Crogen and Branas," in Merionethshire, under age, 44 Edward III., daughter and heiress of Iwan ap Llewelyn, Baron of Crogen and Branas, derived from Gruffudd, Lord of half Edeyrnion, second son of Owain Brogeintyn, Lord of Edeyrnion, Dinmole, and Abernant.

⁷ Llewelyn Ddu was second Baron of Kymmer yn Edeyrnion. See page 250. He and his brother Owen were summoned, in the 44th year of Edward III., to do homage as held at Conwy before the Justiciary of North Wales, to answer by what warrant they claimed to exercise Baronial rights "opud Thlangar (Llangar) in terris suis in Edeyrnion." (Record of Carnarvon, page 183,) when they pleaded their rights by virtue of a grant of Edward I., dated 22d of July, 1284, to Griffith ap Iorwerth, and David ap Llewelyn, "nepos suus," whereby Edward "concessit quod hinc et inde sint omnes terras suas per Edeyrnion sicut antecessores sui cras teneant." See Rot. Wall, 12 Edward I., MS. in Turri Lond.

⁸ Besides these three daughters, Evan Lloid had two sons born after Lewis Duan made his Will: the eldest son, Jeffrey, died without issue, and the estate of Pale fell to the younger son, Morris, who was born in 1618, and was grandfather of Maurice Lloid, whose son and heir, John Lloid of Pale, was born in 1700, and married Margaret, daughter of W. Vaughan, Esq., of Corsgoddal, and had, besides other issue, Maurice Lloid, Esq., father of the present representative of the family, David Morris Lloid, Esq., of Pale, Merionethshire.
